INDENBURG DARES DRASTIC ECONOMIC PLAN

Dictatorship Put In Bruening's Fists.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—To save Germany from Fascism and communism Paul von Hindenburg today announced that he is ready to call a supreme economic council which will assume the economic dictatorship of the nation, at least during an emergency.

The highest economic council, proposed by the new government of Chancellor Bruening, was seemingly created at its birth by the failure of the industrialists to accept responsibility in it. Under the chairmanship of President von Hindenburg, by decree, it is realized, will have the authority to carry out its plan.

It is expected in political circles that the new economic council will become the real executive head of Germany by working in close collaboration with the cabinet, which will, when necessary, embody its recommendations in emergency decrees.

Radio Stations Flash News.

Support of von Hindenburg's appeal for this organization and his desire to assume the nominal presidency were conveyed in an open letter to Chancellor Bruening tonight. The text was immediately flashed over the land by radio, stations interrupting their programs to broadcast the announcement.

The council, as conceived by Von Hindenburg, will be composed of representatives of workers, industrialists and bankers and will thus have the whole industrial and commercial framework of the nation under its control.

President von Hindenburg's offer has changed the whole political situation and looks up a powerful speech made by Chancellor Bruening in introducing his new government to the reichstag this afternoon. There the man, whom the would-be Mussolinis and Lenins of the country call the "Kerensky," proved himself a true chancellor in calling upon the people to stand up and take their destiny to the last bitter drop.

Economy, Discipline, and Sacrifices.

Laying down an ironclad program of economies, discipline and sacrifices, having staked his political future on the fate of the German republic on a 100 per cent acceptance of his policy by declaring, in effect, that he would abandon the ship of state to the obstructionists, who were trying to sink it, before tolerating any compromise wavering.

In the world and Germany's foreign situations particularly the chancellor promised to restore Germany's will and make every sacrifice to lift it out of the morass into which years of governmental and private high living had plunged it. Specifically, he stated there would be no inflation of currency.

He further assured the creditors that there would be no internal moratorium and that the amortization of the short term credits would proceed at the greatest possible speed. At the same time the chancellor announced that if the reichstag gave him its confidence he would use all the dictatorial powers at his command to foil attempts of extremists against public order.

Outlines New Program.

The points of the government's economic program were outlined by Bruening:

1. Reduction of production costs and rigid economies in state services.

2. Reduction of high interest rates now paralyzing production.

3. Limitation of expenses for social welfare to economic necessities.

4. Greater elasticity in wages and tariffs.

5. Settlement of common problems between workers and employers with as little outside interference as possible.

6. Restriction of superfluous imports.

7. Promotion of rural settlements, especially for the jobless.

While declaring that if Germany trusted him in carrying out this program the nation would be able to pull itself together, Bruening warned the world that something more was needed. The Hoover moratorium on war debts and reparations, he said, furnished only temporary relief and "political payments without economic requirements" still paralyzed industry. He stated that only the calling of an international conference to revise reparations payments and lower tariff barriers would end the crisis.

DRAMA IN COURT AS U. S. CLOSES CASE ON CAPONE

Defense Loses Plea for 2 Day Delay.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Al Capone's income tax evasion trial moved swiftly and dramatically toward its conclusion yesterday.

After five government witnesses had been heard before the jury in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's courtroom the prosecution suddenly closed the presentation of its evidence at 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon.

The defense, caught by surprise and unprepared to put on a case, pleaded for delay, which was granted until 10 o'clock this morning. A motion for a directed verdict for the defendant was promptly overruled by the court and was considered so hopeless by the Capone attorneys that they did not even argue it.

Defense May Call Gamblers.

Whether or not witnesses will be presented today in Capone's behalf was uncertain last night. In his plea for several days' delay to permit the defense to get witnesses from Washington, New York and elsewhere, Attorney Albert Fink said that if this was denied there might be no evidence offered in the case.

The long delay was denied, but Attorney Michael Ahern, associate defense counsel, said last night that several gambler witnesses from Chicago probably would be put on the stand.

The only indication of the nature of the defense was given in the disclosure by Capone's attorneys that the witnesses in mind were gamblers.

The Defense Contention.

It has been their contention throughout the trial that, while Capone was a gambler, it has not been shown that he was in the gambling business, in the sense that he owned an institution which made profits upon which the government had a right to share in the way of income taxes.

Capone, they may try to prove, gambled constantly and sustained great losses and never had a taxable income.

Long arguments are in store for the jury. Mr. Fink said that it was such an important case in his estimation that he wanted to talk ten hours about it. Mr. Ahern also intends to talk. And there are four government attorneys ready to talk. The prospect is that the time will be limited to about four hours on each side, thus ending the case some time tomorrow.

Torrio Kept Off the Stand.

The government closed its case without putting Johnny Torrio or any other notorious gangsters on the stand. The prosecutor fixed this policy at a noonday conference, and it was United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson in person who announced the decision of the prosecution in the first words that he has spoken in court since the trial began.

There was a surprised huddle of attorneys in front of the judge's bench, and Capone leaned forward, drinking in every word, while the jury was sent from the room.

Mr. Fink complained that he had never had a proper time to prepare a defense, as the government had never given him a bill of particulars or disclosed the nature of the evidence against the defendant until the trial had developed it. He wanted a "few days" to prepare.

Judge Fixes Time Over Protest

"We have a jury confined here," the court reminded him. "I think the limit of the continuance will be until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

Mr. Fink still pleaded and the court asked him what he wanted to show. The lawyer said that he did not feel inclined to disclose his case to the government.

"Give us a couple of days," he asked. "The government has been preparing this case since Oct. 17, 1928. I put it to your sense of fairness."

The judge again said that until 10 a. m. today would be all he could grant. Mr. Ahern declared that there had been no proof of income shown by the government.

"Of course, if you feel that way, there is very little to the case against the defendant," said the court smilingly.

May Seek to Prove Losses.

Mr. Ahern then said that the defense might want to put in proof on losses.

Mr. Fink said he had an important witness in New York, "on the question of losses sustained by the defendant in the operation of the only business which has been claimed in this case." Another witness was in Philadelphia, another in Washington, maybe.

"But," said Mr. Fink in some heat,

AMLIE, WET FOE OF HOOVER, WINS CONGRESS RACE

Racine, Wis., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A former Nonpartisan league organizer, Thomas R. Amlie, Progressive Republican, today was elected to congress from the First Wisconsin district to fill the unexpired term of the late Representative Henry Allen Cooper.

Amlie, 34 year old Elkhorn attorney, in his campaign repeatedly attacked the national administration's handling of the unemployment and tariff questions and admittedly sought to make his election a referendum upon the Hoover administration. He is an avowed wet.

Amlie's election unofficially gives the Republicans 215 members in the house of representatives, the Democrats 214, and the Farmer-Labor party one. There are five vacancies to be filled at other special elections.

Amlie was opposed by A. J. Bourna, Socialist, and George Herzog, Democrat.

Louisiana Has 2 Governors and Dilemma

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 13.—[Special.] — Something like a Central American revolution occurred in Louisiana today, and tonight two rival governors struggled for supremacy against opera bouffe background of armed troops and fiery manifestoes.

The rivals are Huey P. Long, the incumbent governor and United States senator elect, and Dr. Paul Cyr, elected as lieutenant governor on the ticket with Long, but who broke with the governor two years ago.

Dr. Cyr opened today's chain of strange events with an attempted coup d'état. He went before a deputy court clerk at Shreveport and took the oath of office as governor, on the contention that when Gov. Long was elected to the senate last November he automatically ceased to be governor of Louisiana, the office reverting to the lieutenant governor.

Long Mobilizes Troops.

Immediately he learned of Dr. Cyr's move, Gov. Long, at New Orleans, ordered out the Baton Rouge unit of the National Guard and a force of highway police, with instructions to guard the executive mansion, the state capitol building, and the executive offices to "prevent Cyr from seizing them."

Then the go-getting governor leaped into a state automobile and made a wild dash to this city to take personal command of his armed forces.

Meanwhile Dr. Cyr, informed of the troop mobilization, telegraphed from Shreveport to Adjt. Gen. Ray Fleming, in New Orleans, ordering him to disband the troops and let the courts decide the controversy. Dr. Cyr signed his order as governor and commander-in-chief of the Louisiana National Guard.

Troops Finally Sent Home.

Capt. W. J. B. Hawthorne, commanding the troops in Baton Rouge, declared tonight that he had received no orders to disband from the adjutant general and that he would be guided solely by his superior officer.

Late tonight Gov. Long decided that his rival would not immediately storm the capital, and allowed his armed forces to depart until tomorrow.

Gov. Long this afternoon carried the war into the enemy's camp with a statement "firing" Dr. Cyr as lieutenant governor.

In the opinion of Gov. Long, Senator A. O. King of Lake Charles, president pro tempore of the senate, automatically became lieutenant governor when Mr. Cyr took the oath as governor.

Dr. Cyr, in a short message to the New Orleans States before leaving Shreveport for his home in Jeanerette, said:

"I want Huey Long to get out of office as soon as possible so I can go in and straighten up this state and put an end to this debauchery."

Before leaving Shreveport Dr. Cyr sent a letter to Long formally demanding his surrender of the governor's chair under threat of ouster proceedings.

Dr. Cyr stated some time ago that he would take the oath as governor under the theory that Long, having been elected United States senator and certified to Washington, is no longer governor. Senator Edwin S. Broussard supports this view.

But Huey Says No.

Gov. Long holds that he is not the senator until he stands at the bar of the United States senate and takes the oath of office, and until such time he is still the governor of Louisiana. He has not taken the oath and he has refused to draw any of the salary as senator.

The political feud between Dr. Cyr and Gov. Long started when Cyr aligned himself against the governor in the attempt to impeach the governor in 1929.

Gov. Long since has refused to leave the state, saying he "would not allow Cyr to serve as governor for a minute."

THREE INDIANAPOLIS SCHOOL BOYS COME TO CLASSES DRUNK

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Three high school boys, 14, 15, and 16 years old, who reported for classes this morning under the influence of liquor, identified two men who, they said, sold them drinks.

Wayne Scott and Clarence Reese were placed in the county jail on charges of operating a blind tiger. Scott, police said, was identified by the boys as the man who sold them liquor yesterday and today, and Reese as the vender of drinks they purchased last week.

BEGS POLICE FOR A DIME; HELD AS MURDER SUSPECT

A suspect in the killing of two men in Boscobel, Wis., was arrested last night by Sergts. A. A. Webber and George Maitrick. He is Lee Riley, 35 years old, 2340 West Monroe street, a casual, who approached the policemen near the Palmer House and asked them for a dime to "get a cup of coffee." The policemen searched him and found more than $7 in nickels and dimes in his pockets.

He was taken to the detective bureau, where he was questioned by Sergt. Ernest Sloey and found to have a criminal record. It was learned that his picture had been partly identified by witnesses as that of the slayer of two men named Corrigan and Gorman, in a robbery in the Wisconsin town, on Nov. 11 of last year. District Attorney James Cullen of Prairie du Chien county was notified and said he would come to Chicago for the prisoner this morning.

Terrorists Flee in Auto; Police Shoot

BULLETIN.

Four hours after the bombing of the Easterly theater, Sergt. Patrick Touhy and his squad from the Austin station arrested two suspects riding in a red automobile, the color of the car from which the bomb was tossed. The prisoners are Rocco Belcastro, 24 years old, 2511 Chicago avenue, said by the police to be a brother of James Belcastro, reputed bombing chief, and Carmen Klauss, 27 years old, 523 North Western avenue. They were captured at Lawndale avenue and Augusta street after a chase of several blocks during which the police fired several shots at them. The prisoners denied any connection with the theater bombing, but will be view by the two policemen who saw the bomb thrown.

A heavy dynamite bomb tossed at the Easterly theater, 2770 Lincoln avenue, severely damaged the front of the theater and broke windows in buildings for half a block early this morning. The bomb throwers, riding in a red automobile, were fired on by two policemen as they drove away.

This bomb was the thirteenth that has been exploded during the troubles between the union of motion picture operators headed by Thomas E. Maloy and the Allied Independent Theater Owners' association.

Policemen George Olson and Edward Tierney of the Sheffield avenue station, assigned to guard the Easterly theater, had just made a circuit of the building and had returned to the front when the bombing car was driven by. As the bomb was tossed out both policemen drew their pistols and started firing.

Kicks Bomb Into the Street.

The explosive failed to go off at once and Policeman Olson kicked it from the sidewalk into the street. A second or two later the blast occurred. Both policemen were knocked down. Windows of the Naegele grocery and the Ace hardware store across the street, and the Warthmore tailor shop and Fink florist shop on the same side of Lincoln avenue as the theater were blown out.

Earlier in the evening Policeman Harold Brown, guarding the Hollywood theater at Fullerton and Greenview avenues, was warned by a man, apparently intoxicated, that a bomb was to be tossed at him a little later. Brown arrested the informant, who said he was Ray Hill of Rileyville, Va., and that he only wanted to be helpful. He was held.

Shoot at Four Operators.

Early yesterday terrorism directed at the imported operators who have been working in the places of those locked out by the owners took another form. Four of these nonunion operators, sitting in the Harrison hotel coffee shop at Wabash avenue and Harrison street, were fired on from the outside.

One of the four, Morris Gillfillian of New York, was slightly injured by flying glass. He is employed at the Monroe theater, 59 West Monroe street, which was bombed on Monday. Gillfillian was holding a glass of water when a bullet shattered the tumbler.

The police investigation of the shooting at Operator Gillfillian seemed to indicate that he had been fired on from a window opposite the restaurant. In spite of the attempt on their lives, all four operators were at work again last night.

Peace Parley Broken Up.

During the day representatives of the union operators and the theater owners held a conference in Corporation Counsel Sexton's office, but it broke up in a disagreement at 5:30 p. m.

Representatives of the theater owners, including Aaron Saperstein, president of the association, and Attorneys Theodore Levin and Howard Ellis, counsel for the owners, were the first to leave.

Mr. Sexton detained the union representatives, Maloy, their business agent; Ralph O'Hara, steward, and Emmett Quinn, steward, for fifteen minutes afterwards, presumably to reiterate Mayor Cermak's pronouncement made earlier in the day that drastic police powers would be invoked unless violence ceased.

Board Would Aid Prosecution.

Mark Levy, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, which occupies quarters in the Monroe theater building, issued a statement declaring the lives of the association's employés had been endangered by the blast and pledging coöperation in the prosecution of the bombers if and when they are arrested.

"The officers of this organization are concerned vitally with the result of this lawless act," said Mr. Levy. "The explosion over the roof of the theater while all our staff was at work threw the lives of these men and women into positive peril. It is our hope that the guilty persons will be apprehended and it is our intention to seek active participation in their prosecution."

KEEP HANDS OFF! JAPAN'S ANSWER TO THE LEAGUE

Peacemakers Fail to Curb War Peril.

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, Oct. 14 (Wednesday.) —(AP)— Preliminary conversations designed to open the way for direct negotiations between Japan and China for settlement of their controversy over Manchuria resulted in failure today. For the time being, at least, there will be no further private conversations between Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, and Chiang Tso-Pin, Chinese minister to Japan. The Nanking government was represented as having taken the view that any further such talks might be misconstrued as indicating China's willingness to enter into direct negotiations with Japan.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(Wednesday.)—(AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Express this morning from Mukden, Manchuria, said that Japanese troops marched out of the city yesterday afternoon, planning to encircle the entire Chinchow area and to advance eastward along the Peiping-Mukden railway in what they said was a drive against bandits.

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Oct. 14.—(Wednesday.)—A dispatch from Mukden today said three Japanese planes were fired on with machine guns by a large group of demobilized Chinese troops near Tafushan at 9 o'clock this morning while reconnoitering. About 10,000 shots were fired. The planes were pierced but the occupants were uninjured. The Japanese dropped four bombs, all of which missed their marks.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Oct. 13. — Dramatic touches marked the resumption today of the league of nations council's hearing of the Chinese-Japanese dispute in Manchuria.

Today's session, which was called urgently following the bombing by Japanese airplanes of the city of Chinchow last Thursday, was a stormy one. Charges and counter charges, denials and counter denials were hurled back and forth between Dr. Alfred Sze, China's representative, and Kenkichi Yoshizawa, the Japanese delegate. The council, however, took no action and the meeting was adjourned to permit the delegates to hold private negotiations tomorrow. Dr. Sze spoke first, outlining China's complaints and asking the league to intervene at this morning's session. Yoshizawa replied this afternoon.

All Peaceful, Japan Says.

Yoshizawa had just finished his long pronouncement of Japan's attitude, pointing out the impossibility of withdrawing her troops from the seized area to inside the Japanese owned South Manchuria railway zone and insisting that everything was quiet and that no warlike acts were going on, when Dr. Sze signaled the chairman that he would like to speak. He said:

"Gentlemen, I have just received urgent cables from Nanking stating that this morning, while we were actually in session, a Japanese army airplane bombed Tahushan, ninety miles west of Mukden, and at 4 o'clock this afternoon three Japanese planes bombed Kowpangtze, 110 miles west of Mudken. Both these towns are situated along the Peiping-Mukden railway. The explosives caused numerous casualties, including women and children."

Japan "Explains" Bombings.

The sphinx-like Yoshizawa dismissed the bombings with the bland explanation that when Japanese army planes made reconnoitering flights to ascertain if the Chinese army was massing to attack them, they were fired upon, and naturally they dropped bombs as reprisals.

"But China possesses no anti-aircraft guns anywhere in the entire region, and why does Japan send bombing planes for scouting purposes, and why reconnoiter hundreds of miles from the Japanese railway zone?" persisted Dr. Sze.

Yoshizawa merely replied that that was a difference of opinion and let it go at that.

The Tokio representative reiterated Japan's former ultimatum to the league to keep its hands off and not interfere. He said the dispute could be settled only through direct negotiations between China and Japan.

Dr Sze clinched the deadlock by replying:

"China will never agree to such a course so long as Japanese troops invade her soil and until Japan makes just reparations for the loss of Chinese lives and property."

Yoshizawa in his exposé sought to completely dissipate any idea of a Japanese coup in Manchuria engineered by the military hierarchy against the cabinet's wishes.

Justifies Military Operations.

His statement completely justified the military commander's action in occupying a huge slice of additional territory as necessary for the safety of the Japanese garrison and to protect the lives and property of Japanese subjects.

Dr. Sze challenged Yoshizawa to cite a case of any Japanese killed or wounded since the original incident on Sept. 18. The Japanese delegate could only reply with a list of 148 Japanese homes and shops being pillaged since March, 1929, and 96 cases of Japanese school boys being chased or stoned in Shanghai during the last two and one-half years.

Warns Council Against Failure.

Dr. Sze made no threats to quit the league or seek soviet Russia as an ally if China does not obtain relief, but he warned the council that the people of China and of the entire world were waiting for the council to administer justice.

He declared that a miscarriage of justice would jeopardize the faith of the world in Geneva and doom the international disarmament conference next February to failure.

Yoshizawa complained bitterly of the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods, while the delegates of the other powers thoughtfully ruminated over whose products China is now buying.

Sze Hurls Stinging Remark.

Dr. Sze hurled a stinging remark about snooping airplanes when he reminded Yoshizawa that Japan recently had imprisoned two unarmed American flyers, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, for flying over her territory without permission. Yoshizawa winced.

But, after four hours of this cross fire between Dr. Sze and Yoshizawa, the council behaved like a gentleman. The only move made by any of the statesmen during the meeting was made by Lord Reading. He merely interjected a request that Yoshizawa confirm the bombings Dr. Sze had cited.

Aristide Briand, chairman of the council, summed up the meeting by the traditional speech asking the world to be calm and have confidence and patience. He declared that he was convinced the league would find a solution.

Tomorrow the "big four," the delegates of Great Britain, France, Germany, and Italy, will begin secret conferences in an effort to arrive at a solution.

Stimson in Touch with League.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—State department officials kept in close touch today with the progress of the emergency meeting of the league of nations council on the Manchurian crisis. Following a cabinet meeting at which peace steps in Manchuria was a topic of discussion, Secretary of State Stimson communicated by long distance telephone with Prentiss Gilbert, American consul at Geneva, who is acting as unofficial observer at the league meeting.

No comment was forthcoming at the state department regarding the status of the efforts to avert war between Japan and China. Some administration officials appeared more hopeful that war would be averted, but none offered any basis for this optimism.

Report World Action Near.

It was reported that through diplomatic conversations in all the world capitals and scores of telegraphic exchanges with all interested countries a substantial agreement had been reached to notify China and Japan through diplomatic representations that if measures toward an amicable ajustment of the controversy were rejected, the peace of the world would be imperilled.

The state department tonight issued a denial of a New York newspaper report that the movement of American war vessels in far eastern waters was of significance in connection with the current Manchurian crisis. The following statement was issued:

"The state department upon hearing of a sensational report in a New York newspaper covering a routine movement of American naval vessels from Tsing-tao to Chefoo for shore leave, as has been customary for 20 years, immediately made inquiries of the navy department. In order that there can be no possible misunderstanding of the routine nature of their visit to Chefoo, the navy department tonight ordered the vessels to Shanghai for shore leave. The movements of ships in far eastern waters are ordered by the commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet. The movement from Tsing-tao to Chefoo was not ordered by the navy department, but as a matter of routine by the commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet."

U. S. OFFICIALS PUSH INQUIRY OF JAPANESE ACTS

Investigate Bombing of City of Chinchow.

BULLETIN.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 14 (Wednesday). — (Special.) — The American commission investigating the Manchurian crisis today was denied permission to proceed to Chinchow because of heavy Japanese troop movements. The soldiers were believed ordered to Chinchow. A regular passenger train was canceled.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 13.—The American commission investigating the Sino-Japanese crisis in Manchuria arrived here today after completing an inquiry in the towns of Changchun, Kirin, Tunghua and Taonan. The members of the commission were scheduled to leave Mukden tomorrow morning for Chinchow to investigate the recent bombing of that city by Japanese planes. They will also investigate the status of the Chinese provisional government established in that city by Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord.

The commission consists of Laurence E. Salisbury of Chicago, second secretary of the American legation at Tokio; George S. Hanson of Hartford, Conn., consul general at Harbin, and Vice Consul T. Leonard Lillie-strom of the Harbin consulate. Two other American officials will join the commission here. They are Lieut. C. C. Brown of Mount Vernon, Ill., assistant United States naval attaché at Peiping, and John Vincent of Macon, Ga., American consul at Mukden.

Will Send Report to Stimson.

After inspecting Chinchow, the party will proceed to the town of Kowpangtze, which was bombed by Japanese planes this morning. It then will go to the Chinese port of Yingkow, which is also occupied by Japanese troops. The party will then return to Mukden to write its report, which will be sent to Secretary of State Stimson.

The commission began its investigation on Oct. 5 at Changchun.

A Japanese official report this afternoon said a Japanese lieutenant was shot and wounded last night in the town of Huangkutun.

It was officially reported today that the number of Japanese and Corean civilians who have been massacred since the beginning of the Manchurian trouble totals 389.

U. S. Envoy Takes a Hand.

NANKING, China, Oct. 14 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Nelson T. Johnson, the American minister, arrived here today from Peiping for a series of conferences with heads of the Chinese government.

Mr. Johnson said he came to Nanking under instructions from Washington, owing to the critical Sino-Japanese situation. He said his stay here will be for an indefinite period, depending upon Manchurian developmets. The American minister was accompanied by his bride.

The British minister, Sir Miles Wedderburn Lampson, was also expected here today for the conferences.

Japan Lays Down Terms.

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The interest of the United States government in the Manchurian situation was acknowledged by the presentation today to the American chargé d'affaires, Edwin L. Neville, of a set of principles agreed upon by Japanese civil and military officials as a basis for discussion with China of a settlement. Briefly, the principles fell under two divisions:

First—The anti-Japanese agitation in China, which, Japan says, is endangering Japanese lives and property, must be put down at the earliest possible moment.

Second—The treaty rights and privileges of Japanese nationals in Manchuria must be acknowledged and protection provided for Japan's vast interests in that country.

CHINA IN DESPAIR

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13.—The outlook here tonight is that Manchuria is definitely lost to China. The government at Nanking has been plunged into deep gloom over the apparent failure of the league of nations to take effective action to halt the Japanese invasion of Chinese soil.

This feeling was heightened by the declaration in Tokio yesterday of Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, that Japan is prepared to decline any intervention offer. Baron Shidehara heretofore had been an advocate of following a peace policy and settling the dispute by negotiations. He had opposed the movement of troops in Manchuria. Yesterday he declared that it is necessary to increase the defense in Manchuria and at Yangtze river cities.

Nanking Scorns Negotiations.

A spokesman for the foreign office at Nanking today issued the following statement:

"Japan's policy has been disclosed publicly at last. She is not complying with the injunction of the league council to withdraw from Manchuria on the ground that this would endanger the safety of the army of occupation.

"The league has been told to stop its proceedings, and the Japanese armies remain in full occupation of the invaded localities. No Chinese government ever will be formed which will accept or even consider a settlement until the status quo of Sept. 17 is restored in Manchuria."

The Nanking government demands not only the return of the status quo, but also the return of Manchuria to the control of Chang Hsueh-liang.

Urge Relations with Russia.

A telegram was received today by the Nationalist government from civic organizations in Manchuria appealing for an early resumption of relations with soviet Russia. The telegram said that friendship with China's northern neighbor is urgent at a time when Japan is threatening to annex Manchuria. The telegram was signed by the associated chambers of commerce, the associated labor unions and three other associations, including the Fengtien agriculturists and the Fengtien Press association.

Japanese marines were reported today to be intrenching on the beach at Chinwangtao, where the Peiping-Mukden railway passes the great wall at the sea, to prevent the passing of Chinese reinforcements to Manchuria.

TYPHOON STRIKES JAPAN; HUNDREDS FEARED KILLED

TOKIO, Oct. 14 (Wednesday).—(AP)—Thirty were known to be dead and hundreds more believed killed or drowned in the huge typhoon, accompanied by a torrential rain, that struck western and central Japan last night.

The toll taken by the typhoon was undetermined today, due to disrupted communications. Osaka reports said thirty bodies were recovered in the Oga district of Miye, prefecture and that many persons were missing.

Dispatches indicated the worst damage was done along the Choshi river in Miye prefecture.

BANKS TO GIVE DECISION ON TAX WRITS TUESDAY

After a conference yesterday with the representatives of three banks City Controller Szymczak announced that the city would be informed next Tuesday as to whether the banks would buy 1930 city tax anticipation warrants now held in the city's special funds. The purchase would release money to pay salaries for the remainder of the year. Unless the banks buy the warrants, according to the controller, the city cannot pay salaries falling due during the next two weeks.

The bank representatives were given figures showing that the city had $42,000,000 in cash on hand in special funds, but were told that only a small amount of that, if any, could be used by the city in the purchase of its own warrants without halting some necessary work.

Besides the controller, those in the conference were Victor S. Petterson, deputy controller; F. M. Gordon, representing the First National bank; Donald C. Miller of the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and John W. Denison of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company.

BUSINESS MEN URGED TO CREATE TEACHERS' FUNDS

An appeal to Chicago business men to create cash pools from which needy teachers may borrow is contained in a resolution adopted yesterday by the executive committee of the Federation of Women High School Teachers. Committees of teachers are to visit business and professional men in all of the high school districts in an effort to win support for the plan.

"Hope of relief from legislative action is so remote," said Miss Dorothy Weil, president of the federation, "that if the schools are to function at all the teachers must have immediate loans of cash for car fare and lunches and credit for necessary clothing and shoes."

"The morale of the teaching force," said Miss Mary Herrick, vice president, "is being shattered by prospects of winter and doctor bills without any cash."

SPAIN BANISHES CATHOLICISM AS STATE RELIGION

Anti-Church Riots Flare in Madrid.

BULLETIN.

MADRID, Oct. 14 [Wednesday.]—(AP)—The national assembly early today, after a stormy 15 hour session, adopted by a vote of 250 to 178 a compromise amendment to article 24 of the new constitution, providing for the dissolution of church orders recognizing a higher authority than the state and those considered dangerous to the state. It also stipulates that their property may be nationalized where it is deemed beneficial. Article 24, providing for immediate dissolution of all church orders and nationalization of their property, was previously rejected by a vote of 164 to 39.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Oct. 13.—By a vote of 287 to 41, the Republican Cortes tonight voted the separation of church and state by approving article 3 of the proposed constitution which reads: "No official state religion exists." Thus, the Spanish republic banished the Catholic religion as the religion of the state and closed a "centuries' long chapter in Spanish history.

Though the separation was voted quietly, the struggle over the future rôle of the Catholic church is on in fierce earnestness. After a day of bitter debate, the deputies reached a compromise not on the future status of the church itself as yet, but on religious orders.

Will Expel Jesuits.

The Jesuits, who are the only orders taking a vow to the holy see, are to be expelled. The monks and nuns, who now educate close to half of the children of Spain, will be forced to give up their schools. Religious orders, which are reputed to hold one-third of the wealth of Spain, will be forbidden to own more than is required for their personal needs and for engaging in industry and commerce.

But, except for the Jesuits, they will not be deported nor their goods confiscated as the original constitutional project prescribed. Only the Socialist radicals still demand the wholesale expulsion of monks and nuns.

Minister of War Azana, making at the same time a bid for the premiership, charted the middle course in an impressive speech. The man who crushed that other ally of the monarchy—the army—said:

"The number of Catholics in Spain is no proof of the country's religiosity. Only a political revolution has been accomplished. The rest is to come. But there is a point where surgery becomes too dangerous. We must think of the defense of the republic and we cannot waste our forces fighting nuns and creating martyrs."

Predicts New Concordat.

The Jesuits had to go, he said, and education could not remain divided between state and church. He likewise predicted a new concordat with the Vatican and a special legal status by which the republic can keep tab on the church.

The expulsions of the Jesuits are technically illegal until the constitution has been approved in its entirety, but it is reported on good authority that the police have orders to immediately begin the tactful deportation of 1,400 Jesuit fathers.

By today's action, the church loses not only its strategic position with also the financial support it has had from the state since 1851 when Queen Isabella II., grandmother of former King Alfonso XIII, signed a concordat with the Vatican pledging that the nation would make up for the confiscation of the church's property earlier in the century by meeting all the church's expenses.

Police Fight Rioters.

The country is keyed up to a tremendous pitch. In Madrid's Puerta del Sol, thousands of collarless youths surged about tonight crying "To death with the clergy!" Iron shutters on shop fronts rattled down as the police charged the mob with naked swords, wounding many. According to reports, the torch was applied to a Carmelite convent at Santander late tonight.

Spain's 75,000 monks and nuns are sleeping behind locked gates of monasteries and convents. They fear the mobs.

Action Disappoints Vatican.

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Vatican officials tonight expressed disappointment but no alarm at the action of the Spanish assembly in rejecting Catholicism as the state religion.

None of the church leaders would be quoted, but the general trend of their comment was that the action could have been expected under present conditions in Spain.

They voiced confidence that when the situation in Spain has been clarified it will be found that the church's position has not been seriously damaged.

17 Year Old Prisoner Slain by Guard Trying to Flee

Bessemer, Ala., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Chester Lee Bowdry, 17 year old federal prisoner, of Houston, Tex., died today from a bullet wound inflicted by a guard when he jumped from a train in an attempt to escape while being transferred from Shreveport, La., to the reformatory at Chillicothe, O.

Police Extinguish Bomb Fuse at Evanston Shop

A bomb containing ten sticks of dynamite, placed in the doorway of the Sterling cleaning establishment at 1715 Sherman avenue, Evanston, was found by the police last night and its fuse extinguished before the flame reached the explosive. The cleaning company has been operating on a cut price basis, it was said.

HUNGRY—AND ONLY FIVE PENNIES TO SPEND FOR LUNCH

Two of the three T——— youngsters, brother and sister, who had their first noon lunch in a long time at the Schiller school yesterday when a kindly teacher dug into her own pocketbook and gave them 5 cents. The lunch consisted of bowls of soup and a few crackers apiece. It is cases such as this that The Tribune is caring for in its campaign to raise money for the hungry school children of Chicago.

5 MAGIC PENNIES BRING 'FEAST' TO 3 HUNGRY PUPILS

Just Another Argument for Children's Fund.

Such contributions to the Hungry School Children's Fund will be received at the following Tribune offices: 1 South Dearborn street, 1101 East 63d street, and 4120 West Madison street.

Five pennies fed three children yesterday at the Schiller school, 700 Vedder street. Five pennies brought to Mary, Mafalda, and Joseph the hope that perhaps they wouldn't starve after all. The world looks brighter since one has eaten.

The children were pretty close to starvation when they woke yesterday morning. At breakfast they had shared the last of a loaf of bread which had been their only food for two days and had been warmed by a cup of black coffee each.

Then, before starting to school they had seen the ambulance come and take their mother away to the county hospital for an operation. For lunch they expected nothing.

Their Pantry Bare.

Their father, a bricklayer, unemployed for more than a year, had told them not to come home at noon, as there was nothing in the pantry, he would try once more, he said, to get something for their evening meal.

To the prospects for the day looked none too bright for Mary, Mafalda, and Joseph as they started to school. But things of the family's distress had gone before them. One of Joseph's schoolmates had told the teacher.

All morning the teacher watched Joseph at his desk, hugging his empty stomach and watching the blackboard with listless eyes. By noontime she had made her resolve. Unpaid herself for many months, she took the pennies from her purse and gave them to Joseph.

The little chap's eyes were glistening as he waited in the corridor for his sisters, Mary and Mafalda. Their eyes glistened, too, as they went to the basement to join the other pupils in a bowl of soup and crackers, their hot meal in the lunchroom since school began this year.

Miss Alexandrina Moll, supervisor of teachers in the public schools, happened to be visiting at Schiller. That is how the story of the five penny feast came to light.

Split Three Ways.

"Each of you had 5 cents?" queried the supervisor.

"Oh, no. Joseph's teacher gave him 5 pennies and we bought the soup," they explained. Mafalda, older by two or three years, soberly but capably explained that usually they didn't eat anything at noon. She was matter of fact about it. For breakfast, she told the questioners, they had had coffee and bread. Miss Moll shook her head.

"And such coffee," she commented. "Nearly all of the children tell the same story. We know about the coffee-boiled and reboiled, black and bitter and gritty, and hard bread. Not only for breakfast, but for lunch, if they have any, and again in the evening."

I. L. Roberts, principal of the Schiller school, had plenty to add to the candid revelations of the T——— children. Forced by circumstances into welfare work among the families of the district equal to that handled by an entire district office of the established charities, he has gone about it in the most efficient manner. He not only gets meals and clothing and a few odd jobs for these hard pressed people, but spends hours and valiant efforts to try and alleviate the situation.

Tells of Real Hunger.

The reporter and Miss Moll encountered him in the hallway outside the lunch room. He was panting a little from a two mile hike, having hurried to get back to discuss the matter with them.

"If you want to see real want," he informed THE TRIBUNE representative, "all you have to do is get a look at the fifty children I've just taken down to a settlement a mile away, where they get a warm lunch. I went down myself and made the agreement for them. They are all pasty faced, yellow eyed youngsters whose faces at first glance spell 'anemia.' You could pick 'em out in any room. We can't handle them here for free lunch, so each noon they walk over to North avenue, then back again.

"It's a pretty poor plan, for we could do the thing so much better if we had money to feed them here, but we haven't. The best we can manage is to provide sandwiches and milk during the morning recess for sixty children who never even get breakfast in their own homes. Lunch is beyond our means. But until they are fed, these children won't—can't—learn. So we've simply got to do whatever we can to make them comfortable, even to walking them a mile each way, when some of their toes are out of their shoes, for a warm meal."

These are the cases for whom THE TRIBUNE has opened its Hungry School Children's fund, taking over the service operated last year by the teachers, who then had their monthly pay checks to fall back on for their own support.

EINSTEIN URGES "HAPPINESS" AS POLITICAL CREED

VIENNA, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein doesn't care what political creed the world adopts; if it brings happiness to the human race he's for it.

In an interview published tonight by the Allgemeine Zeitung, the German scientist suggests that, individualism and capitalism having failed, collectivism might be given its chance.

"It's happiness we're after," he said, "and when the day comes which brings man redemption from his sufferings I won't trouble about the name of the political doctrine. If it be communism which brings mankind salvation, you'll find me an enthusiastic communist."

HURT IN ELEVATOR FALL.

GOVERNOR TURNS DOWN TEACHERS' PLEA FOR FUNDS

His Stand Is Setback for Massmeeting.

Gov. Louis L. Emmerson's letter of regrets that he would be unable to attend had the effect yesterday of leaving plans for the massmeeting of the unpaid school teachers at the Hyde Park High school this afternoon somewhat up in the air.

The governor had been asked to speak to the representatives of 153 schools on the possibility of obtaining an advance distribution of the state school fund by means of tax anticipation warrants. But his letter declining the invitation inclosed a legal opinion holding this procedure legally impossible.

The governor addressed Robert P. Russell of the Ogleaby school, secretary of the committee on arrangements for the massmeeting, and, following receipt of the letter, Russell indicated that, its chief purpose eliminated, the plans for the meeting were vague. He said he believed something of importance could be expected from a speech by Homer Davis, principal of the Ellis school.

The Governor's Letter.

Gov. Emmerson's letter covered all the points raised by the teachers in their communication. He went into enue commission delving into the financial problems of all the local governments, including the school board, and said he was informed that the body is now completing its report.

"It is my intention," he wrote, "to call a special session of the legislature immediately after I have received this report. Manifestly it would be folly to convene the legislature until some definite program is worked out.

"As a matter of course, the committee has made a thorough study of the plight of the Chicago school teachers."

Explains Legal Obstacle.

The governor's statement of the legal barrier to an advance distribution to Cook county of its share of the state school fund was this:

"The difficulty arises because the new tax note law contains no provision for disbursing proceeds of tax anticipation notes. The statutes for the distribution of the school fund were not amended to correlate and take advantage of the tax anticipation note law."

URGE DIVISION OF PUBLIC WORK TO INCREASE JOBS

Manufacturers Send Plea to Hoover, Governor.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

President Hoover and Gov. Emmerson were urged to exert their influence to divide the work on all public improvements among as many workers as possible in messages sent yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The action followed a luncheon discussion at the Sherman hotel on "Stabilization of Employment."

G. B. MEYERCORD.

Some of the experts estimated that an additional million and a half workers might be cared for with part time employment if national and state governments adopted a shift system of rotating labor in the construction of public works this winter.

Suggests System of Work.

George R. Meyercord, former president of the association, said:

"A requirement should be made that on all public works not yet let that all contractors be required to give their labor three days', instead of six days', work a week. The assumption is that you can take out of the unemployed class and give building trade workers three days' work each for double the number of men. In other words, employ twice as many men on the job as in normal times, thus making public appropriations doubly effective in reducing total unemployment.

"This plan, of course, would not reduce the daily rate of wage, and it would employ double the number of men at least to the point where they could live, though not in their usual comfort. If put into force by the federal government and the states, it would take a million and a half out of the unemployed class. It may be that action by congress is not necessary, but if it is, congress should act in December.

"For example, on the new postoffice, say 6,000 to 10,000 will be employed on a full time basis. By using rotating shifts on a three day a week basis, it would give part time employment to 20,000 instead of 10,000.

Urges Emergency Wage Rate.

"Besides this step, which is common sense, public works at this period being a means of combating unemployment, I maintain the unions might create employment for many if for twelve months they would establish an emergency differential of one-half wage rates on repair work. If a temporary scale of 75 cents were adopted during the depression, it would give some employment to 30,000 workers in Chicago. It would start a great movement in repairing and remodeling that would do much, and being an emergency step it would not affect the normal wage scales when business gets going again."

The recommendations that the employment on public works be spread to give jobs to as many workers as possible also were sent to Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, appointed by President Hoover, and to industrial organizations in other cities asking their cooperation.

Mr. Meyercord outlined at the luncheon the plan he has followed at his plant for keeping his working force intact, by dividing the available work. This plan staggers the work according to the amount of business in sight, and while wage rates remain the same, the earnings of the works depend upon the amount of work and pay roll money available for distribution.

DIVORCES ACTOR

ELEANOR HUNT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 12.—[Special.]—Eleanor Hunt, 21 year old Broadway and Hollywood actress, won a divorce decree today on the strength of her testimony that she and Rex Lease, cowboy screen actor, were friends, but that his jealous disposition made it impossible to remain as his wife. They were married six months ago in an elopement.

WILL RECALLS MURDER TRIAL OF DORA M'DONALD

Acquitted in Killing of Artist in 1907.

The final page in the history of Dora McDonald Newcomb, principal in a sensational murder case in the first decade of the century, was written here yesterday. Her will, disposing of her $87,000 estate, was admitted to probate.

At the time of her death last July 1, in Los Angeles, Mrs. Newcomb was 64 years old. She had passed from obscurity into national notoriety when as the wife of Michael C. McDonald, gambler and political leader of Cook caunty, she shot and killed Webster S. Guerin, a young crayon artist, in February, 1907.

In the subsequent trial she was acquitted. For half a score of years afterward her name made news. Then she went west and sank into obscurity again. She later remarried.

Becomes Gambler's Wife.

The daughter of undistinguished parents, blond, buxom, Dora became the wife of a professional baseball player, entered the night life of the city and there met "Mike" McDonald, the owner of "The Store," a gambling house at Clark and Monroe streets. After divorcing her first husband, Dora became the third wife of McDonald and the mistress of a mansion at 4501 Drexel boulevard.

As McDonald's wife, Dora became the queen of her set. She had met Webster Guerin when he was 15 years old and she was 30.

Story of the Shooting.

On the morning he was shot Guerin ordered the servants from his rooms when Mrs. McDonald arrived. Witnesses later testified that they heard the sound of voices raised in anger, then a shot. A moment later Mrs. McDonald, hysterical, pushed through a glass door of the studio. She became ill and the illness lasted for nearly a year preceding the trial.

It was during this time that McDonald died, supposedly of a broken heart. He had remained loyal to his wife, however, and willed almost $1,000,000 to her and her son.

James Hamilton Lewis, now United States senator, and the late P. H. O'Donnell, a leading criminal attorney of his day, were retained as counsel for Mrs. McDonald. The trial began in January, 1908.

Guerin, it appeared, had been about to marry another woman. His relatives asserted that it was Mrs. McDonald's jealousy which had caused her to kill him. She denied this and vowed that she had gone to his studio to demand that he cease blackmailing her. When he refused, she said, she shot him. She was acquitted.

In her will Mrs. Newcomb made bequests of $12,500 to Jewish charities, including $2,500 for the Home for the Aged in Jerusalem, and $500 to the Jewish Charities of Chicago. The residuary estate was divided between her two brothers, David Feldman, 4630 Beacon street, and Emil Feldman, 1406 Thorndale avenue.

RAISE $1,161,103 FOR RELIEF FUND IN FIRST 10 DAYS

Committees Receive Gifts from Wealthy.

In less than 10 days of canvassing the joint emergency relief fund to aid the unemployed in Cook county during the coming winter reached $1,161,103.77 last night.

A large part of this amount consists of special gifts from wealthy residents of Chicago. The remainder came from charity benefits.

The Arlington Park Jockey club sent a check yesterday for $25,000 to Samuel Insull Jr. Lincoln Fields is reported to have promised to make a substantial donation to the Will county relief fund. This track is just beyond the southern limits of Cook county, although a very large part of its patronage is obtained from Chicago.

Another Track Donation Expected.

The management of Lincoln Fields is also largely interested in Washington park, which is located east of Homewood in Cook county. It is expected that that race track will announce a substantial gift within a few days.

Another contribution yesterday was from a jubilee concert by colored people at Soldiers' field. A check for $1,287.27, representing the proceeds, was handed to J. Russell Forgan, chairman of the benefits division, by Congressman Oscar De Priest.

The Chicago American handed in another check for $236.50 as the proceeds of a soft ball tournament.

Special Gifts Swell Fund.

The solicitation of special gifts from the wealthy, which is being carried on under the direction of Robert M. Hutchins, brought in $41,325 yesterday. The section headed by George Scott reported contributions from team captains as follows:

Team captain—	Amount pledged.
George A. Ranney	$12,500
Robert E. Wood	12,175
David F. Bremner	8,800
Howard W. Fenton	7,400
James R. Leavell	450
Total	$41,325

The general campaign to obtain the $3,800,000 for relief in the county will start soon.

Plan Church Relief Centers.

Plans were formulated yesterday at a meeting of 200 ministers of all denominations at the Hotel Sherman to establish relief centers in churches throughout the city where free bread may be given to deserving families the coming winter. The meeting was sponsored by the Bakers' Club of Chicago and representatives of wholesale and retail bakers.

Last year more than a million loaves of bread were distributed, according to E. A. Wilsher, president of the Bakers' club. He said that there would be no need for deserving families to be without bread this winter, as the entire baking industry was ready to supply bread to churches organized properly for distribution of bread.

Committee Is Named.

A committee to represent the churches was formed of the following ministers: Johnston Myers, Immanuel Baptist church; J. Evans, Bethlehem Congregational church; John F. Plummer, superintendent of missions, Protestant Episcopal church; David A. Davy, Inner Mission Society of the United Lutheran Church; Norman Barr, Olivet institute; George T. McCarthy, St. Margaret Mary church; Harold M. Kingsley, Good Shepherd congregation; Z. Belanger, Society of Jesuits.

The plan was indorsed by Mayor Cermak through his representative, Fred W. Zei, who offered the cooperation of the city.

MOTHER OF 13 DIES AS AUTO UPSETS.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. William Daily, 47, mother of 13, plunged to her death with a two year old baby in her arms which was unhurt when an auto in which she was riding overturned into a ditch after a tire had blown out near Tamms, south of here, last night. Three of her other children escaped injury.

PROGRAM IN MEDINAH TEMPLE TOMORROW TO AID RELIEF FUND

The third of a series of benefit entertainments being given at Medinah Temple, Ohio street and Wabash avenue, will take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The seventy piece Medinah Oriental band will play, a number of musical acts will be presented, and the new Medinah Philharmonic orchestra will perform in public for the first time.

Several thousand dollars were taken in at the first two entertainments, and Ralph H. Wheeler, potentate, believes a much larger sum will be collected at the nine additional affairs. Every cent of the receipts will be given to the joint emergency relief committee, Mr. Wheeler said. All expenses are being paid by the Medinah association.

Immediately following the concert tomorrow night there will be dancing until midnight in the banquet hall at no additional charge. John Woollett is directing the Oriental band and Earl C. Maxham is conducting the Philharmonic orchestra.

Dates for the eight remaining entertainments have been set. A ceremonial will be held on Oct. 30 for nobles only. A bridge party, with vaudeville in addition, will be held on Nov. 7, to which the public is invited. An athletic stag for men, open to the public, will be held on Nov. 19. Another ceremonial will be held on Nov. 27, and a bridge party on Dec. 5. A number of well known soloists and the Medinah chanters will be heard in a concert on Dec. 12, to which the public is invited. Another bridge party will be held on Jan. 9, and an athletic stag on Jan. 21.

DETECTIVE CHIEF CHOOSES HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker last night announced his first appointments in a reorganization of the detective bureau.

Lieut. Frank Johnson was made head of the bureau bomb squad and was given the present epidemic of theater bombings as his first mystery to solve.

"I believe that these outrages are being committed by a small group of youths who are hired for small payments to toss bombs," said Chief Schoemaker. "Lieut. Johnson can have all the men he wants and will go after these criminals."

Lieut. Edward Kelly was named to head the detail working against pickpockets and shoplifters. He went on this job yesterday and made ten arrests. Other lieutenants given special assignments were John McGinnis, to operate against confidence men and other swindlers; Joseph Ronan, to investigate safe blowings and burglaries, and Edward Birmingham, to head the "Scotland Yard" organization.

"The bureau will be so arranged that when a case comes up there will be no hesitancy about who it belongs to," Chief Schoemaker added. "These men will be personally responsible for their departments. I think that is a better way than to have all the detail work pile up on the chief of detectives."

NATION ALL SET FOR UPTURN BUT FOR CONFIDENCE

Treasury Official Says Time Is Ripe.

Incorporated

Dover, Del., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Incorporation papers for the National Credit corporation, formed to bolster the banking structure, were filed today with the secretary of state. This legally brings into existence the corporation suggested by President Hoover last week in his plan for restoration of public confidence.

While the corporation is authorized to raise up to a billion dollars, its stock capitalization is merely nominal. The incorporation calls for 12 shares of stock of $100 par value. One share will be held in each of the 12 federal reserve districts.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—[Special.]—A return of better business conditions in this country only awaits a return of public confidence in the soundness of all sections of the nation's banking and industrial structure, a high treasury official said today in discussing the prospects for an early business recovery. While making no predictions as to when at least normal business conditions would return, this official said with the exception of confidence most of the factors making for good times are now present.

Officials did not comment today on the effect on business of the announcement of the Hoover relief program, which included the formation of a billion dollar bankers' credit corporation. Confidence was expressed, however, that all the funds needed for this project would be forthcoming and that the pool would be operating within another week.

Gets Official Approval.

The indorsement of the office of the controller of the currency was placed today on national bank participation in the bankers' pool. In a statement issued from his office, J. W. Pole, controller of the currency, characterized the plan as meritorious and asserted all national banks should support it.

Harry J. Haas of Philadelphia, president of the American Bankers' association, conferred with President Hoover following today's cabinet meeting at which plans for outflanking the business depression were discussed. Later the White House refused to comment. Mr. Haas ventured the prediction that the bankers will raise all the funds needed to operate the credit corporation.

Asked regarding the value of the bankers' pool, Mr. Haas said in his opinion it will relieve the stressed credit conditions which have been embarrassing many banks. He predicted fewer bank failures in the immediate future, adding that "the business people of the country are actively working to bring about better conditions."

"Banks with liquid assets do not fail," Mr. Haas said. "Only those with frozen resources are forced to close in times such as these. Therefore, a plan which will make bank assets at once more liquid is bound to relieve the stress. This proposal of President Hoover will certainly do that and there is no doubt that it will work."

Increase Fund if Needed.

Asked if the bankers would raise more than the 500 million dollars set as the original goal, if necessary, Mr. Haas answered, "undoubtedly."

"The business people of this country are aroused," he said. "They are becoming awakened to the situation and they mean to meet it."

Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] today added his voice to the demand of several members of congress for a special session in order to carry out the legislative proposals contained in the President's plan. Senator Copeland approved of the bankers' credit pool, hoped that some means would be found to assist the railroads and said that he favored making sound real estate paper eligible for rediscount by the Federal Reserve banks.

TWO KILLED AT CROSSING.

Greenville, Ill., Oct. 12.—(AP)—William C. Bechtel of St. Louis and his sister, Mrs. R. L. Hines of Philadelphia, were killed today when their automobile was struck by a Burlington train east of here.

KEEP WAGES UP ON U. S. PROJECTS, LABOR FEDERATION DEMANDS

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Organized labor's endorsement of huge government construction projects hereafter will be dependent on guarantees that union standards will be maintained, the American Federation of Labor decided, in effect, here today.

Relief of unemployment is one of the principal problems being discussed at the labor organization's 51st annual convention, but the federation does not wish to issue blanket endorsement of projects on which labor may be employed at wages below union standards.

A resolution asking congress to begin construction of the Columbia basin reclamation project involving 1,500,000 acres of arid but rich soil in central Washington was referred to the executive council with power to endorse the project if assurances are given that wages and working conditions will be satisfactory.

Widespread charges of low wages and bad working conditions at Hoover dam on the Colorado river have "soured" the federation on endorsement of projects just to create work, I. M. Ornburn, chairman of the legislation committee, intimated.

Resolutions opposing finger printing of government employés and reaffirming the federation's stand on higher employment standards in government service were adopted without discussion.

LARGE CHICAGO BANKS O. K. 500 MILLION POOL

Name Illinois Board to Pass on Loans.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The large Chicago banks that are members of the Chicago Clearing House association yesterday approved in principle the plan of President Hoover for a $500,000,000 banking pool to "unfreeze" banking credit throughout the country.

Representatives of these banks held a meeting in the association's headquarters in the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank building and appointed a committee to act for the Illinois banks in taking subscriptions to the pool, whose corporate name is the National Credit corporation, and in passing on loans sought for Illinois.

The meeting also was attended by bankers representing the principal cities in Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, which also are in the Chicago federal reserve district. These bankers also approved the plan in principle and agreed to recommend it to the banks in their states.

Traylor Named Chairman.

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank and its affiliated institution, the First Union Trust and Savings bank, was named chairman of the Illinois group, which also will include James R. Leavell, president of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company; Joseph E. Otis, chairman of the Central Republic Bank and Trust company; Solomon A. Smith, president of the Northern Trust company, and Howard W. Fenton, president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank.

The Chicago-Illinois committee was appointed by George M. Reynolds, chairman of the executive committee of the Continental-Illinois bank, who on Monday was named a director of the Chicago federal reserve district on the National Credit corporation. The corporation will have one director from each of the twelve reserve districts. Mr. Reynolds also will be a member of the Illinois committee. He will attend the organization meeting of the National Credit corporation in New York next Saturday.

What Basis for Subscriptions?

While the outcome of yesterday's meeting assures that banks in the Chicago reserve district will go along with President Hoover's plan, just what amount they will subscribe to the national pool remained in doubt last night. The bankers raised a point which apparently had not been considered when the New York banks last week announced their basis for subscription at 2 per cent of deposits. This point was that subscriptions to the pool might be classed as loans to the National Credit corporation. The national banking act provides that national banks cannot lend more than 10 per cent of their combined capital and surplus to a single borrower. However, the state banks are governed by laws limiting similar loans to various percentages.

Inequalities Are Revealed.

The inequalities of a subscription based on deposits is evidenced by the position of Chicago banks. The First National group, with deposits of $728,000,000, would pledge about $14,500,000 under a 2 per cent subscription but could only furnish $7,625,000 under legal restrictions, as it comprises both a national and a state bank.

The Continental-Illinois, with $827,000,000 of deposits, would pledge about $16,500,000 on a 2 per cent basis, although it could lend $21,000,000 legally, being an Illinois state institution.

The Central Republic bank, with $310,270,000 of deposits, would pledge $6,205,000 on the 2 per cent basis but could lend only $3,600,000 according to law.

Until some general and equitable basis for subscriptions to the pool is worked out, Chicago bankers said it would be futile to estimate what the banks of Chicago and this federal reserve district, or what the banks of any district, will subscribe. It was roughly estimated that the Chicago district should pledge about 10 per cent of the national fund, or a total of $50,000,000.

Another point to be decided is whether the Chicago-Illinois committee shall act for the banks of the whole reserve district or whether there shall be state committees. This point will have to be decided by bankers in the other states.

"The bankers from outside Chicago came to the meeting without clear knowledge of the general plan," Mr. Reynolds explained. "But we all discussed the problem and the meeting expressed itself in favor of going along. Bankers from elsewhere now will go home and hold discussions. I'm inclined to believe the consensus will be to decide on one group for each state rather than a central group in Chicago. They would name their own officers, receive applications for loans from their local banks and recommend them directly to the national organization in New York."

Bankers in Attendance.

The Chicago bankers who attended yesterday's meeting, besides those named on the local committee, were Albert W. Harris, chairman Harris Trust and Savings bank, and Frank R. Elliott, vice president; Earle H. Reynolds, president Peoples Trust and Savings bank; William C. Cummings, president Drovers National bank, and George A. Malcolm, vice president; Harry I. Tiffany, and G. F. Emery, vice presidents Stock Yards National bank; H. C. Laycock, president Peoples National Bank and Trust company; William J. Rathje, president Mid-City Trust and Savings bank; F. O. Birney, president Reliance Bank and Trust company; H. N. Grut, president Mercantile Trust and Savings bank, and J. E. O'Shaughnessy; W. G. McLaury, president National Builders bank; C. C. Haffner Jr., vice president Central Bank and Trust company; W. S. Miller, vice president Northern Trust company; H. V. Ambery, counsel, First National bank; Gov. James B. McDougal and Chairman Eugene M. Stevens, Chicago federal reserve bank, and J. G. S. Orchard, representing the Bank of Montreal.

Eighteen bankers representing clearing house organizations in eight cities in the Chicago reserve district also attended the meeting.

WHO WILL DECIDE DEBTOR NATIONS' CAPACITY TO PAY?

Congress Likely to Pass on Reductions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—With the possibility of war debts revision one of the livest current topics in Washington, officials have turned to speculation as to what machinery would have to be set up to carry out the scaling down process.

Since capacity to pay has been set forth as the basis of any debt reduction, one of the problems to be met is how that capacity of the debtor nations is to be determined.

Congress having ratified all the present debt agreements, it is conceded that congress also would have to ratify any amendments. It is considered probable that the machinery of revision and the methods would be established through appropriate legislation in congress, following a recommendation by the President.

Personnel of the Commission.

It has been suggested that a commission modeled after the world war debt funding commission, which negotiated the original settlements, might be set up. This commission was composed of the secretaries of state, treasury, and commerce, members of congress and a man from private life, who were appointed by the President subject to congressional confirmation. Once arrived at the agreements also were subject to congressional ratification.

Much consideration also is being given these days to the arguments that debtor nations might put forth in order to obtain a revision downward. In some quarters it is maintained that Great Britain could tell the most convincing story of a lessened ability. And in this connection it is being remembered that Great Britain settled up with less argument than any other of the principal debtors and settled on the stiffest terms.

Great Britain's debt prior to funding was $4,074,818,258. The present value on the basis of five per cent interest was given by the treasury as $3,296,948,000, or 69.9 per cent of the debt prior to funding, as compared with an average value of all war debts to the United States of 48.7 per cent.

How Debts Now Are Valued.

The debts of Estonia, Finland, Hungary, Latvia, and Poland are valued at 70 per cent of the debts before funding, but these are small as compared with the major debtors' obligations.

The French debt, which was $4,230,777,000 prior to funding, is now valued at $1,681,369,000, or 39.7 per cent. The Italian debt, which was $2,150,150,000 prior to funding, is now valued at $426,287,000, or 19.8 per cent. The Belgian debt, which was $483,426,000 prior to funding, is now valued at $191,766,000, or 39.7 per cent.

By some the French position is regarded as being the best of all the principal debtor nations, some commentators going so far as to say that France is in a stronger economic position now than when the settlement was made.

The total principal of the war debts which since have been funded was $2,850,149,802 and the amount prior to funding $12,090,867,878. The present value is given as $5,888,104,000, or 48.7 per cent of that prior to funding.

The average annual interest rates on the debt as funded is given as 2.135 per cent. Most of the original obligations bear interest of 5 per cent, although a few are at a six per cent rate.

Of the principal debtors Great Britain is paying an average interest rate of 3.306 per cent; France, 1.640 per cent; Italy, 0.405 per cent, and Belgium, 1.790 per cent.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF BANK ACQUITTED ON FRAUD CHARGE

Arvid Peterson, former president of the closed Old Colony State bank, was acquitted of a charge of embezzlement yesterday when Judge Philip Sullivan instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. Two other charges of embezzlement are pending against Peterson. These will be heard on Nov. 10.

After the state had finished its presentation of evidence through which it was attempted to show that Peterson had embezzled $47,000 Attorney Samuel Hoffman moved for a directed verdict. The state had failed to prove any criminal act, he said.

State Auditor Oscar Nelson yesterday made public a report on the condition of the closed Laramie State bank submited to him by F. H. Hayes, receiver of the bank. It showed the bank has $21,448 in cash on hand and that it owes depositors and creditors $366,677.

Its assets in addition to cash were listed as follows:

Stocks and bonds	$ 53,400
Loans and discounts	336,369
Real estate loans	111,900
Accounts receivable	1,924
Furniture and fixtures	14,275
Other assets	12,837

The receiver had incurred net expenses of $2,173. The loss on the conversion of assets into cash was set at $27,706.

The south parks board yesterday received a check for $350,000, it was announced by President Edward J. Kelly, covering a deposit in the Stony Island State Savings bank, one of the Bain banks which failed on June 9. The payment was made by the Maryland Casualty company.

BOY EMPEROR AWARDS PLAQUE TO MRS. HARRISON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, wife of Chicago's former mayor, has been awarded the golden plaque d'honneur by Bao-Dai, the 18 year old emperor of Cochin-China, for her stories on the Annamese. The plaque is one of the highest honors bestowed on a foreigner.

Mrs. Harrison was present four years ago at the coronation of the young ruler, who is now completing his education in Paris. She has been invited to visit his palace at Annam when he takes over the reins of government next year.

The plaque is a medallion with a fringe of colored pearls. It is suspended from a yellow cord.

FAKE PLUMBER ROBS RESIDENT OF LOOP HOTEL

E. A. Kesselle, 25 year old salesman, a permanent resident at the Hotel Sherman, was dressing for dinner in his room on the ninth floor at 7:30 o'clock last night when some one knocked at the door.

"I'm the plumber to fix the bathtub," said a shabbily dressed young man. "Where's the bathroom?"

Kesselle stepped back and was turning to point out the bathroom door when the stranger shoved a pistol to his ribs. Then he produced a cord, shoved Kisselle to the floor and bound him hand and foot.

The intruder pocketed his gun, stripped his victim of $73 cash, his watch, chain, and jewelry, valued at $1,200, and departed after gagging Kisselle with a soiled handkerchief. Half an hour later Kisselle wriggled out of his bonds and telephoned the management. The robbery was reported to Central police.

U. S. IN SURPRISE MOVE ENDS CASE AGAINST CAPONE

Judge Refuses Defense Plea for 2 Day Delay.

"If your honor thinks it fair to put this man to defense at 10 a. m. tomorrow, I'll be there and do the best I can."

Government counsel "saw no reason for delay," and the court finally said that no good reason had been shown to him why the case should not go on this morning.

"If we decide to rest in the morning, and offer no evidence, what time may we have for arguments?" asked Mr. Fink.

The court said, after much talk about this, that if the defense offered no evidence he would give them until 2 o'clock this afternoon to prepare arguments.

Ries Last Important Witness.

The final blast of evidence directed by the government against Capone came from Fred Ries, former cashier in the gambling syndicate houses in Cicero. It was Ries who testified against Jack Guzik, Capone's associate, who is under conviction for income tax evasion. The same checks used in the Guzik case, showing the profits of the syndicate during 1927 and part of 1928, were introduced against Capone. The defense brought this out in cross-examination.

The profits, according to Ries' testimony, and the canceled checks, were $177,500 for 1927 and $24,800 for a part of 1928.

On one of these checks the name of Capone was written in endorsement, and the notation, "Laramie Kennel club." Herbert J. Walter, a handwriting expert, testified that this handwriting was the same as that of the signature on Capone's application for a safe deposit box in the Pinkert State bank.

A detailed account of the day's happenings at the trial is given below.

THE MORNING SESSION

Attorney Joseph R. Roach appeared for Philip D'Andrea, Capone's gunman bodyguard, when the contempt case against D'Andrea was called at the opening of the court in the morning. D'Andrea had been arrested with a revolver in his belt as he left Judge Wilkerson's courtroom at the close of Saturday's session of the Capone trial. Attorney Salvatore Vella, an uncle of the defendant, and Attorneys Fink and Ahern of the Capone defense also stepped up to the bench with D'Andrea. Assistant United States Attorney Dwight H. Green also was present. Mr. Roach did the talking at first.

MR. ROACH—I have had no opportunity to examine the record in view of the fact that there has been no formal citation and the case is not the usual settled matter.

THE COURT—I assume that when you say settled you know what settled is.

MR. ROACH—Has there been a formal citation?

Judge Rebukes Attorney.

THE COURT—The court is not under cross-examination. The record is here.

MR. ROACH—I understand the court depends upon other sources for its information concerning the facts in the case.

THE COURT [Judge Wilkerson now spoke with feeling and in a tone that did not welcome this sort of pleading]—There has been an order on this respondent to show cause [why he should not be cited for contempt]. He was seized Saturday after he had sat here in this courtroom armed.

PROSECUTOR GREEN—The government has filed an information for contempt.

MR. ROACH—Will your honor entertain a motion for bail at this time?

MR. GREEN—I suggest that the case be put over until Friday.

MR. AHERN—And in the meanwhile, your honor, the matter of bail——

Court Demands Appearance.

THE COURT—There have been a number of counsel here for this respondent. I won't hear you until you have filed an appearance.

MR. AHERN—I shall be glad to file an appearance if you will put the matter over until the conclusion of this trial.

THE COURT—The rule to show cause shall be returnable at 10 a. m. Friday.

MR. ROACH—And may the respondent be admitted to bail now?

THE COURT—The court will insist upon an immediate hearing of this case. Meanwhile the respondent will remain in the custody of the marshal.

Thereupon D'Andrea was taken back to the county jail, where he has been since Saturday, and the Capone jury was called in.

CAPONE TRIAL RESUMED

Edward P. Waters, a former internal revenue agent, was called to the stand by Assistant United States Attorney Samuel G. Clawson. The purpose in calling this witness was to show intent upon the part of Capone to violate the income tax laws, the gang chief having been warned by the agent.

Q.—Did you have a conversation with the defendant, Alphonse Capone, in 1922? A.—Yes. It was in a Cicero smoke shop on West 22d street.

Q.—State the circumstances of that conversation. A.—I asked for Mr. Al Brown and was told by the man behind the bar that he wasn't there. While I waited he came in the back door. He introduced himself as Al Capone and I stepped up to the bar with him and drank some beer.

Q.—[By Mr. Fink]—Drank some what? A.—Beer—good beer, too.

Q.—[By Mr. Clawson]—What did you talk about? A.—We talked about taxes, but I can't remember what was said.

Tells of Second Conversation.

Q.—Did you have another conversation with him? A.—Yes, in September, 1926. I questioned him about a newspaper article saying he had won a million dollars at the race track and owned a string of horses. As to the million, he said it was baloney; as to the horses, he said his brother Ralph owned them. (Waters became garrulous and smiled as his attention bobbed from Capone to the court to the jury.)

Q.—[By Mr. Fink]—Do you recall that Capone told you he had been advised that no taxes were due on income from illegal occupations? A.—I can't answer that. (Later the witness stated that he had told Capone taxes must be paid on income from illicit sources and that losses in illicit enterprises could not be deducted. Johnny Torrio had said Capone lost $50,000 on the horses and Capone was told this was not deductible, Waters said.)

Capone thumbed his lawers' brief case and appeared little concerned over the testimony of Waters.

FRED RIES ON STAND

Then there was a stir in the courtroom, for a tall thin man, bald and with stony, expressionless eyes behind shell rimmed glasses, marched to the witness stand. He was recognised as Fred Ries, long sought by the Capone gang for his blasting testimony in the income tax trial of Jack Guzik. Capone sat erect and became intent with interest. Ries was examined by Assistant United States Attorney Jacob I. Grossman.

Q.—Were you cashier of the Subway, a gambling house at 4732 West 22d street, Cicero, in 1927? A.—Yes.

Q.—Who managed it? A.—Pete Penovich.

Q.—I show you a cashier's check purchased from the Pinkert State bank, Cicero. Tell us about that check? A.—I bought it with cash representing profits from the house and turned it over to Bobby Barton. [Barton is Jack Guzik's chauffeur. Mr. Grossman read to the jurors that the check was made payable to J. C. Dunbar, an alias of Ries.]

Never Saw Capone in Subway.

Q.—Did you ever see the defendant Alphonse Capone there? A.—No.

Q.—Did you operate anywhere else during that year? A.—Yes, we operated the Ship, early in the year and again in September.

Q.—Did you see the defendant there? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What was he doing? A.—He was in the telegraph operator's office talking to Jack Guzik.

Q.—Did you see him in the place you operated known as the Radio? A.—Yes. I was taking bets at the counter. He came by and said, "Hello, Ries." I said "Hello, Al."

Q.—What did you do with the profits of the places you operated? A.—I purchased cashier's checks with them and turned them over to Bobby Barton. He took them to Jack Guzik.

Q.—What were the total profits during 1927? A.—I don't remember exactly—around $150,000. [Ries did not appear afraid of Capone. He neither stared at the defendant nor avoided his eyes, but watched the prosecutor, answering each question firmly.]

Q.—Who was manager of the house? A.—Jimmy Mondi until we moved into the Subway. Then Ralph Brown—Ralph Capone—came in and introduced Pete Penovich. "He's taking charge," said Ralph.

Q.—Any change in personnel then? A.—Pete told four men they were through.

Q.—When with reference to those changes did you see the defendant, Alphonse Capone, talking to Jack Guzik? A.—About two days before the changes.

Ries Identifies 43 Checks.

Q.—I show you here 43 cashier's checks. Tell us about them. A.—They represented profits above the bank roll of $10,000 we always kept and above all expenses which I paid out. I bought the checks and gave them to Bobby Barton.

Q.—Did Guzik say anything to you about turning them over? (Mr. Fink objected and the court remarked: "There is evidence tending to show that this man—Guzik—was characterized by the defendant as his financial secretary. The witness may answer.)

A.—Guzik said not to give any money to anybody besides himself and the man he would send for it, not even to Al or to Pete Penovich.

Mr. Grossman offered the checks in evidence and Mr. Fink objected.

"They relate to enterprises with which the defendant must have had some connection," said the court. "His name appears on one of the checks." (This was the first disclosure that Capone had indorsed one of the checks, and the defendant, who has boasted of never signing a check, looked up sharply.)

Lawyers Get Into Argument.

MR. AHERN — What does that prove?

MR. GROSSMAN—There is testimony here that the defendant said he was a gambler.

MR. AHERN—What of it? We'll prove it.

MR. GROSSMAN—There is testimony that he said he was in the gambling business in Cicero, that he got money from his Cicero gambling business and that he said Guzik was a business associate of his. Other witnesses testified that Capone made purchases with Guzik checks, and there is testimony that he called Guzik his financial secretary.

MR. AHERN—Checks are a medium of exchange.

THE COURT—This evidence is not conclusive, but it is a circumstance.

Capone Linked to Guzik.

MR. GROSSMAN—We have had Guzik and Capone togther in the telegraph room, in the Metropole hotel and in the Lexington. The testimony has shown that he admitted getting money from Guzik, his associate in the gambling business.

MR. AHERN—It proves nothing. It is mere conjecture and speculation. We won't dispute that the defendant made lots of bets out there. He was betting on the horses every day.

THE COURT—One witness said the defendant stated he was in the race book business. The United States offers this as one of the important circumstances on which it relies to show that the defendant had a large income. There has been evidence tending to show that the defendant purposely maintained no bank account and kept no records of his transactions, so that no information might leak out concerning his income. The defendant has built a stone wall around himself, and the government must rely on a chain of circumstances.

MR. AHERN—It is at most a presumption and a very weak one. This "Hello, Al; Hello, Ries," stuff. Why, all these newspaper boys call me Mike, yet I doubt if I could call a single one of them by his name. And this saying that Guzik was his financial secretary. That was just another way for the defendant to tell them it was none of their business. He might as well have said social secretary.

Defense Objection Overruled.

THE COURT [sternly to Mr. Ahern]—The testimony is that he said financial secretary. Your objection is overruled.

Mr. Grossman and the defense counsel then engaged in a dispute over a line of examination to be taken up with the witness, Ries, and it was suggested that it should be heard first by the court in the absence of the jury.

THE COURT—The jury may retire.

Mr. Grossman began questioning Ries after the jurors had filed out.

Q.—Did you have a conversation with Jimmy Mondi along about the time of the change in the gambling house personnel? A.—Jimmy came in and said, "Al and his bunch have declared themselves in." [Defense counsel objected to this conversation, assigning, among other reasons, the fact that Capone had not been present.]

THE COURT—It is too near the line. The jury cannot hear it.

The jurors were brought back into court and Mr. Grossman read the cashier's checks into evidence, giving their totals as $177,500 for 1927 and $24,800 for 1928.

Mr. Fink examined the check that Capone had signed and stated for the purpose of the record:

"The check is indorsed by J. C. Dunbar and underneath is the signature, 'Al Capone.' It was deposited to the credit of the Laramie Kennel club in the First National bank of Cicero."

Q. [by Mr. Grossman]—I ask you if the man who is now about to rise in the courtroom is the man you turned the checks over to. [Barton stood up, a little man with black hair and swarthy complexion.] The jurors and spectators all turned their eyes upon him as he stood at the gate back of the enclosure.] A.—Yes, sir, that's Bobby Barton.

RIES CROSS-EXAMINED

Both Mr. Fink and Mr. Ahern worked on Ries when it came their turn for cross-examination, but they were unable to force him into a trap. Ries sat staring blankly at the lawyers and answering them in a monotonous, machinelike voice, which suggested the croupier's "Seven pays the line."

Q.—[By Mr. Ahern]—When a man bets $5,000 or $10,000 it is customary to go back into the office, so that the others will not hear him and play his tip, which would cut down the odds, isn't it? [This was an apparent attempt to create the impression that Capone was merely in the gambling house to place a bet.] A.—Naturally so, but all our bets were taken over the counter. We took none of them in the office.

Q.—How do you know you gave this check [the one signed by Capone] to Barton and not to Guzik? A.—Because Guzik wasn't coming down at that time.

Q.—What time? A.—In June, 1927.

Asked About the Checks.

Q.—You have identified all those checks before as representing what you assumed was the income of Jack Guzik, haven't you? A.—I don't know whether I identified all of them or not.

Q.—That was in the case of the United States against Jack Guzik?

Mr. Grossman objected to this question on the ground that it would create confusion and recommended that counsel be admonished to stop that line of cross-examination. "Objection sustained," said the court. Soon afterward Ries was excused from the stand.

Alice O'Neill, statement clerk at the Equitable Trust company, testified that the signature of Jack Guzik on his card at the bank was the same as that on the Western Union money transfers purchased by him for Capone in Florida. Herbert J. Walter, a handwriting expert, testified that Capone's safety deposit box signature was the same as the Al Capone signature on the check. Then the noon recess was taken with Walter still on the stand.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

Bobby Barton made another "identification" trip into the courtroom as the afternoon session began, appearing at the end of the jury box so that the witness, Walter, could view him. Walter said that Barton's signature, written in his presence, was the same as one which appeared on an application for a money transfer which was sent to Capone. Charles Fishetti's name had also been written by Barton, Walter said.

The moment the witness left the stand District Attorney Johnson rose and said: "Your honor, at this time the government rests its case."

About half the reporters working in the courtroom jumped up and dashed to telephones. Capone and his lawyers ducked their heads in conference and the tableful of revenue agents, who have handled the witnesses and carried the sheafs of evidence, folded their papers, and joined the prosecutors in an attitude of ease.

Judge Wilkerson looked at Mr. Fink and asked, "Are you ready to proceed?"

Mr. Fink and all the other lawyers rose and gathered in their familiar huddle before the bench.

MR. FINK—Well, if your honor please, this is a kind of a surprise. We would like a little time to get ready for our defense. Your honor said, I think, that if during the course of the trial it developed that we were not prepared to meet what the government offered, you would be a little indulgent with us for a while.

Judge Wilkerson directed the jury to retire to its room at this point.

MR. FINK—By this indictment we were told absolutely nothing as to the circumstances of the offense. We were told merely in the generic language of the statute that the defendant on the 15th of March each year evaded or attempted to evade the payment of the tax, in that he concealed his income. No detail is given as to how he concealed his income. In another count we are told he attempted to evade the payment of the tax, in that he concealed his income and in that he dissipated his assets, etc.

Bill of Particulars Sought.

"We made a motion for a bill of particulars," Mr. Fink went on, "asking your honor to compel the government to give us certain information, particularly the information with reference to this Mattingly business."

(The government evidence has shown that Attorney Lawrence P. Mattingly of Washington, representing Capone in an effort to compromise his income tax liability, had stated in a letter to the government that the gangster had an income totaling $266,000 over six years.)

"The government would not give it (a bill of particulars) to us," Mr. Fink continued, "and your honor would not compel them to give it to us.

"We also asked your honor to compel the government to give us some idea as to where the income came from. Your honor thought it was improper that you should direct the government to do that.

"Now, we had to start into the trial of the case without any information whatsoever as to the cause and nature of the accusations against us. We don't want a great deal of time, but there are some matters that we do wish to consider.

"Among others, we wish to get, perhaps from New York and other places, some witnesses before we start in our defense and talk to them about some of the matters that have been offered in evidence by the government, or as to matters which we may think necessary or proper or expedient to put in our defense."

Court Asks for a Motion.

THE COURT—Well, have you a motion to make at the close of the government's case?

MR. FINK—Well, certainly, we are going to make a motion to direct the verdict (as not guilty). I don't suppose your honor wants any argument on that at all.

THE COURT—I will hear what you have to say about it, but I presumed that questions that would arise on the motion to take the case from the jury had been fully alluded to in the objections to the testimony and the reasons in support thereof had been stated by the court. If you have anything by way of additional citation of authorities or additional arguments along that line I will hear you.

MR. FINK—No citation of authority. I think your honor takes the view that these circumstances which have been proven are sufficient to put the case to the jury. If your honor takes that view, I don't think anything I can say is going to change that view, and I think it is just kind of wasting time to argue that to your honor. Your honor has had, more experience in these matters than I have, and you look at it from a judicial standpoint. I look at it from the standpoint of an advocate, and naturally I think there is not a scintilla of evidence here to sustain it. But we would like a few days to prepare our case.

"The Bill Not Controverted."

It was at this point that Judge Wilkerson reminded the defense lawyers that the jury was locked up and not allowed to go home, and, despite the further protests of Attorney Fink, indicated that he would not give the defense later than 10 o'clock this morning to prepare its evidence. The court then spoke at length on the fact that the bill of particulars "is not controverted here."

THE COURT—I say that it is not controverted, that the defendant kept no records, that he had no books, no memorandums; he had no bank accounts. If the government in the indictment charges him with the failure to return and pay his income tax, it is obviously apparent they have to resort to certain circumstances to prove those charges in this case.

"Evidence Not All Conclusive."

"The requirement," Judge Wilkerson went on, "that the government should furnish an itemized statement of its evidence is equivalent to the requirement of the government in the case to disclose every circumstance relied upon to show the alleged attempt to evade the tax.

"Now, the facts with reference to the defendant are peculiarly within his knowledge. It has been stated here, both in argument and it has been observed by the court, that many of the things that are here shown are not conclusive upon the defendant.

"They do not preclude him from showing here the real situation of the things complained of with reference to his income, and either he intends to make this showing or he does not."

As the judge concluded these remarks Attorneys Ahern and Fink renewed their plea for a delay, Mr. Fink mentioning the witnesses from eastern cities whom he said he wished to call. But the judge remained firm and directed that the trial proceed this morning.

Move for Directed Verdict.

MR. AHERN—We have a motion to direct a verdict. Can we get a ruling?

THE COURT—I can rule on that this afternoon, or if you prefer to argue that tomorrow morning I will hear you on that tomorrow morning. If you desire to make an additional argument for a directed verdict I will give you until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

MR. FINK—I will tell your honor right now that there will be no argument on it from me.

Mr. Ahern added that he would have no arguments either upon the point and the motion for a directed verdict was overruled.

MR. FINK—If by tomorrow morning we conclude that we have not had any opportunity to assemble our witnesses and thereupon rest, will we be put to the argument immediately tomorrow morning?

Judge Wilkerson then ruled that if no defense evidence was offered, arguments would begin at 2 p. m. today.

Adjournment was taken with the virtual understanding that four hours for argument would be allotted each side.

D'Andrea's Star Canceled Months Ago, Bailiff Asserts

Philip D'Andrea, arrested in the federal court of Judge Wilkerson and facing imprisonment for carrying a concealed weapon in contempt of the court, asserted that he had a right to carry the weapon by reason of being a bailiff of the Municipal court.

Investigation yesterday disclosed that D'Andrea, who served as a bodyguard for Al Capone during the gangster's trial before Judge Wilkerson, had been a deputy bailiff under the régime of former Chief Bailiff Bernard W. Snow. He served from July 10, 1930, until Feb. 28, 1931, when he was discharged by the new and present bailiff, Al Horan.

Mr. Horan said yesterday, and produced his records to bear him out, that D'Andrea had been taken off the pay roll, and that the bonding company had been notified on March 10, 1931, to cancel D'Andrea's bond.

Fails to Return Star.

Since that time, Mr. Horan said, he has made repeated efforts to secure the return of the star which had been issued to D'Andrea. The chief bailiff showed copies of letters he had sent to the Capone bodyguard, insisting upon the return of the star, and it is expected that these copies will be offered in evidence when D'Andrea's contempt case is called next Friday. The star was not returned.

"D'Andrea was not a bailiff of this court," Mr. Horan said, "and he had no right to carry a star, much less to claim the privilege of carrying a revolver by reason of the star."

Mr. Horan said the records disclosed that D'Andrea had been assigned, while a bailiff, to the various courts in the police building at State and 11th streets.

Sponsored by Serritella.

Former Bailiff Snow, when asked to relate the circumstances of D'Andrea's appointment, said the Capone bodyguard had been sponsored for the post by Dan Serritella, who was city sealer under the previous city administration, Republican committeeman for the 1st ward, and a lieutenant of Al Capone.

"D'Andrea was assigned as a regular court bailiff," said Mr. Snow. "I don't think I ever met him personally, but I may say this, that no complaint whatever was ever received against his work."

Asked whether D'Andrea had been issued a special or personal star of the sort given to political leaders and friends of the bailiff without their performing any formal duties, Mr. Snow said there were no such stars authorized by his office, and that certainly D'Andrea had been given none.

Sheriff William D. Meyering replied yesterday to published statements that 6,000 special stars had been given out by him and other law enforcing officials. He said he had given out only 200, most of them to state's attorney's police, railroad police, and others qualified to carry them.

JAIL WARDEN PLEADS TO SAVE THE LIFE OF CONDEMNED SLAYER

Warden David Moneypenny of the Cook county jail appeared yesterday before the state board of pardons and paroles at Springfield to ask clemency for Frank Bell, one of four murderers now under sentence to be electrocuted Friday at the jail.

DAVID MONEYPENNY.

Pleas were also made for Charles Rocco and John Popescu, sentenced to die for the murder of Courtney R. Merrill, South Chicago banker, whom they stabbed during an attempted holdup. Richard Sullivan, convicted with Bell for the murder of Christ Patras, a restaurant proprietor, made no plea for clemency. The pleas were taken under advisement by the board.

Warden Moneypenny's plea for Bell was based on the latter's action in informing authorities of a jail break plot. The warden and his assistant, G. J. Gibson, declared that their lives and those of several others were probably saved by Bell's betrayal of the plot.

They backed the assertion of the prisoner's mother that her son is not a killer. Bell, Warden Moneypenny said, was originally a party to the plot but backed out and informed on his fellow conspirators when he was given a revolver because, he asserted, he didn't want to see any one killed.

Public Defender Benjamin C. Bachrach made the plea on behalf of Popescu and Rocco. He opposed the death penalty and asked the board to consider whether a long penitentiary sentence would not be a more effective crime deterrent than infliction of death. Assistant State's Attorney Malachy Coghlan, in reply, asserted that it was not the function of the board to consider the efficacy of the death penalty. There were no extenuating circumstances in the cases of the condemned men, he said.

Attorneys for Frank Jordan, convicted of the murder of Policeman Anthony Ruthy, and also sentenced to die Friday, filed a petition for a review of the case with the Illinois Supreme court yesterday.

The case has not been before the high court before, and under normal procedure the court will issue a writ of supersedeas postponing the execution until it has considered the appeal.

TRACE M'ERLANE TO BEARDSTOWN; SUSPECT FLEES

Police of Beardstown, Ill., were a day late yesterday when they went to arrest a man believed to be Frank McErlane, notorious gangster and beer runner, who is being hunted as a suspect of two murders, the killings of his common-law wife, Marion Miller, and James L. Quigley, a rival bootlegger. The man sought yesterday had been living on a houseboat in the Illinois river.

The Chicago police had traced a telephone call to one of McErlane's friends and found it came from Beardstown. The caller used the name of Ryan. Chief of Detectives Schoemaker said he had reason to believe it was McErlane who called, and he called Chief of Police George W. Farrar at Beardstown. There it was found that the man known there as Charles Ryan had departed. His description fitted McErlane.

"Ryan" and a woman believed to be McErlane's wife had lived on the houseboat during the last few months, Chief Farrar said. An electric refrigerator containing a large quantity of liquor was found by the police, but all occupants had left the boat.

EUROPE DOESN'T WANT WAR, SAYS POLISH GENERAL

Gen. Gustav Orlicz-Dreszer, inspector general of the Polish army, who has been in the United States as the official representative of his country at the American Legion convention in Detroit, left Chicago last night en route to the Yorktown sesquicentennial celebration.

Despite published rumors and the constant clashing of armament in European countries, there is but little chance of war of any magnitude for years to come in the opinion of the general. Barring Russia, no country desires war and no country can afford war, he said.

"If any major conflict arises from the far eastern situation it will be at the instigation of Russia," he said. "Russia, the unknown quantity in nations, is one of the prime reasons for the large standing armies in many European nations."

Gen. Orlicz-Dreszer spoke in glowing terms of the United States, and termed Chicago "the wonder city."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

BANDITS ISOLATE TOWN AND BLOW BANK SAFE OPEN

Aged Banker Gives Battle but Is Routed.

Lisbon, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Two automobile loads of bandits, heavily armed, invaded this little community, halfway between Indianapolis and Connersville, just before daybreak today, isolated it from communication, and terrorized it with gunfire as they blew its bank apart.

With several heavy charges of nitroglycerin, estimated variously at from half to a dozen, they practically undermined the two story brick Knights of Pythias building and opened a double time lock safe in the State Bank of Lisbon. Their loot was not great, comprising only $2,000 in currency and $1,000 in negotiable securities.

The safeblowers had cut the telephone cables and power lines after raising a ladder from the grain elevator, breaking into the Big Four railroad tool shed, where crowbars, hammers, and tarpaulins were obtained, and then making their attack on the bank safe.

Build Barricades Before Bank.

Aroused by the explosions, citizens hurried out into the rain and fog to meet the robber band. Barricades had been set up by robber guards in front of the bank building by setting two heavy benches on end. One was a defense against the bank president's home, across the street, and another a defense against another house within view of the front door.

Horish Bailey, 72 year old president of the bank, defied the bandit gang by firing several volleys from his shotgun out the door of his home toward the men he saw at the entrance of the bank. His attack drew war cries and a hail of lead from the outlaws. Being without sufficient ammunition, he retired from his exposed position as bullets spattered through the door into his home and explosions continued to rip his bank into a confused heap of debris.

"Something awakened me before dawn," Bailey explained. "It must have been the first charge of nitroglycerin. I went to the front door, but couldn't see anything, it was so dark. I waited a few minutes and a freight train came by. Just as the train reached the crossing I saw a flash and heard an explosion. I knew then that they were robbing my bank.

Driven Back by Leaden Hail.

"I got my shotgun and went to the front door and threw the screen door back. Just then some one called, 'Get back in that house,' and a bullet whizzed past my head. I let loose with the shotgun, and then it just began to rain bullets."

Earl Thompson, a neighbor, in the direction of whose house the robbers and their second barricade built, said he had been awakened by the first explosion.

"I got to the window just in time to hear some one yell and to see a car in the direction of Bailey's home," Thompson said, "and then all was Bailey cut loose with his shotgun. After that a regular stream of shots poured at the Bailey house from the bank. They blazed away with shotguns, automatics and, a whole arsenal, it seemed like. I knew it wouldn't do any good for me to go out there."

All the town's residents were awakened by the fight and soon it was known all over the town that safeblowers were raiding the bank. The racket became so terrific few dared to get into the streets. Attempts to use telephones to call outside aid were in vain, as all outgoing lines had been cut.

Keep Dynamiting Safe.

"After they had shot up the Bailey home," Thompson said, "they didn't make any pretense at keeping quiet. They went ahead shooting charge after charge of nitroglycerin. They talked loudly and kept a steady armed outlook for more resistance."

An hour and a half elapsed from the time the bank president was awakened by the first explosion until the determined robber gang completed the job of blowing four sets of steel doors of the double timelock safe.

"All I could do was to sit here and listen to them blowing my bank to pieces," Bailey said. "Every once in a while I would hear some one yell at them, see a flash and hear an explosion. The last charge they put in was a big one, for it shook all the buildings around."

Narrowly Escapes Death.

James Young, a brother-in-law of the bank president, was asleep upstairs at the Bailey home. He narrowly escaped the path of a .45 caliber bullet which plowed its way through his room, a few inches above the bed in which he lay.

"If that bullet had been a few inches lower," said Bailey, "it would have gone through Jim's feather bed."

The robbers escaped in automobiles and, as all light wires had been cut, the citizens had to wait until dawn to inspect the damage. The interior of the banking room was a wreck. Partition, were torn down. Equipment was blown to tangled masses of wreckage, and a safe door almost penetrated an outside wall. Not a whole glass was left in any window or door. The strong safe stood with its sides bulging and concrete packing blasted all over the room.

A safe deposit vault and records of the bank were not attacked. The only money overlooked was a small sum contained in a box of the record safe, a few hundred dollars.

State authorities believe the hour and a half reign of terror was the work of amateur cracksmen, because of the wreckage left behind and the viciousness of the attack.

The bank opened for business today after cash was obtained from a nearby town, but it had to conduct business in a butcher shop a few doors from its own wrecked building. A butcher's block was used as a money storage counter and a teller used one end of the counter after displacing the hamburger and pigs' knuckles display.

TRADE CHIEFS HONOR LYTTON AT LUNCHEON

Henry C. Lytton, 85 years old, pioneer State street merchant and founder of The Hub, was the principal guest at a luncheon of more than 50 business and civic leaders in the administration building of the Century of Progress yesterday. There were in the group representatives of two generations—friends of more than 40 years whose enterprises grew up with Mr. Lytton's, and others now prominent who were then boys.

POTOMAC ISLAND SITE FOR SHRINE TO ROOSEVELT

Land to Be Presented to U. S. for Public Park.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Analostan island, a 90 acre tract in the Potomac river between the Memorial and Francis Scott Key bridges, has been selected as the site for the Theodore Roosevelt memorial.

Officials of the Roosevelt Memorial association announced purchase of the property today, stating the island would be presented to the nation to be used as a public park.

The type of memorial to be erected there has not been determined, discussion having continued for the last 12 years, since the death of President Roosevelt, as to whether the memorial should be utilitarian, in the form of a vast stadium, or primarily a work of art.

Island Cost $364,000.

As long ago as 1925 the Roosevelt Memorial association, with the approval of congress, held a national competition and, as a result, selected John Russell Pope to submit a design. His idea, embracing a monumental fountain flanked by colonnades, was submitted to congress, but never was either rejected or approved.

The purchase of Analostan island for $364,000 was announced by James R. Garfield, president of the association. The island lies in the river on a line due west from the White House and is within the limits of the District of Columbia.

Once Owned by Lord Baltimore.

Mr. Garfield said it was the purpose of the association to present the island to the nation, to be used as a public park and to be incorporated into the park system now being developed along the Potomac river by the national capital park and planning commission. Bridges will connect it with the mainland. It contains a plateau of some twenty acres, which has remained in its natural state, and the remainder of the island is comparatively wild. Acquisition of the island was in keeping with the expressed desires of the capital planning commission.

Analostan island, which had several other names prior to the present designation, originally was the property of Lord Baltimore. In 1777 it was purchased by George Mason of Gunston Hall, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and author of the bill of rights. Mason's son inherited the site and built a manor house which since has fallen into ruin.

EDISON'S QUIET DAY MARKED BY NO NEW CAUSES FOR ALARM

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—"Mr. Edison has spent a very quiet day, there being no new developments. He is now resting comfortably," said the bulletin issued at 10 o'clock tonight by Charles Edison, son of the inventor.

Although he has been unable to take any food since Sunday or any liquids in more than a week, Mr. Edison seemed a little brighter today than he has been recently. The 84 year old inventor roused from his stupor long enough to recognize his wife and smile faintly at her, his attending physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, revealed.

Nevertheless he is undergoing a "gradually progressive somnolence" which will inevitably develop into coma, Dr. Howe said. He said that he could only explain the "remarkable fight" which Mr. Edison has been making against a complication of diseases in his Llewellyn Park home here by the unusual strength of his heart.

"Mr. Edison slept through the entire night and there is but little change to report except a gradually progressive somnolence," Dr. Howe's formal bulletin this morning had said.

5 GUNMEN HOLD UP SUBURBAN BANK; LOOT IS $3,000

Five young gunmen invaded the State bank of River Grove, 8400 Grand avenue, and escaped with $3,000 in cash yesterday. Before escaping in their car they threatened to shoot the first person who made an outcry.

The bandit car, containing six men, parked in front of the bank shortly before closing time. One stayed in the car as a lookout. The other five entered with their guns drawn. "Get back there, this is a stickup," yelled the leader, a swarthy faced youth.

Three of the gunmen menaced Edgar L. Cory, 2440 Cortland street, Chicago, the teller; Wayne E. Beddow, 2815 Forest avenue, River Grove, the cashier, and four customers, one of them a woman. The other two bandits vaulted over the railing and made a systematic search of the cages. Their loot included $250 in nickels and pennies.

A signal was given and the men rushed to their car, which went north in Thatcher avenue.

Rob 5 in Town Store; Shoot One of Victims

Four armed men entered the drug store of George Siefert at Manhattan, five miles southeast of Joliet, early last evening and robbed the proprietor and four patrons, two of them young women, of $275. One of the customers, E. Hoelscher of Chicago, was shot in the right arm when he resisted. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

Danville Man Heads Illinois Masonic Lodge

G. Haven Stevens of Danville was elected grand master of the Illinois Masonic Grand lodge yesterday, succeeding Edward C. Mullen of Chicago. William H. Zarley of Joliet was elected deputy grand master; Grover C. Niemeier, Chicago, senior grand warden; Hal McLoud, Springfield, junior grand warden, and Richard C. Davenport, Harrisburg, grand secretary. Mullen was named grand treasurer when Leroy A. Goddard, Chicago banker who has served in that capacity for 26 years, declined to be re-elected to the office. Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, a past grand master, presided at part of the meeting and Mayor Cermak spoke briefly.

Action Without Harm Whenever Constipated

Here's a way to be rid of constipation and its ills—a way that works quickly, effectively, but gently.

A candy Cascaret at night—the next morning you're feeling fine. Breath is sweetened; tongue cleared; biliousness, headaches, dizziness, gas vanish. Repeat the treatment two or three nights to get the souring waste out of your system. See how appetite and energy return; how digestion improves.

The action of Cascarets is sure, complete, helpful to everyone. They are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. All drug stores have the 10c boxes.

What a lot of responsibility for a soap—this quaint home of Mrs. Clifford Rodman

SOME of Mrs. Rodman's linens are precious old homespuns that require the most careful laundering. Her woolly white Angora rugs, real antique china, quaint lusterware and picture-plates—imagine what a sticky soap would do to them! And to a house full of shining white woodwork! "We wouldn't use anything but American Family Flakes," says Mrs. Rodman, "because any other soap that cleaned fast enough would take the finish right off.

"In the kitchen, too, my maids use American Family exclusively—" here Mrs. Rodman opens doors into a gleaming white kingdom of porcelain. "They say it keeps all this spotless, as easy as dusting—" indicating stove, refrigerator and bright linoleum. "Even greasy pans clean without scouring. And glassware needs no polishing.

"My hosiery wouldn't last three wearings if there were the slightest impurity in this soap. My lingerie, too . . . and my woolens—" piles of neatly folded sweaters, soft as thistledown—"I wouldn't dare to risk them in any suds less pure than American Family Flakes."

So many family budgets are "kept broke" by the constant wearing out of household washables! How much wiser to use only the soap proved safest and most efficient in 4 out of 5 of Chicago's wealthy homes—double-sudsing American Family Flakes!

You'll be amazed at what these rich, pure double-suds will save you—in longer wear, in lighter work, in added spending money. Use American Family Flakes and Soap for every household-cleaning task—and so keep your hands always smooth and lovely, too.

COUNCIL OPENS INQUIRY INTO ILLEGAL SIGNS

Aldermen to Draft New Billboard Law.

A thorough investigation by the city council of the illegal billboard evil in Chicago was promised yesterday by Ald. Thomas J. O'Grady [14th], chairman of the council judiciary committee. Ald. O'Grady called a meeting of his committee for tomorrow morning to consider the immediate drafting of an ordinance intended to remedy defects in the present law which have permitted illegal billboards to be constructed.

"The city council last July 30 adopted a resolution directing the judiciary committee to draft an ordinance regulating the erection and maintenance of signboards in the city," Ald. O'Grady said.

"There is no doubt that hundreds of billboards have been erected in defiance of the building and zoning ordinances and an immediate stop must be put to this menance. The city is now losing thousands of dollars annually because many of the billboards have been put up without permits."

Milwaukee Ordinance Cited.

The alderman said the new ordinance might be modeled upon Milwaukee's ordinance which exacts a fee of ten cents a lineal foot for each billboard and an inspection twice a year at $5 per inspection.

The police of Milwaukee are made billboard inspectors, Ald. O'Grady said, and are punished if any citizen reports an illegal billboard. A metal tag, bearing the last date of inspection, is attached to each billboard and a heavy fine is assessed the owner of the billboard if the tag is not present.

Building Commissioner Ericason yesterday said he was making a survey of his records with a view to discovering how many illegal billboards have been erected in the city. Mayor Cermak has ordered the commissioner to make a complete report on every billboard and its legal status.

Law Violations Revealed.

A former signboard inspector revealed some figures on known infractions of the law by the signboard companies. Building Commissioner Ericson has thus far insisted that the building department records are private and not subject to inspection by the public.

"The General Outdoor Advertising company has 247 signboards constructed on roofs in direct violation of the building ordinance," the former inspector said. "It has 1,437 billboards built flat against buildings, again in violation of the law. It has put up 1,050 small signs for which no permits were obtained."

The General Outdoor Advertising company has a virtual monopoly on the signboard privilege in Chicago, a survey has revealed. However, independent advertising companies have constructed a number of illegal signs, according to the former inspector.

"When I was working for the building department last year, the city sent out bills amounting to $20,000 for fees to billboard companies," the former inspector said. "I know that more than 40 per cent of the bills still remain unpaid."

MONEY LENDER FINED FOR HIGH INTEREST RACKET

The racket bureau of the state's attorney's office yesterday won the first round in its battle against loan sharks charging an exorbitant rate of interest for short term small loans. John R. Knobloch, arrested three weeks ago on complaint of victims who charged him with the extortion of interest approximating 240 per cent, was fined $25 and costs in jury court on a charge of violating the small loans act.

After Assistant State's Attorney Donald Thompson informed the court the state would present 12 witnesses and Judge James F. Fardy ruled that their evidence could be heard counsel for the defendant asked for a recess. Following a conference with his attorneys Knobloch changed his plea to guilty. Judge Fardy permitted the change of plea and assessed the small fine in view of the fact that Knobloch had qualified under the loan act and obtained a license since his arrest.

MOVE TO FREE INDUSTRY FROM ANTI-TRUST LAW

Business Asked to Vote on Proposal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Chamber of commerce and trade associations throughout the country will be given opportunity to express their ideas of the advisability of legislation which would free industries dealing with natural resources from the restraints of anti-trust laws and would place them, in the manner of public utilities, under the control of a federal regulatory body.

One of the primary aims of such legislation would be to give the government sufficient power to check harmful overproduction.

The referendum, in which 900,000 business men will have a chance to vote, is being prepared by the United States Chamber of Commerce. Questionnaires will be mailed out soon. The replies are expected to have been received and tabulated before the opening of congress in December.

Render Confidential Report.

The action of the chamber in issuing the questionnaire now being prepared had its genesis in a report to the board of directors on Sept. 17 from the national resources production department committee.

That committee, of which Matthew S. Sloan is chairman, rendered a confidential report at that time containing arguments in favor of changes in present legislation, and concluding:

"We, therefore, recommend that through legislative enactment there be created a tribunal consisting of government officials familiar with the natural resources of industry, who shall be authorized to find when overproduction on a scale injurious to the public interest exists, or is threatened, in any of the products of the mines or forests; and upon such finding the producers shall be authorized, with the approval of the tribunal, to enter into an agreement to curtail to a reasonable extent the production of such products entering interstate commerce; such agreement to be terminated upon the order of the tribunal when, in its judgment, the condition of injurious overproduction no longer exists."

Won't Advocate Adoption.

The chamber will not advocate the adoption of this report, although the board of directors of the chamber has approved of this procedure in substance.

When the plan is laid before the local organizations of business men, it was said on high authority today, it will be accompanied by a compilation of arguments against the proposition, now being prepared by an annalist of the chamber, in order that a complete and fair picture of the proposal may be had by those queried and the way paved for alternative proposals.

MYRTLE EAGER TO SEE PHOTO OF FARO SUSPECT

Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, when informed that a man suspected of being one of a trio of gamblers who swindled her and Fred Litsinger of $50,000 in a crooked faro game last January, was being held in Washington, Ia., said yesterday she was anxious to view a picture of the suspect in an effort to identify him. Riley Gaffigan, 43 years old, alleged Chicago confidence man, is the man held. He was questioned by Chief Walter Moody of the Illinois state highway police, and although he denied being implicated in the now famous swindle, was being held for possible identification.

Fred Litsinger, who is a nephew of Edward R. Litsinger, member of the board of review, whose money was lost in the game, said on Monday that he was not interested in confronting the suspect.

"I certainly am interested," Mrs. Blackidge said. "If he is one of the men I'd know him in a minute. I am very anxious to see his picture."

Mrs. Blackidge was collector of internal revenue for the district of northern Illinois when the game took place in Springfield.

DAVIS TO HEAD "VICTORY FUND" OF DEMOCRATS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1924, was announced today as chairman of the committee of more than 500 members of the party who will seek to raise a "Democratic victory fund" of $1,500,000.

About half of this amount is intended to be used to pay off the loans made by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee. The Raskob loans to his party comprise about $400,000 to pay off the deficit from the 1928 campaign and about $650,000 to meet current expenses since then.

The names of the members of the fund committee from Illinois are Robert F. Carr, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, Mrs. Mitchell D. Follansbee, Edward N. Hurley, Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis, Melvin A. Traylor, Mrs. George E. Brennan, Mayor A. J. Cermak, Mrs. Charles H. Hamill, Michael L. Igoe, and Fred H. Rawson, all of Chicago; Lawrence P. Bonfoey of Quincy, and Thomas F. Donovan of Joliet.

ENGLAND MASSES ARMY RESERVES; FEARS DISORDERS

Guards Against Outbreak After Election.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Drastic preparations to deal with either a general strike or communist disorders after the general election on Oct. 27 was completed by Prime Minister MacDonald's national government today.

Officers and enlisted men in the army reserve corps, including the signal, transport, and other technical services, have been warned to hold themselves in readiness for immediate mobilization. A few of the reserve officers in the regular army and the territorial forces have also been notified they may be called for duty. Among these officers are those connected with the Norfolk yeomanry, which has its headquarters near Sandringham, King George's summer residence. All metropolitan police pensioners have been mobilized and are now in service assisting the regular police. Special constables have also been told to hold themselves in readiness.

Landing Fields in Parks.

Experiments have been made for the delivery of milk to London by airplane, thus avoiding congestion on the roads. Landing fields have been marked out in the royal parks, including Hyde Park. Large business firms, operating fleets of delivery vans and trucks, have been asked to report to the government what transportation they could place at the government's disposal in case of an emergency.

Conductors and drivers of the London General Omnibus company have also been warned to be ready to stand by for the transportation of troops and police in the event of a civil disturbance.

The government today emphasized that these moves are all precautionary, and not based on any information that anything like an uprising is contemplated.

The small communist party and the left wing of the Labor party have been talking wildly about what they would do in the event of what they call a "Tory victory," but authorities do not believe they would attract any considerable number of people. At the same time the government is determined to take no chances.

MacDonald Describes Fund.

Prime Minister MacDonald today replied to the charge of Arthur Henderson's Laborites that he is being financed by the Conservative party. It is generally known that he possesses a fund which has enabled him to enter 45 National Laborite candidates at the election.

"Well-to-do members of the Labor movement, who formerly subscribed to Labor party funds, and one or two of my personal friends have subscribed to a campaign fund, which is not large but adequate for our purpose," Mr. MacDonald explained. "As a matter of fact, we find that we will have to fight some of the Conservative candidates."

INDIAN PRINCES KILL HOPES OF WINNING SPEEDY INDEPENDENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—If there were any hopes that the round table conference would give India self-government immediately, the Indian princes put everybody right today when the maharajahs informed the federal structures committee that they were in no hurry to rush into a self-governing federation just now.

Sir Afbar-Hydari, prime minister of Hyderabad, the largest Indian state, so informed the bewildered delegates. Lord Peel informed the Indians that it would take a year's time for an expert committee to devise a detailed plan of federal finance. Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, moderate Indian leader, protested that the proposed federation could not wait that long, crying: "We want a federation at once. Let the federal government appoint your expert committee and deal with its findings."

"O, no!" replied Sir Afbar-Hydari, "We must have a report from the experts before we even consider entering a federation."

British Unemployed Total Drops 33,252 in Week

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Unemployment in Great Britain for the week of Oct. 5 decreased by 33,252 from the previous week. The total was 2,791,520, which was 615,329 more than at the same time a year ago.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR LAKE SHORE ATHLETIC CLUB

Superior Judge William J. Lindsay yesterday declared insolvent the Lake Shore Athletic club, 850 Lake Shore drive, which boasted a 4,200 Gold Coast membership during its heyday, in 1928, and appointed Fred Stoltz, acting secretary of the club, as receiver. The court action followed the filing of a bill for foreclosure on an unpaid judgment, amounting to $2,170, which had been obtained by the E. A. Hinrichs company, chinaware dealers at 58 East Washington street.

The court also issued an injunction restraining the club officials from disposing of any assets and ordering all other creditors to refrain from instituting separate suits against the club corporation.

The 18 story building, constructed at a cost of $6,500,000, was opened in 1927. This was partially financed, the bill charges, through a $2,806,000 first mortgage bond issue. The bonds will mature in 1945. A junior mortgage bond issue amounting to $475,000, to become due on Nov. 1, 1940, also was issued, the bill recites. Other liabilities against the club include $524,500 owed to 275 creditors and taxes for the years 1928 and 1929, amounting to $170,000. The present membership has shrunk to 2,200, it is alleged. The injunctions were sought, the bill charged, in order that the club property might be preserved through a refinancing program.

$18,000,000 IN AUTO FEES PAID TO STATE IN 1931

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Fees collected by Secretary of State William J. Stratton in the first nine months of 1931 totaled $22,001,154. Collections were $18,270,224 in automobile fees and $3,637,848 in the corporation department.

Automobile registrations Sept. 30 had totaled 1,399,777 passenger cars and 197,322 trucks. Motor vehicle fees are paid into the road fund of the state treasury, other fees going into the state general fund to meet governmental expenses.

DANDRUFF! how to get rid of it

Quickly . . Pleasantly . . Inexpensively

IF your scalp itches or burns, if your hair is thinning or you are troubled with loose dandruff, begin using full strength Listerine, systematically, as an antiseptic shampoo. Simply douse it on and massage the scalp as vigorously as you can.

Literally tens of thousands have rid themselves of a dandruff condition with Listerine. They are simply amazed by the speed with which it gets results.

In cases of dandruff the fat glands about the hair become overactive throwing off a disgusting greasy whitish substance known as sebum. This forms in crusts and scales.

Neglect is dangerous

The hair, meanwhile, seems literally to be stifled. It grows lustreless, lifeless, falls out. The scalp feels hot and itchy. If the condition is not treated promptly, eczema and baldness may follow, and often do.

At the first symptom of trouble, the fight against loose dandruff should begin. Consider Listerine's effectiveness against this condition.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A.

TREATMENT FOR SOLDIER'S HEART TOLD SURGEONS

Baffling War Disease No Afflicts Civilians.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.] Surgeons tonight heard Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland clinic tell of new advances into the unknowns of surgery.

"Soldier's heart," a hitherto baffling disease first discovered at the front during the world war and later found to be widespread in civilian life, due to the stress and excitement of modern life, has been conquered by the knife.

DR. G. W. CRILE. [A. P. Photo.]

"Soldier's heart" has for its symptoms abnormal nervous excitation. The victim's heart beats with great rapidity, there is a sweat and his feet and hands are cold—common physical condition in trenches and growing more common in the complexities that face present day city dwellers.

Dr. Crile told the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons in convention here, that he had performed operations on the adrenal-sympathetic system of 126 patients and that the results had been most favorable.

Describes Treatment.

"This disease," said Dr. Crile often mistaken for mild hyperthyroidism, especially in those cases in which there is a goiter and a moderate increase in the basal rate. Heretofore there has been no effective treatment for soldier's heart or neurocirculatory asthenia. In association with I. P. McCullah a critical study was made of the effects of certain operations on the adrenal gland and sympathetic nerves. . . . Since we consider the adrenal glands as being the powerful stations or brain of the sympathetic system and this power station as being too active, we tested this concept by severing the nerves emerging from the adrenal glands."

Dr. Crile said he began his experiments nineteen years ago and could point to one patient who had remained well for fourteen years. In twelve operations done in the last eighteen months, eighteen have remained well to date. In the 126 cases treated Dr. Crile said, there had been only two deaths. They were both physiological deaths, he said, and under the improved technique of the operation are now easily avoided.

"The adrenal gland," explained the surgeon, "is a diminutive yellow body, soft and vascular. It is situated near the upper posteriolateral aspect of the kidney and always close to the vertebral column. . . . It is completely embedded in fat, and on palpation the adrenal border gives the impression unlike that of any other organ except the external ear, which it is similar in contour."

Operation Performed.

Explaining the technique of the operation, Dr. Crile said, it was done under a spinal anesthesia or regional block anesthesia. Every bleeding point is tied off after the incision above the kidney and the operation field is bloodless.

"There is but little shock to the patient," said the surgeon, "and the day following the denervation the patient will experience a diminution of the feeling of nervous tension, he will observe a lessening of the cold sweat and a warming of the skin—and the nurse will notice the patient is less restless. Among the results noted is a constant but frequent, is the disappearance of constipation and indigestion."

Discusses Cardiac Surgery.

The present status of cardiac surgery was discussed by Dr. Elliott C. Cutler of Cleveland. The speaker, after of several explorations into the field, but said the whole problem merits a lot more study. He said the Brauer operation of removing the overlying sac appeared to give great improvement in treating chronic pericarditis.

The real problem in surgical treatment of diseases of the heart, he said, was in the proper diagnosis of the condition.

"Many different surgical procedures have been used in the treatment of angina pectoris," said Dr. Cutler. "In addition, the method of blocking the white rami by injection of alcohol has been used by many. It seems that in many cases striking relief has been given by alcohol injections and sometimes by elaborate operation of removal of both complete cervical chain. However, in relation to any of these procedures the results are so few

It seems that in many cases striking relief has been given by alcohol injections and sometimes by elaborate operation of removal of both complete cervical chains. However, in relation to any single method the results are so few as to be unconvincing. . . . There are still many problems to be settled, and our hope is that further experience and study will help to settle them."

Appendix Case of Child.

The removal of the appendix from children early in life as a means of reducing the death rate from appendicitis was suggested by Dr. Philleman E. Truesdale of Fall River, Mass. Dr. Truesdale pointed out that in 1925 there were 25,000 deaths from appendicitis, and said these figures represented a large increase over those for the preceding five years.

Advocating the removal of the appendix in childhood as a preventative measure, he said that his suggestion was "perhaps somewhat premature" in that much educational work might be necessary before the public could be convinced of the value of such operations.

The problem of bringing hospitalization within the means of the average American family was discussed by Dr. William H. Walsh, hospital consultant of Chicago. Dr. Walsh proposed drastic and fundamental changes in the conduct of hospitals and the financing of nurses' education.

HULL ASSERTS DRY LAW CHANGE WOULD BENEFIT THE FARMER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Congressman William E. Hull, Peoria, speaking on the inland waterway system today at a Civic club meeting here, estimated 120,000,000 bushels of grain would be used annually in the manufacture of beer if congress would authorize the manufacture and sale of a 4 per cent beer.

"There are many ways we can help agriculture, but I do not approve of loaning money to the farmer unless it would be to reduce their rate of interest," Mr. Hull said. "The best thing that can be done for the farmer is to develop an industry that will use the farm product. The farmer can make no money unles he can dispose of the grain he raises.

Let's go back to the time that he sold the distilleries in this country 40,000,000 bushels of corn each year. That has been taken away from him by prohibition.

"The farmer has lost the sale on an average of 80,000,000 bushels of grain to the breweries in this country for the past 13 years and that alone would assist him to a great extent in disposing of his products. Under present conditions, if the breweries could be opened, it is my honest judgment that 120,000,000 bushels of grain would be used yearly for the manufacture of beer."

STUDENTS ASK REDUCED FOOD PRICES AT U. OF C.

Students at the University of Chicago began a campaign to lower the prices of food in the institution's dining halls yesterday. A protest was drawn up by seventy-five Chicago Theological seminary students and presented to President Robert M. Hutchins.

This petition demanded that the president investigate the prices of meals served in Ida Noyes hall and the men's commons in Mandel hall. Other contentions embodied in the document are that the prices are not in accord with the prevailing low food prices, that the students' purses have been hit by the economic depression, and they should not be charged so much.

Two investigations will be launched as a result of the petition. One will be conducted by William Mather, university cashier in charge of the university commons department, and the other by the Daily Maroon.

Gen. Ballington Booth, commander in chief of the Volunteers of America, yesterday assured Rufus Dawes, president of the World's Fair organization, that the 1933 national convention of the Volunteers would be held in Chicago. In company with the directors of his organization, who are meeting at the Stevens hotel for three days, Gen. Booth viewed the work already completed on the fair.

DOCTOR'S MEXICO DIVORCE INVALID; HE HAS 2 WIVES

Dr. Julian J. Golembiowski, physician with offices at 700 North Ashland avenue, found himself legally married to two women yesterday after Judge Rudolph F. Desort had held invalid the Mexican divorce which he obtained in October, 1929, from Mrs. Barbara Golembiowski, 1908 Armitage avenue.

Mrs. Golembiowski was granted separate maintenance, with alimony of $2 a week. Following his divorce Dr. Golembiowski married Mme. Leomja Ogrodzka, Polish opera singer. Judge Desort ordered the couple to separate pending a settlement of the legal mixup.

The decree was invalidated on the grounds that by going to the state of Morales, Mexico, to obtain it, Dr. Golembiowski deprived his first wife of an opportunity to defend her rights.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

TOWARD AN HONEST ASSESSMENT.

The board of assessors is asking $118,000 as an emergency appropriation. The money would be used in part to resurvey properties whose owners are alleging in court that their 1929 tax bills are based on errors of appraisal; in part to find additional personal property for assessment; and in part to pay the staff now at work on the 1931 quadrennial reassessment.

Of the three purposes, the last is by far the most important. Any delay in completing the 1931 books is going to be costly to this community. It will add to the difficulty of borrowing either for the short or the long period. The financial difficulties, typified by the present failure of the school board to pay its teachers, will be extended to most if not all of the other local governments.

In asking for $40,000 to carry on the quadrennial reassessment, Assessors Conroy, Traeger and Meyer pledged themselves to publish the 1931 valuations in understandable form as soon as practicable after the board of review has finished its revision. They promised, also, to distribute to the public their manual of building valuations.

Presumably, the board has accepted the view that much of the dissatisfaction with previous assessments has been on the grounds of favoritism and inequality. If any taxpayer can discover that his neighbors, owning similar properties, are paying no less than he pays, the complaints will diminish. Likewise, if a business man finds that his taxes are not out of line with his competitors', he, too, will pay more willingly. The publication of the assessments should go a long way toward reassuring taxpayers.

It is unfortunate that the assessors did not go farther in their pledge. The publication will be of small value unless properties are listed by street addresses and owners' names, for the legal descriptions are meaningless to the ordinary taxpayer. Perhaps that is what the board meant by "understandable form," and if so it is unfortunate that the board did not express itself with greater precision. In addition, the publication should not be delayed until after the review is completed. By that time property owners who are the victims of injustice will have no recourse except in the courts. The assessors should undertake to publish their own work as soon as it is completed, to enable the taxpayer to present his complaint, if he has one, to the board of review.

If the assessors can pledge themselves in convincing fashion on these points an effort might be made to find money to carry on the 1931 valuations.

BRITISH BATTLESHIPS ON ACCOUNT.

It is proposed that the United States and Great Britain come to an agreement which will make naval parity a fact without further building and which will ease some of the debt settlement off British shoulders at a time when such relief is important to the desperate taxpayers. Briefly, the plan is that certain British ships shall be transferred to the United States navy, balancing the tonnage as of 1932, and that credit for the price of these ships shall be entered on the British account with the American treasury.

In theory the two nations are agreed as to the paramountcy of national debts and as to the desirability of naval equality. The minds of their governments meet on these two questions. Borrowed money must be repaid. The naval strength should be nicely balanced. Within these two propositions the stability and security of the world has been sought. But it is difficult to make the ideas work. With, no doubt, the best intentions in the world, Great Britain usually gets an edge in the naval agreements and comes out of naval conferences better off than the United States. It may be that the American negotiators, being open pored, are open handed or that the English are Scotch when it comes to naval dickering and could not give themselves the worst of it if they tried. The consequences are noted and they get worse when the American government sets itself to build down from the agreements instead of up to them.

The sensible proposal recognizes these innate traits in the failure of naval agreements to get naval equality and would have the British turn over their naval surplus to make up the American deficiency. Specifically it is suggested that Great Britain give the American fleet four large gun cruisers, the Effingham, Hawkins, York, and Cornwall; four small cruisers, the Durham, Dispatch, Dragon, and Dauntless; the airplane carrier Hermes, about 16,000 tons of destroyers, and exchange the battle cruiser Hood for the American ship Tennessee. It is estimated that this trade would bring the tonnage of the two navies to the desired balance in 1932 and there would be nothing for further conferences to worry about on that score.

It has been complained that the United States makes debt settlement almost impossible by refusing to accept payment in goods. The tender of goods, it would seem in fair dealing, should be goods desired by the creditor. He should not be asked to accept goods which disturb the working of his own economies. The United States is apparently reluctant to build ships, although it confesses in theory that it should have as large a fleet as Great Britain. Warships, then, are goods which the United States needs and is not producing in sufficient quantity. A debt payment in warships would aid American economy and relieve British. It would convert British goods into a painless payment of obligations and the British taxpayer could put his money back in his pocket.

No sensible objection can be made to that. The proposal offers the two nations a simple, practical way of handling two of their most perplexing problems in a bargain which is equally valuable to both sides. It is to be hoped that the plan will be seen in this light and welcomed by both governments.

CHINA VS. JAPAN.

There are said to be as many as two million men under arms in China, but the estimate if true does not give much force to Marshal Chiang's threat that China will make war if the league of nations does not restrain Japan. How many well equipped, well disciplined, and well officered soldiers the Chinese government has at its command can only be guessed, but they are far below these figures. A military conflict between the Japanese army and such organized forces as China could bring into and maintain in the field of contact would very promptly prove the superiority of the highly modern and efficient instrument in the hands of Japan. There is no question that the Chinese will fight courageously, but against an army equipped with every modern resource, highly organized and disciplined and directed by experienced leaders the more courageous the attack the more sanguinary and decisive the defeat for the weaker party.

China's strength is vast, but it is unorganized for military action. It lies in passive rather than active resistance, and this Marshal Chiang undoubtedly realizes. The report is, therefore, both plausible and significant that he will concentrate troops in the interior provinces where the worst peril to Chinese independence and order exists in the communist forces operating there for many months and with increasing success. To withdraw his best armies from this threat and sacrifice them in a hopeless struggle against Japanese forces in Manchuria would be to fail to save Manchuria and at the same time lose control of China.

In this situation the Chinese government has no choice save to rely upon such international restraint as can be imposed upon Japan while dealing as effectually as possible with the more fatal threat of communist anarchy or domination.

China is now paying the price of the failure of her political and military leaders to serve the common good and to develop her strength to defend her interests by the might of her own arm. Although China has a population numbering one-quarter of the people of the world and a vast continent of territory with great resources, she is compelled to rely upon other nations for the defense of her rights and interests. The Japanese have put themselves in the front rank of world powers by self-sacrifice and patriotic devotion, and the Chinese should consider the lesson. Also the American people, who are inclined to rely upon their own potential strength and are permitting the progressive deterioration of their defenses, would do well not to overlook it.

THE RISE UP AND FALL OF PRIMO CARNERA.

Mr. Sharkey, the Lithuanian-American pugilist and sailor, disposed of Primo Carnera, the Italian geological period, at Ebbets field, New York, Monday night without half the preliminary acclaim which might have been expected of such an event. The blow that felled the Carnera legend almost sneaked up on the public. Probably the promoters kept Primo too long. He may have been overripe and had to be hustled to the counter for immediate disposal at the best price. As a world event it sold at about $100,000, a tenth the sum which could have been expected from customers properly handled, but these are not quite million dollar times [outside of the football fields], and Carnera had been allowed to turn blue around the edges.

Mr. Sharkey seems to have sized his job up as one of quarrying, which was really bright, and to have observed his vast opponent as a large bed of limestone. He figured that if he dug around in the middle he'd get the top down where now and then he could swing at it. Veteran quarrymen might have told him that one did not go after limestone in that way, but he might have asked them what they knew of a bounding quarry. There was, indeed, the danger that, in digging at the middle, Mr. Sharkey would bring the top down on himself, and that a steam shovel would be required before the referee could find him, but he took that chance. When the spill came Mr. Sharkey was clear of it.

The experts agree that Carnera, when really tested, showed at least courage as well as bulk. The American public good naturedly has provided him with a considerable fortune in the last two years and at home he has been regarded as the revival of the Roman legions. He might have gone out in a million dollar show, but the showmanship was unequal to it. He did his best, a strong, good natured giant. Mussolini should not be too severe with him. He did what he could for the glory of Fascism while he was allowed to do it.

Editorial of the Day

BY AUTO TO THE ARCTIC CIRCLE.

[Columbus Dispatch.]

Among the many arguments made by the press of San Francisco in support of the proposition to bridge the Golden Gate, in order to carry across that water the coast line road that follows the ocean shore now through most of California's long coast line, is that it will make possible and even pleasurable a motor trip to the Arctic circle!

This would mean that a boulevard would extend from Los Angeles and below, through California, British Columbia and Yukon territory into Alaska, over which automobiles might run at the speed of from 40 to 50 miles an hour with perfect safety.

It would require not only the coöperation of the territories of Yukon and Alaska, but of the government of British Columbia as well. But the San Francisco Chronicle assures the public that the consent of the government of British Columbia already is assured in advance, her people realizing that the building of such a road would be of great value to them.

The attraction of an automobile trip for a summer vacation into the glacier regions above the Arctic circle would be more than the average owner of an automobile, with a cruising radius sufficient to negotiate that distance, could withstand.

SPASMS IN CHILDREN.

CHILDREN who have convulsions should be thoroughly studied. A child who has a good inheritance, is sound in body and in mind, and has good habits may have a convulsion as the result of a fever, an infection, or some phenomenon such as teething. As soon as the fever has subsided, or the infection has been conquered, such children become normal and never have any her spasm.

In such cases the spasm, like fever, rapid pulse, and flushed face, is merely one feature of the hild's reaction, albeit a most alarming and mysterious one. Such a child calls for no special study. But if the convulsion is repeated, and especially if the subsequent attacks are not due to some outstanding cause, such as the onset of an infectious disease, there should be a close study of the individual. The case may be one of epilepsy, or of something built somewhat on the epilepsy pattern.

The study should begin with the child's physical being. Sometimes a cause can be found in that field. Next, it should cover the child's mentality. In some cases convulsions are merely one of the symptoms of imbecility or feeble-mindedness. It should cover personality. Habits, emotions, and behavior should be carefully analyzed. Next, heredity should be inquired into, and, finally, the conditions of the home.

Mrs. C. L. McCollister has found that convulsions are especially apt to develop in children with the spasmophilic diathesis. Such children are likely to be subject to attacks of croup, asthma, and colds. Children with this diathesis improve when given cod liver oil, vitamin D preparations, and lime in various ways. They react to parathyroid medication and sunlight and open air is almost specific for them.

Many of these children are subject to temper tantrums. They get blue in the face, or they become limp as a rag or stiff as a poker when they get mad, or when they are denied what they want. Many are sleep walkers or have night terrors.

Mrs. McCollister especially emphasizes the need of proper training where convulsions are associated with these manifestations of personality disturbance. She quotes Myerson as saying that temper tantrums and such make habit grooves and, if indulged in, are liable to eventuate in convulsions. These habit grooves must be broken up by training.

The child subject to convulsions is likely to be of a certain type of mind and to have a certain type of personality. Such children are in great need of training. Sometimes inheritance is at fault. Epilepsy itself is not inherited, but a certain nervous instability and certain peculiarities of body and mind are, and out of these epilepsy may develop. The parent may be at fault in his method of training of his child, or his attitude toward him. The home and other environment may be the cause of the trouble. In short, when a child has convulsions it is all wrong to give worm medicine and stop at that.

RINGWORM OF TOENAILS.

L. H. writes: I have had ringworm of the toenails for several months. I have had several treatments and am no better. What can I do?

REPLY.

I am not surprised at your lack of success. Curing ringworm of the nail is not easy.

If you are certain that is your trouble, proceed as follows: Scrape the nail until it is thin. Sandpaper, sandstone, soap, and warm water will help you in that. Carefully cut away all thick skin. Then paint repeatedly with Castellani's carbol fuchsin paint, or with 1 per cent crystol.

MOTTLED TEETH.

E. C. writes: I think I have mottled teeth. The enamel is mottled with yellow. This makes me very unhappy. 1. Is it caused by too little lime in the food? 2. What foods contain lime?

REPLY.

1. No.

2. Among the foods that are rich in lime are milk, cheese and other milk products, nuts, such vegetables as greens and salads, whole grain cereals and flours. Have a dentist decide whether you have mottled teeth. If so, the cause lies in the water supply. Water that contains an excess of fluorine should be avoided as a preventive, and possibly as a means of cure.

LANDS SOLD FOR TAXES.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Regarding Illinois farm lands which have been sold for taxes. 1. What is the redemption period? 2. What is the maximum penalty? A. D. R.

1. Redemption of real estate sold or forfeited for taxes must be made at the office of the county clerk, county building, Chicago. Redemption of property sold for taxes must, by law, be made within two years from date of tax sale. Penalties increase each six months after date of sale for a period of two years.

2. Penalty for redemption of taxes sold cannot exceed 12% each six months, but if forfeited the law provides a penalty of 25% each year, which is added to the amount due at time of sale. These penalties are provided by law and cannot be evaded.

REGISTRY OF ENTRY NECESSARY.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—[Friend of the People.]—I am a Canadian born man who has lived in the United States for the last 25 years. When I came I intended only to visit but stayed permanently. As, in all probability, there is no record of my entry, would like to know if it is possible for me to get citizenship papers? N. W. A.

Yes, he should have a registry of his entry made through the immigration service, after which he will be in a position to apply for naturalization.

JUNIOR CLERKS.

Chicago, Oct. 10. — [Friend of the People.]—Will you please give me some information about the requirements and duties of a junior clerk and stenographer? If possible, will you tell me when the next examinations for these positions are to be held? V. G.

We have placed the name of the writer on our mailing list for notification of the next examinations called for the positions of junior clerk and junior stenographer. These examinations are open to all citizens of the United States, more than 21 years of age, and who are residents of the city of Chicago for a period of at least one year immediately preceding date of examination.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Ed L.

ABOUT THE MOST INTERESTING ITEM in yesterday's newspapers was the story of a certain James Henry Watts of Macon, Ga., who got so tickled over something that was told him that he laughed his jaw out of joint. A doctor was called, put James Henry's jaw back where it belonged, and went home. Mr. Watts got to thinking over what had been told him that had made him laugh so hard and he got to laughing again and once more threw his jaw out of place. Again the doctor came and put James Henry's jaw back and went away. Yes, for a third time James Henry started laughing over the same thing that had put him in trouble twice before, and again the doctor came back and set James Henry's jaw. We don't know whether James Henry started laughing again or whether he was all laughed out, or whether the doctor just hung around the rest of the night and put James Henry's jaw back in place as fast as it slipped. But the big point is, what in these days and times could have caused James Henry Watts to laugh so hard three separate times that each time he threw his jaw out of joint? We looked all the papers through carefully to see whether we could find what James Henry Watts thought was so funny. We were willing to take a chance on throwing our jaw out of joint if we could only get a hearty laugh. We looked over the papers eagerly. What in the world made James Henry Watts of Macon, Ga., laugh so hard that he threw his jaw out of joint three times hand running? We turned to the stock news: "Stocks decline in dull trading; bonds weak." We couldn't get a laugh out of that. We looked at the news: "China and Japan on Verge of War." Not a giggle in that. "Maroons May Beat Yale Next Saturday." Well, that's fairly humorous, but not a real big guffaw. "American Federation Leaders Vote for 2.75 Per Cent Beer." Gratifying and cause for a sweet smile, but no hilarious laughter. The 2.75 per cent beer seems so vague and far away. "Vice President Curtis Gives Formula to End Depression." That's funny, of course, but we wouldn't throw our jaw out of joint laughing about it. And finally we gave it up. What did James Henry Watts find so funny these days that he laughed his jaw out of joint three times?

THE WANTON'S LUTE.

IGNIS FATUUS.

I'm sorry, dear, that I awoke so soon,
While you slept on beneath the lover's moon—
But the mists are rising; soon it will be noon.
I'm sorry, dear, that I awoke so soon.

But I must go my way—a flaming thing,
A siren shape, and always on the wing.
(Your arms are heavy—and you cannot sing.)

My wild unmeasured cadences seem wrong;
Yet you cannot forget the phantom-song.
I'm sorry, dear, but I have stayed too long.

I cannot linger in the summer noon
I must away where tender midnights swoon
And stars in ecstasy embrace the moon—
I'm sorry, dear—that I awoke—too soon.

MABEL GREGG.

ANOTHER SAD REFLECTION on conditions due to Old Man Prosperity staying around behind that corner is found in the dismal conditions of the title market in Europe. Dukes are marked down to less than half the price that American heiresses used to pay for them and lords and counts have gone to a new low. There has been no activity in the prince market for months, and barons and things like that can't be sold at any price.

A CUSTOMER in a restaurant in California is said to have found six fine pearls in his order of oysters on the half shell. Maybe he did, but it sounds more like propaganda to induce us to eat more oysters. And especially on the half shell. Well, we'll try a dozen that way, but if we don't find any pearls we're going back to sinkers and java.

Ah, Yes! This Is Indeed Most Encouraging!

[From the Hinsdale Doings.]

An encouraging note from the Hinsdale Sanitarium conveys the information that the patronage reached a higher mark last week than at any time since a year ago last January. This staff of physicians and nurses is kept busy looking after the needs of the increasing number of sick people.

WE'RE AWFULLY DISAPPOINTED reading about the shirts and belts and belt buckles and shoes and coats and vests and pants that Al Capone bought at the stores. We thought this was going to be a terribly exciting trial, full of murders and massacres and things, and it begins to sound as though they were examining Al to find out if he is a spendthrift and ought to have a guardian or a conservator appointed to look after his property.

EDUCATION.

I took him gently by the hand,
My man-child small and fair,
And showed him the Mississippi,
With a grave, impressive air.

"They call it 'THE FATHER OF WATERS'— (See how BIG it is out there!)"
He gazed about in solemnity,
And calmly said, "I don't care."

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1915.

LONDON.—Zeppelin airships made another raid over London, dropping bombs. Eight persons are declared to have been killed and about thirty-four injured. The material damage is said to have been small.

LONDON.—The near east, with the Austro-German and Bulgarian invasion of Serbia, the Anglo-French landing at Saloniki, the promised intervention of Russia, and the diplomatic possibilities in Greece and Rumania, continue to be the center of interest throughout the belligerent countries. A dispatch from Paris says that Bulgaria has formally declared war on Serbia, being the twelfth nation to enter the conflict, and that private advices say a Bulgarian division was almost annihilated in a fierce battle near Kraguyevatz, Serbia.

PARIS.—A strong German force attacked the French lines around Souchez and Vimy and succeeded in penetrating some of the trenches which had been shattered by shells, but were repulsed everywhere else.

PETROGRAD. — Another striking victory has been won by the Russians on the southern front in Galicia. They have pierced the last line of the Austrian defenses and stormed one of the strongest points on the German right flank—a hill to the east of the village of Giavoranka on the right bank of the Strika, 13 miles north of Buchach.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1901.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt has definitely and positively, though unofficially, stated his position relative to the Republican nomination for President in 1904. He will make no fight for the honor, but if the people of the United States show their approval of his course during the three years and a half that he occupied the position of chief magistrate by naming him to head the ticket he will not decline. He announced this during an interview with several representative Republicans from South Carolina. He said, however, that he did not care for the nomination if he had to cater to any political clique, combination, or movement.

NEW YORK.—Richard Croker Jr. and his brother, Herbert Croker, the sons of Richard Croker, have been compelled to leave Cornell university, which they entered at the beginning of the year, because of annoyance caused them by people who called at all times of the day and night to see their prize English bulldogs, Bromley Crib, valued at $4,000, and Rodney Stone, valued at $5,000, which, it was reported, the boys had taken to college with them. As a matter of fact, the animals were not with them.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Lansing Warren, editor and publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel, died of typhoid fever. He had been ill three weeks. During his newspaper career he was connected with the Chicago Inter Ocean, the Chicago Daily News, and the Denver Times. He was a son-in-law of Judge Blodgett, the well known Chicago jurist.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 14, 1881.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The work done by the flames at Landenberger's mill last night was of the most appalling character. Thirty-nine men, women, boys and girls constituting the "night gang" were busy at their looms and knitting machines when the cry of "Fire!" ran through the building. The excitement was terrible and, the few men who had presence of mind, and who suggested care in the general effort to escape, found the panic beyond control. Eleven bodies have thus far been recovered and the names of twenty injured have become known.

LONDON.—Parnell was arrested in Dublin under the provisions of the coercion act and taken quietly to Kilmainham jail. On the news becoming known there was intense excitement throughout Ireland. It is probable that Parnell's incarceration will be followed by the arrest of other prominent leaders and a determined and vigorous effort to suppress the land league organization. John Dillon has assumed the leadership of the league in the place of Parnell, but it is not probable that he will be permitted to retain the position very long.

RAIDING THE HIGHWAY FUND.

Chicago, Oct. 9. — After the effective work which THE TRIBUNE has done in recent years in behalf of wider and better roads in Cook county, it is alarming to read of the county board's proposal to dip into our highway fund to the tune of 21 million dollars in order to pay debts it has contracted in other than highway fields.

By what right can the county raid a fund which has been pledged to another use and which has been created by contributions given rather willingly by motorists because they believed that the money would be used to improve and increase highway facilities in Cook county? On what basis can the county board tap the highway fund for millions and spend it for purposes for which it never was intended? Why should the hundreds of thousands of motorists in the county be penalized and be made the goat just because the county happens to be hard up?

Even if the county were able to carry out its proposal, which it probably will not be because of unfavorable public sentiment, it would be no solution to its problem. It would simply create a precedent which in the future would encourage waste, extravagance and poor management because county officials would feel that if they got in the hole again they could again tap the highway fund. The only permanent solution is to put the county on a business basis and keep it there just as though it were a private business. Fifty million dollars a year is now being wasted in the county by the overlapping of governmental agencies, according to a survey just completed, the results of which were printed this week. Unification of such agencies would save 50 million annually, the report says. Have county officials ever done anything to help bring this about? If this were done and if thereafter the county was conducted on a business basis there would be no need of asking authority to dip into funds which have been pledged to other uses.

Present highway facilities in Cook county are inadequate to serve motorists today. It is almost impossible to drive on county highways with safety and comfort because of traffic congestion. We need more highways, wider highways, grade separations, bridges and elevated thoroughfares to handle the steadily increasing number of motorists. All the money raised for highway purposes is insufficient now to provide the facilities needed.

The Texas legislature just passed a bill to divert one-fourth of the gas tax to other than current highway purposes and Gov. Sterling has announced that he will veto it. Gov. Emmerson can well take the same action in reference to the request made by the Cook county board.

WATCHING THE PARK GROW.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The enormous piece of work being done by the Lincoln park commissioners is interesting to watch day by day; almost startling to observe weekly; a revelation to one who sees it after a few months. But unfortunately we human beings are too short of stature to really see it. Would it not be a reasonable thing to do for the officials of the now unused Clarendon beach pavilion to erect a temporary lookout or observation tower, and charge ten or fifteen cents admission, so that those who are interested in the miracle can really see?

J. E. JOHNSON.

FROM A ROUGH TONGUED PRESS AGENT.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—I write to protest the disregard of De Paul university in the editorial, "What Shall Be Taught in the Schools?" which appeared in THE TRIBUNE Monday, Sept. 21. The last paragraph of this editorial suggests that a committee composed of "the presidents or their deputies of the University of Chicago, Northwestern university, and Loyola" be formed to assist the Chicago board of education in reshaping the public school curriculum. The article urges also that the University of Illinois be "similarly represented." There is no mention at all of De Paul, a Chicago institution serving more than seven thousand students in its thirty-fourth year.

Whichever way I look, I cannot but think that THE TRIBUNE'S failure to mention De Paul in this instance is a poor bit of journalism. If the editorial writer knew of the existence of De Paul he gave insult in not recognizing it; if he didn't know of its existence he should not be writing of Chicago's educational conditions.

You may consider that this letter is written to make a mountain out of a molehill. Such is not the case. There is nothing solitary about the affront to De Paul in the enclosed editorial; thousands of students at De Paul have been confronted many times with TRIBUNE articles mentioning Chicago's "three universities"—Chicago, Northwestern, and Loyola. This letter is sent, then, in the hope that you will lend some corrective force to the W. G. N.'s attitude toward this university. JACK DONOHUE,
Director of Publicity De Paul University.

WHO'S DEFLATED?

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Your editorials have emphasized more than once that a general reduction of wages in this country is equivalent in effect to the British abolishment of the gold standard. A man need not be a student of economics in order to see that there is a vast difference between the two in results produced.

The English have reduced the power of money, as the lender and hoarder find the value of their holdings depreciated, but reduction of wages alone enhances the power of money, as it inevitably reduces the value of everything else; it encourages the money hoarder and enslaves the country more and more to the money lender.

What we need now is relief from the power of the dollar. That power, sinister and cruel, has been swelling for the last two years by the mere force of its concentration and crushing life out of the country.

A devalued dollar will put money in wide circulation and start things rolling toward prosperity again. The money lender may not like it, but he has been having his way too much. L. B. U.

SOUND DOCTRINE.

Lenexa, Kas., Oct. 9.—Let's get the idea out of our heads that the government ever owed us a living. Let's remember as long as we, the people, have established this government in the first place it's just up to us to put into it all that we ever expect to get out of it. Unless we're able and willing to do that we might just as well quit.

The prosperity of 1928 so pampered us that right now when we see a hard job ahead we think we can't handle it as individuals. CHARLES A. SCHMIDT.

SEES $2,000,000 LOSS IN TRAFFIC LIGHTS' DELAYS

Expert Urges Chicago to Modernize System.

BY HAL FOUST.

Ernest P. Goodrich, well to do New Yorker and president of the American Institute of Traffic Engineers, paid an extra 10 cents in taxi fare due to the delays caused by Michigan avenue's traffic lights on his trip from the railroad station to the National Safety council's annual congress at the Drake hotel.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Goodrich stood in the rain on the curb in front of the hotel, his coat collar pulled up, his hands busy with a slide rule, pencil and note pad. At the bottom of a page of calculations he estimated that the delay which cost him 10 cents costs the motorists of Chicago $2,041,200 a year.

Sets Loss at $2,000,000.

"This loss of $2,000,000 a year, due to our antiquated traffic light system," said the nationally known traffic authority, "would justify the expenditure of $20,000,000 for the installation of a modern flexible progressive stop and go light system, an installation that would actually cost between $18,000 and $50,000.

"I didn't resent the extra 10 cents I had to pay the cab driver, but I do resent the loss of a minute of two or three a day. I make my living selling my time to clients. The time that isn't sold is my own, and I don't want to spend any more of it than I have to in traffic jams.

"Your police department counts on that Michigan avenue between 14th and 22nd streets, is traveled approximately 105,000 car miles per day. With your simultaneous timing of the lights, the average speed, including the stops, is 12 miles an hour. The average speed with a modern light system would be 21 miles an hour.

Basis for His Estimate.

"If we figure each minute lost by each car as representing the loss of 1 cent, the total delay represents a loss of $2,041,200. This is conservative, I generally figure 5 cents a minute as the value of time to a car and its passengers.

"Professional men have to leave their offices earlier so as to get home in time for dinner because of the avoidable delays on Michigan avenue. Shoppers leave the stores earlier to allow for this congestion. Others have less time for recreation, less time for social affairs.

"We have such a short time to live on this earth. It's a shame to waste any of it in traffic delays which could be avoided by modernizing the stop and go lights.

"The modern traffic lights would also reduce accidents. The progressive system discourages speeding. Traffic is kept at a uniform continuous pace."

Three Signal Demonstration.

The 7,000 safety experts who are attending the congress this week witnessed demonstrations of flexible traffic light control staged in Grant park yesterday afternoon through the courtesy of the south park board, which has blocked the installation of such a system on Michigan avenue by its refusal to join in the project with the Illinois park board and the city administration.

The morning session of the safety congress, which convened on Monday and will adjourn on Friday night, was devoted mainly to problems of reducing the toll of accidents in industry and in the operation of public utilities.

Street Car Speed Increased.

R. J. McIlraith, staff engineer of the Chicago Surface Lines, reported to the convention that the speed of street cars has been increased and the number of accidents decreased. This has been brought about, he said, through gains in all branches of the management and operation, from the man who oils the switches to the man who designs the rolling stock.

"Soon it will be possible," Mr. McIlraith said, "after the new company is formed to take over the new franchise, to obtain many improvements in the other cars and many improvements in new cars and equipment which will make for safer operation, still further reduced delays, and further increase the value of the service."

H. G. WELLS ON NEW U. S. VISIT; IN GENIAL MOOD

New York, Oct. 14.—[Special.]—H. G. Wells came again to New York today, cheerful about the future of England and pessimistic about world economics and the state of modern civilization.

About this last, he sees it in a condition of "probable collapse"; with the fall being greater than Greece and Rome, because it is more "crazy." He could set no time limit for the ending, hinting only that it might well be soon. As to what will happen then, well—"I'll write you a book about that."

The latest appearance of Mr. Wells—he has not been in this country for a number of years—was a genial one on board the Aquitania. He joked with photographers and compared himself to Charlie Chaplin, and then observed the proprieties of the port by remarking on the skyline for the benefit of the newsreel. And in his talk afterwards, he spiced his remarks with bland and whimsical observations. He has written a companion piece to the famous "Outline of History," but when he leaves here in a month, he is to do a novel.

$100,000 SCHOOL SURVEY TO START WITHIN 2 WEEKS

A complete survey of the Chicago school system is to be started within two weeks, it was announced yesterday by President Lewis E. Myers of the school board, following a special meeting of the trustees. The survey is to be made under the direction of Dr. George D. Strayer, of the Institute of Educational Research, Columbia university.

"The purpose of the survey," said Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, trustee, "is to ascertain just how Chicago can get the most for every dollar spent for education. The survey will include investigation of wastage in every department, business and educational, with suggestions for revision. Buildings, contracts and school lands will be given especial scrutiny. Completed, the report is expected to form a basis for the ultimate solution of the school situation."

The survey was authorized at a previous meeting of the board and will cost an estimated $100,000. It is planned to complete the survey by June 1.

In from New York

Claudette Colbert, moving picture actress, arrived in Chicago yesterday on the New York Central from New York, where she is engaged in the Paramount studios, and departed on the Santa Fé Chief for Los Angeles. She explained as she boarded the Santa Fé train that she is on one of her regular visits to see her husband, Norman Foster, a motion picture actor. Usually they meet half way in Chicago, he coming from the west, she from New York, she said. At present, however, he is working on a picture.

WALTER HUSTON, FILM ACTOR, IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Another of Hollywood's "friendly" divorce actions was begun in Reno today with the filing of a suit by Bayone Whipple Huston against Walter Huston, featured film player.

"It's all very amiable," Huston said. "I knew all along that she was going to do so but we are still friends."

Huston, a veteran of the stage, has risen to the ranks of one of the outstanding featured players since the advent of the talkies, winning particular success in "bad man" roles.

The couple separated five years ago. He has a son, John, by a former marriage. The son is a scenario writer.

INCOME TAX BILL IS SUBMITTED TO REVENUE BOARD

Provides for Offset to Real Estate Levy.

The draft of a state income tax bill was submitted last night to the governor's revenue commission by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association and chairman of the income tax subcommittee.

While the details of the bill were not revealed at the session, which was held behind closed doors at the Union League club, it was learned that it was not proposed as "just another tax," but as an offset for a portion of the taxes now paid by real estate.

$90,000,000 Realty Relief.

The commission also has under consideration a sales tax on luxuries, the revenue of which would be deducted from the real estate burden. With these two measures it is planned to cut real estate taxes by $90,000,000 annually.

Several members of the commission stated that they believe the plan to impose an income tax as a substitute for real estate taxes is constitutional.

Reports of other subcommittees, one of which dealt with budgetary control for the local governments to prevent expenditures in excess of revenues, were considered.

Warn of Closed Schools.

Before taking up the reports the commission heard a committee of six school superintendents, representing suburban boards of education, who warned that "unless immediate relief is found, the schools of the county will have to close."

The superintendents said that most of the county school districts have reached the end of their financial resources, and that many of the 3,622 school teachers have not been paid for months. The rural boards, they said, have encountered difficulty in selling tax anticipation warrants.

Nineteen of the larger school districts, it was stated, are either in default on current expenses or have only sufficient funds to pay expenses for one, two or three months more. Some of the school districts included were those of Evanston, Oak Park, Cicero, and River Forest.

It was proposed by the superintendents that the school districts be permitted to finance their immediate obligations by issuing bonds without regard to the statutory limitation and levy a tax to pay the principal and interest of the bonds, which will fund over a period of years the unusual expenses, such as heavy interest charges, caused by the delay in tax collections.

Heat your home with GAS this winter 31% Less

You still have time to heat your home automatically with gas this winter, and get the benefit of the new 31% reduction in the gas home-heating rate. If you act now!

Your present heating system can be easily adapted to gas heat. You need no large outlay of cash, nor do you have to invest in any costly equipment.

For only $5 a month (plus a small installation charge) you can rent a gas burner that fits right into your present warm air, hot water or steam heating system. The minor adjustments necessary in your furnace can be made in a few hours without any inconvenience in your home.

Without obligating yourself in any way, you can have one of our representatives call and give you a reliable estimate on the cost of heating your home with gas under this new, low rate. He will also explain the details of our monthly rental plan.

Arrange now to change over to gas heat and resign from furnace tending forever. Light your furnace with a single match in the fall and forget it until spring. Spend your winter evenings in an easy chair, not running up and down basement stairs.

With gas heat a thermostat on your wall keeps your home one jump ahead of the weather man—maintaining an even, healthful home temperature through the coldest days of winter, and the changeable weather of spring and fall. Sleep thirty minutes later every morning, while the thermostat automatically brings up the heat in your home.

Forget all fuel worries, too! The gas company's holder is your fuel bin. Draw on it as you need it. Pay for the gas after you use it.

Phone Wabash 6000 NOW, or mail this coupon. One of our representatives will call and show you how little it costs to heat with gas under the new, low rate. Act now for a happier and healthier winter this year with clean gas heat.

N. Y. REPUBLICAN LEADER, WORTH $15,000,000, DIES

While Boy He Takes Father In as Business Partner.

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Former State Senator William H. Reynolds, Republican leader and promoter of a number of spectacular real estate ventures, including the Long Beach Estates and Dreamland, Coney Island, died today at his apartment hotel.

WM. H. REYNOLDS. [Acme Photo.]

Mr. Reynolds, who had been the central figure in a number of big legal battles involving realty deals, succumbed to a heart attack which came after an illness of three months.

New York has known few more arresting figures than that of William H. Reynolds—"the Senator," as he was known to his friends. He was the son of a successful Brooklyn contractor and while in high school demonstrated the business sense that later was to make him an important figure in large affairs.

Couldn't Be Bothered.

Reynolds senior hated to be bothered with monthly bills, with the result that his creditors, disliking to "dun" a good customer, were nonplused how to get their money. Reynolds junior figured a way. He had had experience in collecting for his father, so he said to the tradespeople that if they gave him 2 per cent, he would collect their bills. They agreed, and the youngster told his father he would take over the business of sending out checks each month. Reynolds père was happy to be relieved, and his son pocketed $200 in commissions.

With this small "stake" he told his father he would go into business for himself. The father laughed, but within a year the son had made $50,000 in Brooklyn real estate. Within three years the father said to the son, "Billy, you're growing too fast for me," and the son took him in as a partner.

Known as the "founder" of Long Beach, the ex-senator was reputed to be worth more than $15,000,000.

The most celebrated case in which he was involved was that in which his conviction for larceny of city funds was reversed by the Appellate division. Senator Reynolds received publicity in 1911 when the New York World exposed the fact that Dreamland, his amusement park venture, was taking water free from the city's mains.

Makes First Page Headlines.

The senator again made front page headlines when in June, 1914, Mayor John Purroy Mitchel, returning with the senator from target practice, accidentally dropepd a gun which went off and slightly wounded Mr. Reynolds.

In the midst of the city's investigation in 1917 on the purchase of Dreamland, Seaside Park, and marginal railway properties, the spotlight was turned on a dinner given by Senator Reynolds at Sherry's at which Mayor Mitchel was present. The dinner cost $140 a plate, the souvenirs were Tiffany studio lamps, and the guest of honor was presented a $600 suit case. The menus were engraved on solid copper plates. The occasion was the conclusion of a visit to the Arizona-Binghamton Copper company by the senator, who promoted the enterprise.

Mayor Mitchel is said to have interested himself in the project to the extent of investing in 15,000 shares at $5 a share.

INDIANA FARM AUCTION WIZARD IS DEAD AT 75

Made Millions by His Credit Ventures.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—John F. Judy who amassed a million dollars in a unique credit business in farm equipment and live stock, only to see it all swept away, died today at Judyville, 18 miles southwest of here, at the age of 75.

For 30 years he conducted semi-weekly sales that attracted throngs to his country place. He did a business averaging $2,000 a day, disposing of thousands of buggies, wagons and stock. Then he founded the town of Judyville about his business place, built huge barns and repair shops, employed men, built a school, stores and railroad station and advertised the Judy system all over the middle west.

He traveled from city to city collecting interest on notes and mortgages against farmers and farm tenants. It was related that his stack of notes was 12 feet high and that every 20 minutes, night and day, one of the notes came due. He began life as a school teacher, although he had never attended school himself. Then he developed into a farm financier and for years was one of the most colorful figures in the farm business life of western Indiana and eastern Illinois. Eight years ago he went into bankruptcy. Then he went to California, later returning here.

His plan was never to bank or discount a note, but hold it until it was paid or worthless. Judy owned 10,000 acres of land, 50 stores, several banks, coal mines, livery stables, and small factories when he was at the height of his financial career.

DR. H. B. LEARNED, NOTED HISTORIAN, DIES IN HIS SLEEP

Stanford University, Cal., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Henry Barrett Learned, 63, eminent historian and guest professor of history at Stanford university, was found dead in bed in his campus apartment today.

Dr. Learned is presumed by physicians to have died in his sleep some time Sunday night, probably of heart disease.

The historian arrived here last Oct. 1 and was to have taught history for only a semester. He resigned as president of the board of education of the District of Columbia a month ago.

Mrs. Learned, the widow, and their daughter Emily, have been visiting at South Manchester, Conn., and were to have arrived here in a few days.

Dr. Learned was born at Exeter, N. H., March 21, 1868. He held degrees from Harvard, Yale, Chicago and Leipsig universities. He was the author of several books and articles on historical and political subjects, including one on "The President's Cabinet." He served with the U. S. department of justice, bureau of investigation from 1917 to 1919.

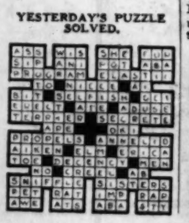
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED.



FAIL IN COURT MOVE TO OBTAIN CONTROL OF AGED MRS. WOOD

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Otis F. Wood, nephew of Mrs. Ida E. Wood, 93 year old hermit of the Herald Square hotel, who hoarded three-quarters of a million dollars in cash in a room littered and choked with the accumulations of years, will continue as custodian of the person and property of that extraordinary old lady. All efforts of the two women who assert that they are grandchildren of Mrs. Wood's late husband, Benjamin Wood and, therefore the nearest heirs to his property, to have Otis F. Wood removed have failed.

The effort was made today in a private hearing before Supreme Court Justice Irwin Untermyer in his chambers in the county courthouse, James A. McKaigney, representing Mrs. Blanche Wood Shields of Red Bank, N. J., and Miss Gertrude Wood, the two women who have come forward with the claim that they are the nearest blood kin to the late Benjamin Wood, presented affidavits and statements to the effect that the aged Mrs. Wood had been bruised and submitted to physical and mental pain, entirely unnecessary, when Otis F. Wood and others transferred her from the apartment on the fifth floor of the Herald Square hotel, which she occupied for fourteen years, to a clean, fresh, well ordered apartment on the fourth floor.

Counsel for Otis F. Wood and his three brothers, Henry A. Wise Wood, Benjamin Wood and Washington Wood, assured Justice Untermyer, however, that the accusations made by Mrs. Shields and Miss Wood were baseless, that Mrs. Ida E. Wood had been considerately and gently handled at all times and always for her own best interests, and that her property had been fully disclosed and properly banked.

The outcome was that the charges against Otis F. Wood and his brothers were ignored and Otis F. Wood was continued as his aunt's guardian with full powers. However, Justice Untermyer directed that his bond be increased from $300,000 to $1,000,000.

BISHOP REESE OF OHIO EPISCOPAL CHURCH IS DEAD

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A stroke of paralysis suffered two years ago while preaching a sermon led to the death today of Bishop Theodore Irving Reese, 58, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of southern Ohio.

Bishop Reese refused to leave his pulpit and insisted on completing his sermon and a confirmation service while seated in a chair. Later he suffered four additional paralysis attacks.

For six years he was rector of old Trinity parish, Columbus, and was elected bishop coadjutor from that pulpit. In 1929, when Bishop Boyd Vincent resigned because of infirmities of age, he was elevated to the higher post.

One funeral service will be held here in the Church of Our Savior Thursday morning and another in Trinity church, Columbus, Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Columbus.

Coadjutor Bishop Henry Wise Hobson, who automatically succeeds Bishop Reese, is 41 years old. He won the distinguished service cross for bravery under fire during the world war.

Funeral of E. J. Petru to Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. in St. Procopius' church for Emanuel J. Petru, founder of the Petru American Importing company, coffee and tea merchants, 1708 South Racine avenue. Mr. Petru, who was 68 years old, died Sunday at his home at Fox Lake. He is survived by his wife, two sons, and a daughter.

TWO CRITICALLY HURT AS CAR HITS SAFETY ISLAND

Miss Evelyn Stewart, 30 years old, 549 Addison street, and Irvin Metcalf, 35 years old, St. Charles, were seriously injured yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on the rain swept pavement at Sheridan road and Diversey parkway and crashed into a safety island. Kenneth M. Beveridge, 32 years old, 20 East Elm street, who also was riding in the car, was cut and bruised. All three were taken to the Columbus hospital.

Three deaths in Cook county yesterday brought the automobile toll since Jan. 1 to 976. The victims:

Frank Mitchell, 69 years old, of Moline, Ill., died at the St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, from injuries sustained Saturday when his automobile collided with another car at Dyer, Ind.

George Oakse, 45 years old, 4415 Thomas street, a teletype repairman, died at the Keystone hospital from injuries suffered Monday when his automobile collided with another car at Cortland street and Cicero avenue. The other driver, Edward Hruska, 1928 South Homan avenue, was not held.

Louis Bynum, a Negro, 36 years old, 2546 West Washington boulevard, was fatally injured last night when he was struck at Western avenue and Fulton street by an automobile driven by Hugh Patterson, 2445 Warren boulevard. His death occurred at the Washington Boulevard hospital.

Louis Di Carlo of Chicago, a truck driver for the Decatur Cartage company of Chicago, was killed yesterday at Fairmont City, Ill., when his truck was struck by a trolley car. Leonard Valle, his companion, also from Chicago, was injured.

Martin Voss, Ex-Marine Engineer, Dies at Age 98

Martin Voss, 98 years old, a former marine engineer, died suddenly last night of heart disease in his home at 2325 York street, Blue Island. He had been an engineer most of his life on vessels plying the great lakes. He is survived by two sons. Funeral services will be held from the chapel at 2601 West Vermont street, Blue Island, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Slayer of Auto Salesman Gets 33 Years in Prison

Everett Kappmeyer, 22 years old, who shot and killed Edward J. Wolf, an automobile salesman, in an attempt to rob him of a car on the night of April 11, 1930, was sentenced to 33 years in the penitentiary by Judge John Prystalski in the Criminal court yesterday. Kappmeyer withdrew his motion for a new trial. After a jury had been selected to try him last week and testimony had begun Kappmeyer changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

MRS. BLODGETT, SOCIAL WORKER, DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. John W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids, Mich., prominent social worker and wife of a Michigan financier and lumberman, died suddenly during the night at the St. Regis hotel on Fifth avenue. She was 68 years old.

Mrs. Blodgett, a philanthropist who devoted much of her time to activities such as mental hygiene and nursing, had come here to attend a session of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Mrs. Blodgett was president of the D. A. Blodgett Home for Children at Grand Rapids, Mich. She and her husband gave Vassar college a euthenics building several years ago.

She had been given much credit for the fact that the infantile death rate in Grand Rapids for some years has been the lowest in this country in cities of more than 100,000 population. She had founded a number of clinics for feeding, for parental care, mental hygiene, child guidance and birth control.

Funeral Services Today for Mrs. Mary McHugh

Funeral services are to be held at 10 a. m. today in St. Vincent's church, Webster and Sheffield avenues, for Mrs. Mary Sullivan McHugh, mother of the Rev. Daniel J. McHugh, treasurer of De Paul university. Mrs. McHugh, who was 80 years old, died Monday after a long illness. She was born in Danville, Ill., and as a small girl carried a flag in a parade for Abraham Lincoln in his first presidential campaign. Three sons and three daughters survive.

Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, Playwright, Dead at 70

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, 70, playwright, fell dead of heart disease at a concert here last night. She was 17 years old when she was married to Albert Clifford Barney, banker. He died in 1914, leaving her an estate of $5,000,000. When she was 60 she was married to Christian Hemmick, 26 year old artist. He later obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion.

CONTINUES EMBEZZLEMENT CASE.

Municipal Judge Freeman L. Fairbank yesterday continued until Friday the case of A. J. Weeg, 31 years old, 5212 Cornell avenue, charged with the embezzlement of $1,900 worth of securities from A. C. Allyn & Co., brokers, to permit Weeg to finish arrangements for restitution to his former employers.

DEFENSE OPENS CASE IN "PICNIC POISON" TRIAL

Lebanon, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The defense began presenting its case this afternoon in the trial of Mrs. Carrie Simmons, 48 year old Hancock county farm wife, charged with placing poison in chicken sandwiches served at a family reunion here last June 21, and which caused the deaths of her two young daughters, Virginia, 14, and Alice Jean, 10.

Abandoning its previous plan to ask for a directed verdict, the defense immediately called first the Rev. James Cox, a lifelong friend of Mrs. Simmons. He testified at length as to her character, love for children, and happy domestic life.

Just before the state rested earlier in the day the defense recalled Charles W. Friedman, Indianapolis druggist, who yesterday testified he had sold sixty grains of strychnine to Mrs. Simmons on June 18. The defense attacked Friedman's veracity.

Dr. William H. Spieth was recalled to testify further as to the physical condition of Horace N. Jackson, brother-in-law of Mr. Simmons, when he allegedly was poisoned at the picnic. The defense was trying to show that Jackson was feigning sickness.

J. F. Barkow, Retired Pastor, Killed by Gas

The Rev. John F. Barkow, 84 years old, of Tinley Park, a retired Lutheran minister, formerly of Milwaukee, was asphyxiated by coal gas in the kitchen of his cottage yesterday while cooking his breakfast. He was found dead last night by a roomer. The Rev. Mr. Barkow, a widower, retired from active church work eight years ago and moved to Tinley Park to be near his daughter, Mrs. Julia Buddenhagen, wife of the Rev. Albert Buddenhagen. The Rev. Ernest Barkow, a son, is the pastor of a Lutheran church in Swanville, Minn.

Joseph H. Lyons, Union Leader, Taken by Death

Joseph H. Lyons, 59 years old, international representative of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, died yesterday at his home, 25 North Mayfield avenue, following a year's illness. He had been active in union affairs for thirty years, and for the last decade had his headquarters at the international headquarters of the organization in Washington, D. C. His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Burns Lyons, survives. Requiem high mass at 10 o'clock Friday in St. Catherine of Sienna church will be followed by burial in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Delay Inquest on Fan's Death; Hunt Assailant

The inquest into the death of Earl Healy, 38 years old, Detroit real estate salesman, who died as a result of injuries incurred in a café quarrel Saturday night, was continued yesterday to next Saturday to give police more time in which to apprehend the assailant. The dispute occurred in the Café de Alex, 58 East Delaware place. Healy favored Notre Dame. A Northwestern fan at the next table struck him with a bottle during the argument, and Healy died on Monday night at the Passavant hospital.

CAN'T EAT • THAT'S A SIGN OF CLOGGED INTESTINES!

AFRAID to eat good, nourishing food? Watch out—that means your health's in serious danger!

X-RAY SHOWS waste clogging the intestines! Correct this trouble by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

© 1931, Standard Brands Incorporated

If your Stomach says "NO!"—

the chances are 9 to 1 you are a victim of Clogged Intestines. READ WHY!

A MAN'S meal. Good, liberal portions . . . solid, substantial food.

But wait a minute. That stomach of yours! You know the price you'll pay. Distress. Discomfort. Far into the night . . .

Doctors have made important discoveries about so-called "stomach trouble" in recent years. And here is the amazing thing they say:

Most cases of indigestion—"acid stomach," heartburn, that "stuffed" feeling after meals—do not originate in the stomach at all.

Instead, they are signs of serious trouble lower down . . . of poisons backing up from stagnating food wastes in your intestines!

Now to correct this trouble you need—not drugs and pills—but a simple food-remedy. For this purpose physicians, almost universally, recommend fresh yeast.

Eaten daily, Fleischmann's Yeast encourages normal elimination . . . increases secretion of the juices that help you digest your food.

Thus your entire digestive system is gently cleansed, stimulated. Energy returns. Appetite picks up. And you find that your digestion doesn't trouble you any more!

Try it! Add Fleischmann's Yeast to your regular diet—3 cakes a day. At grocers', restaurants and soda fountains. Directions are plainly printed on the label.

IMPORTANT!—Fleischmann's Yeast for health is sold only in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label. It is yeast in its fresh, effective form, the kind famous doctors advise! Rich in vitamins B, G, D.

GASOLINE ALLEY—A POSITIVE SIGN

SURELY YOU CAN HAVE PRIGGY IN SOME EVENING, LORA.
HE WAS THE ONE WHO SUGGESTED IT, HE'S REALLY VERY NICE.
HE SAID HE WAS SORRY HE KEPT ME OUT SO LATE THE OTHER NIGHT AND HE WANTED TO SQUARE HIMSELF WITH YOU, COUSIN PHYLLIS.
I'M SURE HE CAN. IT WAS ONLY A MISUNDERSTANDING.
I THINK YOU'LL LIKE HIM. HE'S DIFFERENT FROM THE OTHER BOYS.
LORA, THIS MUST BE SERIOUS. I'VE HEARD YOU SAY SO MANY TIMES THAT BOYS ARE ALL ALIKE.

Gaudy Life of Lawyer Fallon Put Into Book

Fish Jury Victories and Pretty Women.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"The Great Mouthpiece," by Gene Fowler [Covici-Friede].

"THE GREAT MOUTHPIECE" is a biography of William J. Fallon, who won for himself that title as the megaphone of Broadway. He died three years ago at the age of 41, after a career as a trial lawyer and a man about town so spectacular as to seem the fabrication of a fiction writer. Mr. Fowler must have felt that his life offered more of a scope for a novel than for a plain biographer, for he has set down the life of William J. Fallon after the fashion of a picaresque novel. He has used his fertile and skilled imagination in putting conversations into the mouths of his characters which are, if not detectagraph transcriptions, thrilling records, for they are exactly the kind of words put together in exactly the sentences that one would expect them to use.

The result is that "The Great Mouthpiece" has every thrill of a novel, and it is, so far as the ordinary reader is concerned, actually a novel. But here is a character which even a brilliant novelist would hesitate to invent. His doings are, at times, almost too fantastic. All of which only goes to prove that you can't improve on life and the facts of human relationships for fictional raw material. Improve on it? You can't equal it!

Mr. Fowler makes his hero what he labels another person in one of his chapters, "A Colossus of Rogues." Fallon's career as a rogue began when he was being born. He fooled the family doctor time after time—each time described by Mr. Fowler with the details of life in 1886 in the College of Physicians and Surgeons and its environs. When Willie Fallon went to the Catholic school at Fordham he was the master mind of most of the roguery among the boys there. His years at law school were as miscellaneous. To the day of his death he liked a good, rough, practical joke, even if it rebounded on himself.

When he emerged into the practice of law Fallon was a handsome young "Irisher" with flaming hair (which his enemies said he hennaed), with a gift of gab rare even in that brilliant-tongued race, and a nerve that was neither subdued nor awed by anything or anybody.

The trial of Thomas Mott Osborne brought Fallon national fame. It made him good "copy" for the newspapers, a characteristic which he never lost during the rest of his almost twenty years. He was always doing something spectacular, almost always getting away with it. Little by little his notoriety drew to him cases which caused on their faces lost, but which by his brilliant tricks were—incredibly—won. He was said to be the great mouthpiece of Rothstein. The whole underworld of New York knew him, trusted him, used him.

Fallon, in his private life, if such a life can ever be said to be private, seemed the lemon of Broadway dry. He ate, drank, breathed Broadway and the underworld. A reporter once asked him:

"Would you say you'd spent a quarter of a million around here?"

Fallon replied, "A quarter of a million? Why, I once collected that much in two weeks."

Until he was twenty-nine he had never taken a drink. He became one of the famous drunkards of his day. Peggy Joyce was once a client of his in a matter of smuggling jewels into the U. S. A. His memento of that case was to present Peggy with a handsome motor car, instead of a bill for services rendered. He fell madly in love with Gertrude Vanderbilt, another famous Broadway figure, and stayed in love with her (with side trips) until his death.

Good morning!

"Der Hampelmann" is a plotful, tuneful musical farce comedy that is easy to understand and should please English as well as German movie fans.

The story is ridiculous, but engagingly so. The players are expert and well versed in the art of putting over situations.

The plot evolves around a young baron who poses as a life sized mechanical doll in order to enter the boudoir of the girl of his dreams—who happens to be married.

Judging from the laughter about me, some of the lines must be vurr' vurr' funny.

Paul Henckels — Ferdinand Hart
Ferdinand Asper — Alexander Granach
Martin Hersberg — Gustav Puttjer
Werner Schott — Albert Karchow
Dr. Phillip Manning — Horst von Harbou

Waiting is terrible! So is war. You have both in this strangely gripping picture built around an incident in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870.

Twelve grenadiers and their captain—all who are left of a regiment—are set to guard a road against advancing French troops. They take possession of an old mill that faces the road.

The miller, his wife, and ward, Dora, leave, under orders. Dora, however, comes back, for she and the captain have read love's message in each other's eyes and she feels that she must remain by his side come weal, come woe.

The film's pull lies in its simplicity of presentation. Thirteen brave, ragged men, covering, with undaunted courage, the movements of their army! Waiting. Singing as they wait! One of them, and only one, gives way to brief, wild hysteria, but Capt. Burk has not dealt with these chaps for five years without learning how to handle them. Conrad Veidt as the captain, and the other men in the cast were very real to me. The girl? Not so good. Amateurish and a bit mawkish, I thought. But she serves to etch clearly a line or two about the captain's character.

Photography and sound are excellent, and the film has been well directed. While there's not a smile in "Thirteen Men and a Girl"—or "The Last Company," as the film was called in Europe where it was first released—I liked it.

A revue of fall fashions for the benefit of the Rosary college endowment fund will be presented by the Chicago club to the Rosary alumnæ this evening in the college social hall in River Forest. Members of the alumnæ will act as mannequins. Miss Eleanor Dowling of Oak Park is general chairman of the fashion show committee. Her assistants include Miss Elizabeth Barrett, Miss Mary Kelly, Miss Mildred Anderson, and Miss Mary Alice Gallagher.

Mary Garden in Chicago on Her Way to Denver

Miss Mary Garden, whose career was associated intimately with the development of the Chicago Civic Opera company, stopped in Chicago yesterday on her way to Denver, where she will give a concert. She departed last night at 11:30 o'clock on the Burlington railway, and will return to Chicago before Nov. 11, when she is to sing in a concert in Orchestra hall in the evening for the benefit of the Country Home for Convalescent Children at Prince Crossing, which was founded in 1911 by Mrs. William J. Chalmers. Miss Garden called on Mrs. Chalmers and a few other friends last night before making her departure.

THE MATILDA HUNTER MURDER

HARRY STEPHEN KEELER

"A triple-length leviathan among mystery thrillers!"

says VINCENT STARRETT, noted mystery critic. "Properly it should be described after the fashion of circus posters. It's the whoppingest thriller that has dropped from the press since Wilkie Collins ceased to function."

Think of it, you mystery fans. Over 260,000 words, 741 pages, the equal of three average length mystery novels! Never before published in any form whatever. All for $2.50! The American News Company, among others, ranks Keeler as one of "The Big Four" with Wallace, Oppenheim, and Van Dine. "The Matilda Hunter Murder" shows Keeler, the Master Mystery Maker, at his best.

Tells Rotarians Public Clings to Pet Mistakes

Albert Wiggam Attacks Popular Notions.

If you think minister's sons usually go wrong; or that brilliant persons are subject to nervous breakdowns; or that one man is as good as another; or that child prodigies usually are failures as adults; or that beautiful women are dumb, you're merely one of the millions in this country who have been deceived by popular fallacies.

So argued Albert Edward Wiggam, author and lecturer, in an address yesterday before the Rotary club. He gave a list of what he termed popular notions and said they were all wrong. Limited time prevented the speaker from defending all his assertions, he said, but he discussed some of them and in his writings he has defended them in more detail.

Additional notions which have universal belief, Mr. Wiggam said, are these:

That practice makes perfect; that ostriches put their heads in the sand; that gazing at the back of a person's head makes him turn around; that scholars do not succeed in business; that there is such a thing as an undertow in a body of water; that statisticians are liars; that you can't measure public opinion; that you can read a man's character by gazing at his face or tell his future by the stars; that a mother by her actions may cause certain birthmarks in her baby; that tight hat bands cause baldness; that women drivers are as good as men; that a bull is made angry by the sight of red; that females are not as proficient mechanically as men; that healthy cousins should not marry; that there is such a thing as telepathy; that great men usually have poor parents; that the brilliant intellectual mind is prone to seek alcohol as a stimulant; that criminals are born that way; that brainy parents have brainy children.

"The belief one becomes conscious of that a steady gaze at the back of one's head is universal," the speaker declared. "Yet experiments at Stanford college have shown that the concentrated gaze of a hundred persons on another person has failed to affect that person.

"The marine department of the United States government has made thousands of experiments to determine if there is such a thing as an undertow, but never have been able to find one.

"It has been estimated that $25,000,000 annually is paid in Chicago alone to persons who claim to be able to foretell the future. It has been proved again and again that it is impossible to do so, no matter what method is used.

"There are thousands of men employed by big corporations to judge the character of employes by studying their faces. It has been proved conclusively that a man's character has nothing to with his face. On a recent occasion eighty-eight such character readers were asked to judge a group of college students, male and female. All the subjects were clad alike. Only three of the eighty-eight experts could tell which was a young man and which was a young woman! And every one of them disagreed on what characters the faces showed."

Yale Public Health Professor to Talk to Nurses Today

Dr. Charles Edward A. Winslow, professor of public health at Yale university, will be the principal speaker today at the opening session of the four day meeting of the Central council for nursing education.

Delegates to the meeting will hear Dr. Winslow's speech at a luncheon in the Blackstone hotel. He will address the group on "Who Is Responsible for Educating Nurses?"

According to Dr. Winslow, the nursing schools are turning out a volume of graduates which cannot possibly be absorbed under the increasing pressure of unemployment of nurses.

Three U. of C. Educators Aid Denison Centenary

Three educators from the University of Chicago will participate in the celebration of the centennial anniversary on Oct. 16 to 18 of the founding of Denison university at Granville, O.

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, professor of biblical and patristic Greek; Dr. Paul Shorey, professor of philology and Dr. Charles E. Gilkey, dean of the chapel, are the University of Chicago men who will be at the celebration.

Dr. William R. Harper, the founder and first president of the Midway institution, received his first teaching experience at Denison.

Boy Farmer Spells Success as 'Hereford'

Sells His Pet Calf for Club's Top Price.

BY PAUL POTTER.

A farm boy from Iroquois county, Illinois, went home last night to tell his parents he had "topped" the final weekly 4-H club beef calf auction at the Chicago stockyards, and to show his pals a check for $118.12 that represents the fruits of his daily care of a fat Hereford calf this summer.

The boy is George Bauer. He was one of 111 boys from Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, and North Dakota to place their beef animals on the International Live Stock exposition's auction yesterday afternoon.

Farm boys and girls of the middle west have realized more than $1,000,000 during the eight years they have been selling calves fed under local club leadership at this auction. Yesterday's sales set a new record of 2,412 calves sold for the year, eclipsing last season's record of 149 animals. The top price young Bauer received was $11.25 per hundredweight, within twenty-five cents of the season's highest price. The average price for all calves bought this year is $9.45.

Col. Carey M. Jones, who has lent his auctioneering services throughout the eight years to help foster interest in beef production among youngsters, was seen in action by a crowd of parents and friends of the calf feeders yesterday.

"Many of these youngsters are getting their first taste of making money for themselves," declared Matt Parkhurst, in charge of the sales. "They are the making of some fine farmers of the future."

Ike Brown, veteran cattle buyer for a large Chicago packer, yesterday praised the efforts of the youngsters and the high quality of meat animals they had produced. He said that some of them had been handicapped, however, because their parents or local club leaders had permitted them to start feeding inferior quality calves.

School for Flower Judging Opens Today at Graemere Hotel

Many women and others interested in community flower shows are registered for a midwest school of floral judging which opens today in the Graemere hotel, near Garfield park. Programs have been arranged by C. J. Hudson of the west parks landscaping department.

As president of the Garden Club of Illinois, which is sponsoring the school, Mrs. William L. Karcher of Freeport will open the first of the three day sessions. Her talk will be followed this afternoon by a discussion of the principles of flower show judging by C. C. Hottes, associate editor of Better Homes and Gardens.

Other speakers include Mrs. Maude L. Jacobs and Prof. Alex Laurie. A tour has been arranged for tomorrow through Garfield park conservatory, where August L. Koch, chief florist, will lecture. Friday's session features Prof. P. H. Elwood Jr., whose subject is "Garden Judging."

Yankee Shows Electron Photos to Scientists

Millikan Displays Work of California Colleagues.

ROME, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Invention of a microscope for observing and measuring the velocity of electrons was announced today by Prof. Robert A. Millikan, American winner of the Nobel prize. He told about it at the meeting here of 50 world famous physicists.

The instrument announced by Prof. Millikan consists of an X-ray microscope, which he termed a multiple crystal spectrometer. He credited its invention to Profs. Jesse Dumond and Harry Kirkpatrick of the California Institute of Technology, located at Pasadena.

Dr. Millikan projected photographs made with the machine, and described its invention as giving the first evidence of the inner workings of the dynamic instead of the static atom.

The apparatus consists of 50 spectroscopes arranged in an arc, along which sweeps an X-ray. The photographs showed the activities of two electrons in beryllium, an hard, silver-white metallic element.

The electron is approximately 1,700 times smaller than the atom, yet the invention caught it in action. Dr. Millikan explained that the apparatus had been perfected this summer and that Profs. Dumond and Kirkpatrick had examined only the one metallic element. Further researches are now in progress.

The nuclei of atoms, whose movements were demonstrated, are conceived, for the sake of convenience, as miniature suns, immensely heavy, about which revolve a cloud of electrons, the whole forming an atom.

Whether atoms are actually tiny solar systems, the physicists do not know. Most of them doubt that the analogy is close, but today they showed the existence of this almost infinitely tiny organization.

Photographs of the trails which the nuclei of atoms leave behind when they are ejected were exhibited by Prof. S. Goudsmit of the University of Michigan. These tracks are luminous trails left upon a specially prepared atmosphere.

Prof. Neils Bohr, Danish Nobel prize winner, and author of the "Solar System Conception of Atoms," showed how he approached the study of the protons—that is, the nuclei of atoms—by observing the action of electrons outside the nucleus.

He and Gouldsmit showed how they figure the atomic nucleus, or heart, to have a charge of electricity one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight times smaller than that of the electron. For a long time physicists have agreed fairly well that the nucleus of an atom is about 1,800 times "heavier" than an electron.

Charts were shown to prove that these atomic hearts move with a spin of their own, which is like the spin of electrons of which scientists have been obtaining evidence for some time.

Dr. Arthur Compton of the University of Chicago, also a Nobel prize winner in physics, amplified the discussions.

Evangelist's Weekly Radio Talks Cease; Suit for $500,000

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A damage suit for $500,000 was filed in Supreme court today by the Churchill Evangelistic Association, Inc., against the Columbia Broadcasting system and the Buffalo Broadcasting corporation.

The association also demanded a temporary injunction to keep all Columbia programs off the air from the Buffalo company's stations until such time as the defendant companies restore the Rev. Clinton H. Churchill's weekly "Back Home Hour" to the national network.

The hour was discontinued last April shortly after the control of station WKBW passed from the association to the Buffalo Broadcasting corporation. The association alleges they hold a contract whereby the "Back Home Hour" should go on the air without charge from the local station and 30 stations of the Columbia system until November, 1932. The $500,000 damages are asked as recompense for the time the association hour has been off the air.

Supreme Court Justice James E. Norton directed that further arguments on the suit be made on Oct. 21.

The Marriage Racket

By VINA DELMAR

SYNOPSIS.

Irma Corbin and Don Philippe de Rodriguez, hoofers, with their pianist, Tom Libby, arrive in Thrace for a week's vaudeville engagement. A convention is being held in the town and the hotels are overflowing. Philippe grabs the first vacancy, Tom and Irma inquire at the town's leading hostelry, where Tom runs into an old friend, Bill Fitzroy. Tom finds a cot and Bill turns over his room to Irma. Bill invites Irma to a dinner party in the hotel, where she meets Wallace Graham, a widower. Wallace has a young daughter, Mildred, who has grown up under the supervision of her Aunt Tessie. Bill and Wallace shower invitations on the pretty dancer. Wallace asks Irma to be his wife. Bill's proposal to her is of a different nature. Irma quarrels with Philippe and quits the act. She marries Wallace and settles down to a dull existence with him. A baby son arrives to compensate her for any flaws in the marriage system. The baby becomes the center of her universe. Wallace's lifelong ambition is a European voyage. A paid up endowment policy makes the trip possible. Irma reluctantly agrees to leave the baby. She is dreadfully upset by a letter received in Paris from Aunt Tessie. Wallace tries unsuccessfully to change their return passage to an earlier date.

INSTALLMENT XXI.

PARISIAN GAYETY.

It was a great surprise to Wallace that Irma was willing to go out that evening with the Dexters.

"Why not?" she said. "I don't help anything by staying in this damn room listening to the noise."

"That's right, but I didn't know how you'd feel about it."

Wallace dressed carefully. The Dexters were "smart" Americans. There was no telling who'd be in on their party before the Paris stars paled. Wallace kept an eye on Irma's toilette. Her moments of despair and worry generally manifested themselves in uneven makeup, soiled gloves or a careless coiffure. But tonight, he noted with pleasure, Irma was correct in every detail and very lovely. Nobody could be lovelier, he thought.

The Dexters called at seven thirty. Mrs. Dexter, in pink chiffon, was a commonplace sight beside Irma, in a red and black gown. She had bought it at McIntyre's for twenty-four eighty-five. It was on sale because nobody else in Thrace dared to buy anything so bizarre.

Mr. Dexter, thirty-five, plump and cautiously flirtatious, said, "Well, well, well, Mrs. Graham, you are worth coming to Paris to see."

They dined at the Café de la Paix. Throughout dinner the gentlemen drank their wine and asked each other where the harm was in having wine with one's dinner. "Why can't we do this in the states?" they demanded of each other.

Lalla Dexter had an inexhaustable supply of addresses, which she kept giving Irma. One place sold hand made lingerie incredibly cheap. Another specialized in purses. A third handled only the best furs.

Irma dutifully copied down all the addresses. It was easier than to protest. She wished that her hostess was interesting, so that for a short time at least she could forget that there were two weeks before her boat sailed.

After dinner they went to the Folies Bergere. Irma was bored. The production was on a par with an amateur performance, she thought. The show was over at midnight, and the Dexters suggested Zelli's. Irma threw a pleading glance at Wallace, but it was too late. He had accepted.

Nobody could be lovelier, he thought.

Zelli's had not a particularly foreign atmosphere. Irma wondered if, barring the genial Joe Zelli, there was a European in the place. A peroxided hostess would not have surprised her. The table to table telephone system held her interest for a time and the expression of George Dexter's face when he spied some acquaintance was an amusing moment. George was the sort who liked nothing better than meeting some one he knew. It gave him a comfortable feeling of being a widely known person.

"Lalla," he cried excitedly, "there's Russell Byrnes and Kemp Austin. Waiter! No, never mind, I'll telephone. What do you think, Lalla? I guess I'd better go over myself."

He went over himself. In his absence his wife told the Grahams something about the gentlemen at the other table.

"Russell Byrnes is tremendously wealthy," she said. "A nice chap, too. His father died, leaving ten thousand dollars to Russell and his brother. They decided that five thousand apiece was nothing, so they flipped a coin for who'd get the ten. Can you imagine that? Russell won, and he ran the ten thousand to a million in a few years. Then he gave his brother an hundred thousand dollars. Russell's got a couple of million now, I guess, and he's just as modest and sweet. There's nothing high hat about him at all. I don't know Kemp Austin well. We just met him once before. O, George is having them over."

Thrace had acquainted Irma with the high enthusiasms married women sometimes feel for friends of their husbands. With recent discoveries in mind she looked from Lalla Dexter's bright eyes to the men who were approaching. Kemp Austin was chubby faced and short, with brown, wavy hair. Irma was able to see at a glance how one could prefer Russell Byrnes to George Dexter. Byrnes was a distinctive type and unusually handsome. He was six feet three and had broad shoulders and a strong, straight back. His face was a forceful, pleasant face. Brown eyes, dark reddish hair, strong, white teeth.

"Isn't he good looking?" Lalla whispered.

"Very."

Introductions were made and the men sat down. Irma was moved to pity for Lalla and her pathetic little advances to the great man. Irma could not bear to watch Lalla's eyes as she fixed them on Byrnes and said reproachfully, "Why didn't you tell us you were coming to Paris, Mr. Byrnes? How long have you been here?"

"Two weeks."

"When do you sail?"

"Wednesday."

"Why, that's the day after tomorrow."

"Yes, I guess it is."

Irma's heart jumped excitedly. Here was some one who had a cabin on a boat that sailed Wednesday. She looked at Byrnes with a new interest. Wasn't he lucky to be sailing Wednesday.

"I wish you weren't going Wednesday," Lalla pursued. She pouted prettily.

"I'm going Wednesday, too," Kemp Austin put in, "but nobody cares about that."

Apparently he was quite right. Nobody even answered him. Lalla's eyes went right on making rash promises to Russell Byrnes while George whispered a swift, short history of the man to Wallace. Kemp made a despairing gesture which Irma observed. She smiled sympathetically and he said, "Thank God somebody knows I'm here. Would you dance with me?"

"I'd love to," she said. Her answer was no idle pleasantry. There was a plan forming in her mind and at the moment she wanted nothing more than a few uninterrupted words with Kemp Austin.

He danced very badly, but strove in other ways to make his company stimulating.

"Do you know," he said, "Russ and I were having a discussion at our table just before Dexter came over for us as to who had the prettiest women, France or America. I kept saying America had. You see, I knew you were an American, and I kept staring at you all the time we were arguing."

"O, you're too nice."

"I wish I were staying longer. I'd like to know you better."

"I wish I were going Wednesday."

"Why?"

She answered without proper consideration of Mr. Austin's type. By the time she realized that his question had been merely an invitation to confess that she had fallen in love with him at first sight it was too late.

"Why, I'd like to go home Wednesday because my baby has met with an accident in America, and I'm worried about him," she explained. "You see, the boats are so crowded that we can't go for another two weeks, and I'm worried sick about him."

Mr. Austin's disinterested "O" revealed that she hadn't given the right answer. She plunged on. There was nothing further to lose now, and perhaps she could still regain the silly young man's attention.

"Of course, if I could get some nice young man to give his cabin up to me I'd be no end grateful and appreciative. I'd mention him in my prayers and everything."

It was no good. Mr. Austin murmured something about getting home to business, and the dance ended.

They returned to the table. Irma's keen young mind reviewed the scene she had just played with Kemp Austin. She saw its weak points, wishing desperately that she had seen them sooner. First of all, nobody wants to hear about a stranger's troubles. Kemp Austin hadn't come to Zelli's to hear about sick babies. He had come to have a good time. Anything that interfered with his purpose irritated him and made him resentful against the person responsible. Secondly, a woman who yearns to get home to her baby isn't likely to prove interesting company for a philandering male.

These thoughts ran through Irma's head as she sat staring absently at Russell Byrnes. Well, she would not make the same mistake twice. If she got a chance to speak to him, perhaps she would be almost home by this time next week.

The chance came sooner than she expected. Wallace asked Lalla to dance. It was obviously an effort for Lalla to tear herself away from Russell, but remembering her duties as a hostess, she permitted Wallace to guide her into the midst of the dancing crowd.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

N. G.: IT IS BELIEVED THAT graying of the hair may be retarted by giving special attention to your general health, and extra local care to the hair—brushing it morning and night—and massaging the scalp with the fingertips. My leaflet on the hair may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Indifference Loses Friends.

"Dear Miss Blake: I love a fellow who liked me but ceases to come around any more. The reason for this is I did not make myself attentive to him. Please advise. BERE."

The most natural consequence Bebe. If you wish to make and hold friends you must show interest and enthusiasm. Indifference keeps others away.

Man Who Takes Role of Family Supporter Is Choicest Husband

BY DORIS BLAKE.

You have no idea how often there comes to my observation the problem of the girl in love with a young man with dependents he feels morally bound to support. This necessitates marriage postponement, to which, I find, the girl submits with very little grace.

Well, she's young, as a rule. She's eager to marry. She's impatient with the young man's devotion to his family, usually a widowed mother; sometimes, there is an additional financial drain of a couple of younger brothers and sisters.

Being young and interested in her own cause, a common habit of youth, being impatient as only youth can be, we older ones cannot be too unsympathetic. All we can do is to try to make youth see that life exacts certain compromises that cannot be escaped. Maybe we meet up with them in early life. Maybe later.

In all events, we simply cannot order our lives as we order our groceries, expecting immediate and perfect dispatch. If we happen to fall in love with a young man who cannot afford to marry at once because of moral obligations—well, that's our bad luck for the time being. But it's one of those compromises, if made graciously, that may turn into the best stroke of luck later.

You can't escape such a test without the character coming out the better for it. Character that will serve well in happy marriage building. Any stroke of character molding that can make one see the other's side of a situation is for the common good.

It's my observation that young men who do adopt the rôle of family supporter are earth's choicest gifts as husbands. They have a deep sense of responsibility toward home, and toward their loved ones. They are trained in the money-end of home upkeep. But above all, they are unselfish men. They are men worth waiting a few years for if need be.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Pitiful Plea for Bicycle.

A tiny woman, in frail health, and the mother of four children, is struggling bravely to be self-supporting. Three of the children are taken care of by semi-charitable means, but the eldest boy is trying to help his mother by delivering papers in the morning. His paper route was covered by the aid of a bicycle, which he bought with pennies saved over a period of more than a year. A short time ago the beloved bike was stolen, and he's broken-hearted. Won't you see if you can get him another through your column?

O. F."

Surely there must be a bicycle somewhere in the city to take the place of the one our young breadwinner recently lost.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Superfluous Sweetness.

At our office there are three assistant managers. Recently a new one was installed and the dignity of his position duly impressed upon us all. After an hour or so the excitement died down and we resumed work. A few minutes later my pal's blue tweeds stopped beside my desk. She did not speak, so without looking up, I blithely chirped, "Yes, dear?" in a high falsetto voice. No response! Then a deep voice drawled, "Is that your customary address to new managers?" Too late I remembered that my pal wasn't the only wearer of blue tweeds.

Fat Men

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles, if you will take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 4 weeks and go light on pastries, potatoes and fatty meats—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition.

Just try one 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 4 weeks. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and by reducing surplus fat ought to live years longer. Get Kruschen at any live druggist in America with the understanding that you must be joyfully satisfied or money back.

W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y., writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen, I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25% more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger. I get up feeling 100%. Kruschen sure is great!"

Food Talk.

"Please tell me how to tell a good mushroom. My brother went mushroom hunting and brought home all kind and we don't know which are good. Please tell me, too, how we can test them without taking a chance?"

My advice is blunt and to the point—don't eat them! If you are in a position to consult an expert—one who can see them—you might be safe in eating them. I have known cases, personally, of such serious poisoning resulting from the eating of domestically gathered mushrooms that I feel you would be far better off to avoid any except those on sale at a reliable market, or those which may be purchased in cans.

Stringent precautions are taken all over the world to protect people from eating poisonous fungi, which are so easily confused with edible fungi. An excellent example of this occurs in France particularly.

There all mushrooms—and the French like more than one variety—which appear for sale in the markets must be approved by government experts.

It seems a shame, when mushrooms are such a treat, to have to put the taboo mark on yours, Mrs. E. J. R. However, I don't want to be held responsible for doctor or hospital bills—not to mention more unfortunate results.

If you decide to get some from your neighborhood grocer and would like some recipes, I'll be glad to forward them to you.

CINNAMON TOAST.

Cut slices of white bread about one and one-half inches thick. Remove the crusts from them. Cut each slice into two pieces. Toast each on all four sides. Then dip in hot melted butter and roll in a mixture of cinnamon and sugar—using three parts of sugar to one part of cinnamon. Place in a shallow pan in a hot oven [425 degrees Fahrenheit] for about five minutes. Serve immediately.

BRAISED HAM.

1 slice of smoked ham—about 1 inch thick
1 cup of brown sugar
2 tbsps. of dry mustard
½ cup of vinegar

Put the ham in cold water to freshen. Remove in thirty minutes' time and place in a roasting pan. Make a paste of the sugar, mustard, and vinegar and cover the ham. Bake for an hour in a moderate over [350 degrees Fahrenheit], basting frequently.

Correct Oily Hair with Simple Course of Home Treatments

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Since our new hats have gone Renominded and jilted the old mate, the hair, for its gayer rival, the eye, we've begun looking the old mate over more critically to see just why the eye gets all the attention.

When there are such definite signs of separation, as between hat and hair at the moment, some good friend should intervene.

Mebbe the hat got mad because it was used so often to hide hair that wasn't keeping its side of the youth bargain. The fact remains that there's no more hiding behind hat brims or under crowns. So, if the hair is oily or dry or dandruffy, there's either going to be a lot of explaining or a serious period of reconditioning. But no up to date woman explains anything these days. She knows an alibi isn't worth a nickel.

If her hair is oily, she takes it down to a professional for a course of corrective treatments, sometimes oil treatments, strange as it may seem. Or, she puts herself on a more rigid program of home care, by which means she can get the most effective of results, too.

Oily hair isn't nice to look at. Less nice to try to handle. It can be corrected. Now there isn't any fear of washing oily hair too often. I mean there shouldn't be. Once a week; twice a week. But wash it with an alcoholic extract of "green soap." And rinse very, very thoroughly. Dry the hair and scalp thoroughly and apply a good oily hair lotion.

Here's one recommended by Dr. Irwin C. Sutton, former associate in the dermatology section of the Mayo clinic: Pilocarpine hydrochlorid, 0.25 gms.; ammonia water, 4.00 gms.; spirits of lavender, 24.00 gms.; spirits of ether, 24.00 gms.; 25 per cent alcohol, add to 240.00 gms. Rub in well to scalp and hair daily, if necessary. If the scalp becomes too dry, apply on alternate days. Apply lotion by means of medicine dropper into parts in the hair and brush well into hair from the scalp. Avoid all oily and greasy foods in the diet.

Sanitary Risk
in carelessly-made substitutes for Kotex

SAFETY should be your first concern in sanitary protection. Health safety. The kind of safety you are certain of in Kotex, the pad that is used in leading hospitals.

But how about those nameless substitutes, of whose makers you know nothing? What assurance have you of their sanitary safety? Who made them? Where? How? Are you sure you'd use them, if you knew their origin?

There's one certain way of avoiding risk. Ask for Kotex. When buying sanitary pads already wrapped, ask the clerk, "Is this real Kotex?" Thus be sure you are getting no inferior substitute.

Kotex is splendidly comfortable. It may be worn with perfect safety on either side. Soft, filmy layers make adjustment easy. Treated to deodorize. Readily disposable.

Junior League Efficient, Too, in Giving Tea

BY THALIA——.

THE Junior league really does take the palm, or the cake, or whatever it is, for efficiency, you know. Added to everything else they've done, they gave a tea party yesterday afternoon for a couple of hundred people in one fairly large and two fairly small rooms, and if that isn't efficiency I don't know what is. The entire league membership and the provisional members—44 of them there are this year—were invited to the housewarming party in the new clubhouse in the Italian court, and to all appearances everybody came. The night, shall we say crowding, didn't prevent it from being a gay tea, though. The receiving line, composed of Miss Dorothy Schmidt, the league president; Mrs. Walter Field McLallen III., and Mrs. Bruce Thorne, greeted the guests at the door.

The tin waste basket was called into service as an umbrella stand [another evidence of efficiency]. There were so many people about to get more than patchy glimpses of the main room with their bright scarlet sateen drapes over white silk under curtains, the red and white painted cabinets, and the modern chromium tubular chairs with oyster white cushions, the white Nile walled office room with black painted desks and tables, and the little kitchenette with a gaudy red, black, and white curtain to conceal the pantry and sink. Mrs. Shreve Palmer, who designed the interior; Miss Janet Kirk, Mrs. James Waller Campbell, and some of the others took turns pouring at the tea table.

Miss Tiekin was enlisting monkey dance girls and African spear dancers for the children's plays, and Miss Blackman, with a pair of wooden clogs in one hand and a notebook in the other, was getting leaguers to say they'd appear in costume at the county fair at the Stadium next week.

Several Parties Are Planned for the Paul Gardners.

The Paul Gardners are to have a number of affairs over the week-end while they're here as guests of the John A. Stevensons. Mrs. Stevenson is giving a luncheon for Mrs. Gardner on Friday, and Mrs. James C. Hutchins is giving a dinner party for them Friday evening. Saturday they're to go to the E. Newton Perrys' large luncheon at the Casino before the Yale-Chicago football game, and Mrs. Bruce Ogilvie is giving a dinner for them in the evening.

The Edward Linns are having weekend guests, too—the John Ordways from St. Paul, Minn., and they're going to the Perrys' luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird Bell are to give a dinner dance for Miss Margaret Bell, debutante daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Hamill of Winnetka, on Friday evening, Nov. 13, at the Casino.

Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams is to give a dinner party next Wednesday evening for Miss Margaret Chapman, one of the Adams Chapmans' debutante, after which the young people are to go to the theater.

The annual benefit tea at the Chester Johnson galleries for the Public Health Nurse society is to be on Friday afternoon, Oct. 23. You can stroll in and out the concert, see the latest modern pictures on exhibition, and have your palm read by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter [if she's home by then] or Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins, or Mrs. Arthur Meeker, or Mrs. Max Epstein, or Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, or Mrs. J. E. McCormick, or Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, or Mrs. Harold Foreman, or Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, or Mrs. Thomas Nelson Dolger, Mrs. Walter Paepcke, Mrs. E. T. Erminger Jr., or Mrs. Guy Johnson.

Mrs. Herman H. Hettler gets my vote for being the most original hostess in town, because of the widow party she gave Saturday night. The guests were veritable widows, too, copies of them, and they all wore long lead dresses, and the affair was most successful.

Selections Are Selected for St. Luke's Fashion Show.

The lucky debutantes who have been picked to be glorified in clothes seen in the St. Luke's fashion show on Thursday afternoon and evening are Betty Brown, Margaret Chapin, Marjorie Horton, Polly Perry, Joy May Dickinson, Florence Carr and Eleanor Jerrems. Mrs. Charles Deering assumed the committee luncheon meeting at Mrs. Augustus Eddy's the other day, telling about the two women who arrived at last year's show, way at the end of the time because they wanted a separate table. They had a backseat crowd with them to while away the waiting time. Mrs. Glore is one of the cigarette girl committee, and Mrs. Raymond Ashcraft of the flower vendors.

On the calendar—A meeting of the Art Institute club tomorrow at the Drake hotel, with luncheon at 12:45 o'clock. . . . A meeting, also tomorrow, at 3 o'clock at the Fortnightly, at which the woman's auxiliary of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness will give a report and show motion pictures of its work. Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter and Mrs. Roger Pullock will pour at the tea hour. . . . Mrs. Stanley Zaring's for tomorrow afternoon for the Service club board. . . . the first open meeting this season of the American music society, and tea at the Fortnightly on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 25, at 5 o'clock, the program to be excerpts from the opera "Roseanne" based on Rose Marie?] . . . the Sunset league's annual benefit, a Cuban night, at the Stevens hotel, the evening of Nov. 7, hours 8 to 2 o'clock. A Monte Carlo party to be given by the juniors of the Evanston Industrial welfare society, at the Shawnee country club on Friday, Nov. 13. The price is $6 per couple, and everybody's to be given $2,500 in fake money so they can gamble their heads off at roulette, baccarat, etc.

There's to be a stable show at the Skokie Country club on Saturday, and the children of the members are to ride. One of the events is a race for the golf players who have been seen on a horse before, and another is a polo game between the caddies and the horsemen, to be followed by a return match at golf.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Three widows of former Presidents have accepted the invitation of the Yorktown celebration committee to be present at the ceremonies in commemoration of the Yorktown surrender of Cornwallis. They are Mrs. William Howard Taft, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and Mrs. Thomas J. Preston. Mrs. Preston was the widow of President Grover Cleveland.

Princess Ruspoli di Poggio Suasa of Italy, who was in Washington as the guest of Mrs. James Francis Sullivan of Philadelphia for several days, left today with Mrs. Sullivan to motor to the Yorktown celebration, stopping en route at various places in Virginia where the visiting Colonial Dames will be entertained, as a part of the ceremony attending the celebration of Cornwallis' surrender.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Belknap of Chicago, who returned recently from a prolonged trip to Europe, are spending a few days at the Mayflower.

Miss Ann Madison Washington, great-great-grandniece of Gen. George Washington, was the guest of honor and speaker at the weekly luncheon at the Willard today of the Woman's National Press club.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

The wrapped bodice of this lovely dress is opened at the neck to show a vestee of wool lace; while the dress itself is made of a wool crêpe in dark green. An applied band of the wool lace at the neckline is carried down either side of the bodice. The tiny bows repeat the lace trim.

The pattern, 2658, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4¾ yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard of 35 inch allover lace.

"Nothing Like It" Say Lovely Women

New face powder stays on longer—prevents large pores

In Mello-glo, French scientists have developed a new wonderful face powder which reproduces a youthful bloom. Its one tone blends with every complexion, lending freshness and animation. Never gives a pasty or flaky look, nor leaves the skin dry and drawn.

This delicately fragrant powder stays on longer, spreads smoothly and evenly, hides tiny lines and wrinkles, and overcomes all unsightly "shine". It actually prevents large pores because it will not "clog" them.

No purer, gentler powder could be made. There is not a trace of lead or any other impurity to irritate the most sensitive skin. Never irritates or smarts. The purest powder known.

Beautiful women everywhere use it. Ask for Mello-glo Face Powder by name. One Dollar at all stores.

Edith Mansfield's Voice Recital Wins Praise; Sings Chicago Songs

Edith Mansfield, soprano, gave a song recital at Kimball hall last night which tended to prove that she has both the voice for that sort of exploit and the popularity by which it should be greeted. The voice is of high range and, though slender, evenly developed. It is an excellent instrument for the projection of such works as Carissimi's "Fili, non t'amo piu," the old English "When Love Is Kind," and Marx's "Waldseligkeit." In fact, she showed considerable skill in the choice of songs with which her voice was in accord, though somewhat less in their arrangement into effective groups. In matters of opera she touched only Lieu's aria, "Signore, ascolta," from Puccini's "Turandot." The last part of her program was devoted to American composers, including the works of several Chicagoans, Eleanor Everest Freer's "The Shepherdess" and a new work, "To My Mad Love," by Hamilton Forrest, among them.

Mrs. Hoover in Buffalo for Girl Scout Session

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Herbert C. Hoover was the guest of honor at a luncheon given today by Mrs. Nicholas Brady of New York to the national executive council of the Girl Scouts. Mrs. Hoover is honorary president of that organization. Mrs. Hoover arrived here from Washington at 7:35 a. m. Escorted by a squad of police, she went at once to the Hotel Statler. She later attended a meeting of the national board of directors. Tomorrow morning Mrs. Hoover will speak at the opening session of the convention. Her address will be broadcast from station WBEN.

EPISCOPAL BISHOP URGES CHICAGOANS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, bishop of Chicago, issued a call last night to Episcopalians of Chicago to unite in an effort on behalf of social service and emergency relief. He spoke at a meeting of Episcopal social agencies at St. James' community house.

Bishop Stewart proposed a central clearing house for the social service stations of the churches which include Cathedral shelter, Chase house, City missions, Church of Mission of Help, and St. Mary's Home for Children.

"We must support our social service agencies with a united front if we are not going to aggravate the situation of unemployment during the coming winter," declared the bishop. "We must do everything within our power not only to assist the relief commission but to insure the continuation of the normal activities of the established agencies.

"If our institutions and organizations do not carry on their regular work added burdens will be thrown upon the governor's emergency relief commission."

Prof. Daniel A. McGregor of the Western Theological seminary, Evanston, has been elected national supervisor of adult religious education, the national council of the Episcopal church announced yesterday. The headquarters of the department will be moved to Chicago. Dr. McGregor will continue to teach.

Complete Travel Chic Numbers Four Pieces

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Styles for traveling are reduced to the formula of an ensemble that can be adapted to all temperatures, that is made of sturdy materials, and that can be worn elsewhere than on a trip. By a little clever planning a travel coat can be selected which will be equally smart in town or country.

Such a coat is that sketched today, designed by Irene Dana. It is in the new reddish brown, in rough diagonal woolen, which because of its firmness is so much more practical than the porous tweed. The wide-stand-up collar, lined in brown astrakhan, comes down the front in revers, revealing an inner tailored cloth collar. The brown caracul lining makes the jacket-like ends of the larger collar, which slip through the cloth belt with its leather buckle.

When you go into the dining car you may slip off your coat and feel perfectly comfortable and smart in the two piece suit shown in the upper right hand corner of the sketch. Irene Dana designed the suit to wear under the travel coat. The skirt is in a soft smooth surfaced woolen, in beige.

If you have traveled from a cold to a warm climate, the end of your journey will find you in an appropriate costume. Under the jacket, which has a zigzag, buttoned fastening, is a blouse, made exactly the same fashion, but in the beige of the skirt. The fitted sleeve buttons at the wrist and ties in a bow matching the pert little bow at the neck, which is made by the ends of the round flat collar.

Night Football Game on Friday to Help Convent

A night football game for the benefit of the Cenacle convent at 513 Fullerton parkway will be played by the St. Mel's and De Paul academy teams on Friday evening at Loyola stadium. Boxholders include Mrs. E. I. Cudahy, Mrs. William Roy Carney, Mrs. Britton I. Budd, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. David F. Bremner, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, and Mrs. Edward F. Carry.

"No Romance," Say John Gilbert and Lupe Velez as Duet

That great screen lover, John Gilbert, who recently was divorced by Ina Claire, having been previously divorced by Leatrice Joy, stepped from his private car on the Santa Fé line yesterday. At once he began denying rumors of any romance with Lupe Velez.

A few steps behind him came that small and animated actress, herself. Miss Velez, as she emerged from the car, scoffed at the idea of any romance.

"Just a warm friend, John is," she said.

They stood together as Gilbert's car was attached to the Broadway limited preparatory to going to New York. They had been thrown together in the same car on their eastbound trip through mere accident, they explained.

Gilbert will sail from New York on the Europa Wednesday. Miss Velez said with emphasis that she was to remain in New York, however, for the time being. Gilbert will travel on an extended European tour with his friends, Capt. Woolf Barnato and Squadron Commander L. G. S. Payne, both of London, he said.

Direct the Child's Thoughts Outward After an Illness

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Of course, every sensible mother, when her child is sick, avoids talking about her physical conditions before her. She discusses symptoms only as far as it is necessary in order to find out what she needs to know in order to care for her child and to answer the doctor's questions.

With an ordinary illness which runs its course and leaves no aftermath, it is possible to manage so that your child when he recovers thinks no more of his sensations, his pains, and discomforts than he did before. There may be a little spoiling to unspoil, springing from every one's solicitude. But that is easily dispelled.

What is more difficult to handle is the time that comes after a long series of small illnesses, or a long continued chronic illness, or something like a severe prolonged diet. With this sort of thing there is a certain unavoidable amount of discussion of symptoms, treatment, repeated visits to the doctor, and so on.

The result of such an experience is often that a child's serenity is affected, he is easily upset, and his thoughts are turned in upon himself.

The best way to see him through to a normal state of mind is first, to exercise patience and make allowances without being sentimental or spoiling him. Then to make a definite effort to turn his thoughts outward—away from himself and his feelings. That is, to make him objective, rather than subjective.

There are a dozen ways in which to accomplish it. Keep the conversation away from him. See that he has diversions. Try to make his occupations more interesting than usual. New and longed for materials and playthings help a lot—a new doll, paints or tools, a bicycle or scooter, a dog or an extra turtle or other pet all help to center interest on things outside the child.

Bright Sayings of the Children

We had taken our small son to several doctors, none of whom could diagnose his case. In utter despair we sent him to school, fearing he would be sent home. At noon he ran all the way home from school and said: "O, mother, now you won't have to worry about me any more. Teacher knows what I have. She said I had rhythm." J. B. G.

A mother was consulting an eminent child specialist not long ago about the little upsets her baby seemed to have with disturbing regularity.

Mother: "I am so careful about my baby's diet. He gets his milk, fruit, vegetables and cereal just as you advise. Everything seems fine for a time, then suddenly he starts fussing, refuses food—and I know he's in for another upset. Why is it?"

Doctor: "It's simply Nature's way of asking for a little help. Very small things cause upsets with a baby. A little too much of one food, not quite enough of another—it requires a delicate balance to keep little organs running smoothly.

"In spite of careful feeding, bowels do need regulative help now and then in carrying off their daily load of waste.

"For babies and children I find Castoria gives just the prompt, gentle help needed."

Mother: "Is it perfectly harmless? I am afraid of strong medicines for a baby or young child."

Doctor: "Castoria is perfectly safe. It is a pure vegetable preparation and contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It works mildly and gently, yet it is always effective. I could not write a better prescription.

"A safe, sensible thing to do at the first sign of a cold, fever or digestive upset, is to give your baby a first-aid cleansing dose of Castoria."

Follow this simple advice the next time your child seems upset. Genuine Castoria always has the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package. Be sure you get it.

GEN. MacARTHUR MAKES A SPEECH AND ROILS ITALY

His View of Friendship for Serbia Under Attack.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 13.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of the staff of the United States army, is the subject of bitter editorial comment in today's issue of "Il Tevere," a Rome newspaper. The comment is based on a speech he made at a banquet given him in Belgrade by Jugo-Slavian army officers. Hitherto unprinted excerpts from the speech appear in "Il Tevere's" article, which is entitled "In a glass of wine."

"Gen. MacArthur had the fortune to be present at Jugo-Slavia's army maneuvers in September," the article said. "We say fortune because he was the only foreigner to be present, none of the foreign military attaches being invited."

Wine and Speeches.

"As a last maneuver, the head of the Jugo-Slavian general staff gave a banquet for the trans-oceanic guest, at which speeches were not lacking. Whether it was due to exceptional interest which he felt in the maneuvers he had witnessed, or the excellence of the wine he had drunk, the fact remains that Gen. MacArthur gave vent to some political oratory which demonstrates what high gifts of rashness distinguish this soldier."

The article then quotes Gen. MacArthur as having said: "There exists a mysterious tie which unites the American and the Jugo-Slavian armies."

The article then goes on: "Having seen on the faces of his hearers the desire for a little revelation of the nature of this mysterious link, the loquacious general proceeded with this clarification: 'It is not a treaty, nor an alliance nor a declaration. The tie consists in eternal sentiments of spiritual friendship, unaffected by distance.'

The General Elaborates.

"Fearing he had not yet cleared up the mystery of the link sufficiently, the general went on, determined not to keep silent about anything. He said: 'Our desires and our sentiments and our fundamental characteristics are the same. In the grand and moral principle of right to liberty and peace, the grand principle which indicates the existence of the spiritual values of this life, the American and Jugo-Slavian armies march parallel in full accord, not disturbing each other because on fundamental things Jugo-Slavs and Americans are in perfect cordial relations.'"

These words, says the article, recalled the general's attention to the glass he was holding in his hand, and he concluded by saying: "Inspired by this thought, I take the liberty to raise this glass to the glory of our inseparable and eternal spiritual union which unites for ever Jugo-Slavia to America."

OFFER IMPROVED INFORMATION ON FLYING WEATHER

BY HUGH SEXTON.

Fuller information on flying weather conditions is now available at the Public Service office of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 1 South Dearborn street, following the installation of a teletype machine operating on the same circuit that serves the federal weather bureau, United States department of commerce radio stations and various agencies dispensing weather information for flyers.

This information is based on observations made at large airports throughout the country and at beacon lights along the airways as to actual flying conditions, and is procurable over the telephone, according to an announcement yesterday by J. F. Gillespie, manager of the bureau.

James McVittie, president of the McVittie Brass works, 1600 South State street, who returned last Saturday from a trip to Berlin on which he used virtually all forms of transportation, including the Graf Zeppelin between Germany and Brazil, says he believes future transoceanic travel will be by airship. McVittie flew by plane from Chicago to New York, crossed to Germany on the liner Bremen, flew to Berlin on the Lufthansa line, and went by train to Friedrichshafen, where he boarded the Graf Zeppelin, which flew to South America in 70 hours.

Transamerican Airlines corporation has inaugurated an 80 minute air mail, passenger and express schedule between Detroit and Cleveland, via Toledo.

Century Air Lines has announced a special schedule for four week-ends between Chicago and Ann Arbor to carry alumni of Michigan university to see football games. The special planes will be operated on Oct. 17-18, Ohio at Michigan; Nov. 7-8, Indiana at Michigan; Nov. 14-15, Michigan State at Michigan, and Nov. 21-22, Minnesota at Michigan.

Trevor G. Williams, terminal manager at Chicago airport for American Airways, yesterday left for St. Louis to become assistant to Col. Halsey Dunwoody, vice president. Robert J. Rents of St. Louis replaced Williams.

$5,000 PRIZE TO JANE ADDAMS TO HELP POOR HERE

Will Use Welfare Award to Aid Jobless.

New York, Oct. 13.—The unemployed of Chicago's congested areas will share in the award of $5,000 which Miss Jane Addams, founder of Hull house, received today for her achievements in social welfare work and the promotion of international peace during the last ten years. Miss Addams made this announcement after the opinion of fifteen judges, selected by the Pictorial Review achievement award committee had been announced at the office of the magazine here.

Struggle to Meet Taxes.

Following close upon a similar award earlier in the year from Bryn Mawr college, Miss Addams was very decided in her attitude towards the needs of the unemployed in the city where she established "the most complete settlement house in the world" more than forty years ago. She discussed the psychological problems attendant upon the present depression, which had meant additional hardships in Chicago for the home owners of modest means who are struggling to meet tax bills.

After disposing of the subject which occupied her attention at the opening of the interview, Miss Addams referred briefly to the subject of international peace which prompted her recent visit to the White House with the delegation of 500 representatives of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, who called upon President Hoover last Saturday in the interest of world peace. Miss Addams is the honorary president.

"I have great confidence in the league of nations and the Kellogg pact," she declared, "regarding the present situation between Japan and China, it is quite possible that something is wrong there and should be adjusted."

WARRING FACTIONS OF MEDICAL WOMEN WILL MEET TONIGHT

The two warring factions of the Medical Women's club of Chicago will each hold meetings at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Each group claims that its members make up the official club.

Dr. Petra M. Dahl has been president of the organization and still claims that post. Her followers will hold their meeting in the Auditorium hotel. Dr. Frances Dickinson, veteran woman physician and Dr. Dahl's selection to succeed her as president, has arranged the program for the affair.

Other members of the club will gather at the University Woman's club under the direction of Dr. Goldye Hoffman. Her supporters declare she has been elected president of the organization. "Dr. Dahl just refuses to leave her office and let some one else step in," said Dr. Norine De Vere Spencer, spokesman for the group. "We are going to get an injunction to keep her from holding meetings."

The whole controversy began, according to Dr. Dahl, when she demanded that the club be placed on a sound business basis. "They stalled the matter over," said Dr. Dahl, "until they could hold an illegal election last June."

ATTORNEYS QUIT CULT CHIEFTAIN ACCUSED BY GIRL

Action Laid to Alleged Perjury Plot.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Stanley Potrack, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Walter Stanton.

Joseph Sikorski and George Morrow, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Rudolph Desort.

The attorneys for Joseph Maria Abbate, a barber who established a cult, asked for permission and were allowed to withdraw from the rape case against their client yesterday. Abbate waived a jury and the evidence is being heard by Chief Justice Fisher of the Criminal court.

Attorney Stephen A. Malato, chief counsel for Abbate, whose cult headquarters are at 2021 De Kalb street, asked permission to withdraw from the case because he didn't approve the way certain things were being done. Then Attorney Albert Horrell made a similar request.

Although Attorney Malato and his associate did not mention the reason for their action, it was attributed to the fact that a charge of perjury had been made against two witnesses for the defense. It was stated that the attorneys knew nothing of the alleged plot to give false testimony.

After the withdrawal of Abbate's counsel, Capt. Edward Mayer entered the case for the cult chief, who calls himself "the heavenly messenger." He asked that the court declare a mistrial, but Judge Fisher denied the motion. The case was continued until tomorrow at Mayer's request. Upon the demand of Assistant State's Attorneys Daniel Covelli and Elmer Holmgren, Abbate's bond was raised from $5,000 to $35,000.

Lucy Vitello, the complaining witness, charges that Abbate attacked her in his cult offices on Aug. 14, 1929. Miss Jacomine L. Monachino, 8210 Langley avenue, a public stenographer, and her brother, August, were taken into custody on perjury charges after they testified that Abbate was with their family on a vacation in Michigan from July 20 to Aug. 18, 1929. A detective, it was said, found that their stories were not true.

FORMER U. OF C. GIRL DIES FROM SLEEP POTION

Irma Harbeck, 21 years old, a former student at the University of Chicago, died on Monday in the Bellevue hospital in New York, according to dispatches received here yesterday. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harbeck, live at 1634 Juneway terrace.

A poison vial, a Bible, and a suicide poem found on the table in the room in a New York hotel where she registered as Evelyn Hamilton last Saturday led authorities to assume that Miss Harbeck had attempted suicide. It was reported that she had taken 200 grains of a sleeping potion.

Miss Harbeck three years ago suffered injuries when she either fell or jumped from a third story window of Ida Noyes hall at the University of Chicago. She was then a sophomore, having attended Wellesley college the preceding year. The girl's mother at that time could give no motive for a suicide attempt.

The parents of the dead girl declined to make a statement yesterday.

Chicago's Fastest Way to Downtown New York

IF your business in New York lies in the great downtown section, where the city's government, finance and shipping are centered, you can save many valuable minutes by taking one of the Pennsylvania's four 20-hour flyers.

For you can leave these luxurious trains at Manhattan Transfer, where a connecting train will take you to Hudson Terminal—right in the heart of lower Manhattan. You avoid the long trip downtown.

Meanwhile we will take care of your baggage—you will find it at your hotel when you register there.

To midtown New York, too, these flyers are equally convenient. For they also take you to Pennsylvania Station—within a few blocks of the theatre, shopping and hotel districts.

These 20-hour flyers lead a fleet of 17 trains daily to New York and the East—over a route that is 50 miles shorter than that of any railroad with comparable schedules. Their equipment, service, cuisine are all of the highest Pennsylvania standard. And the roadbed is one of the smoothest in the world.

YALE ELEVEN TO FACE NEW CHICAGO SHIFT

ELIS OVERHAUL ATTACK; BOOTH TO START GAME

Aim to Honor Stagg with Beating.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 13.—Admittedly the Yale football team played one of those "Now what am I supposed to do?" games against the University of Georgia last Saturday. Some of the boys forgot their lesson, some of them got in Albie Booth's way, the backs had to scoop up a lot of grounders on the passes from center and the whole line was a long way short of the Georgia line in proficiency.

The difference between the Georgia line and the Yale line may be accounted for by the fact that Yale didn't start practicing until Sept. 15, whereas Georgia was at work two weeks earlier. This reason is freely suggested at Yale where there is a strong pull between the tendency to deemphasize football and the old Yale pride in the varsity.

The presidents of Yale, Harvard and Princeton agreed to defer football practice until Sept. 15, forgetting, however, or ignoring the fact that their respective teams would be meeting other teams every year whose practice began much earlier.

Will Be More Coherent.

Now that the Yale varsity has begun the serious business of the season with an emphatic defeat by one of those early practicing teams it is natural of the Yales to wonder how much better their team and how different the score might have been if Yale had begun football practice the day Georgia started.

Certainly, after this short week's additional work and last week's experience with Georgia, Yale will be much more coherent when it meets the University of Chicago next Saturday in a game which will take the character of an unprecedented testimonial to Coach A. A. Stagg. It is a strange mission which takes Yale to Chicago for one of those rare Yale forays beyond the limit of a $3 railroad ticket. They are going west to honor Stagg, who is a Yale himself of the class of 1888, and their idea of a signal honor to the Old Man is a licking for his current football team.

There is not much that is tangible remaining of the Yale which he attended. He hasn't even seen many Yale teams in action since he went to Chicago to coach, because usually when Yale is playing in the east Stagg's team is playing in the west.

Yale Always Claims Him.

Yet Yale never has ceased to claim him and he has never un-Yaled himself and some day, inevitably, there will be another monument of some kind on the great Yale athletic preserve to match the arch erected to the memory of Walter Camp. This one will be named for 'Lon Stagg, who didn't go for to be a football coach at all when he was young and picking his way, but went for to be a minister.

Preparing to lick him to show how much they love him, the Yale team today went through a scrimmage tussle which Paul Barnett, the university press agent, one of the privileged witnesses, described as the hardest practice he has ever seen.

First, for a long time, the varsity fought the scrub as the coaches hovered by, halting the play now and again to criticize the way both sides were doing things. Then the Blue team played the freshmen and scored four touchdowns, one of them on the same low, short pass from Booth to Bares that scored Yale's only touchdown against Georgia. Albie missed two kicks for points after touchdowns accidentally.

Develop Too Fast for Frosh.

Naturally, with the varsity themselves still none too certain of their movements in the new and mysterious figures of the combined Rockne-Warner-Rawlings offensive, the freshmen couldn't be expected to anticipate the plays as they developed. In fact, if they developed at all, that was some progress, for last Saturday there were times when Yale's plays just seemed to occur.

Yale is one of the few schools at which the coaches still make a great mystery of their practice, forbidding the ground to all but accredited members of the football establishment, and Mr. Barnett explains that this is done only to avoid crowding. When Georges Carpentier was training for the Dempsey fight his practice was secret, too. But it is wise provision to avoid crowding in the bowl. There was a crowd of two newspaper correspondents on hand today and the congestion in the amphitheater obviously might have cramped the practice.

Booth to Start Game.

Rarely if ever in his three years on the team had Albie Booth taken the field in the starting lineup of a major game, but he will next Saturday at Chicago, possibly as a special compliment to Mr. Stagg. The cue-complment to Mr. Stagg. The cue-man has been to drum up some drama on the yard and then unveil Albie hurriedly, but this has been done so often that custom has staled the theatrical effect. It would be more effective to send him on the field at the head of the team at the beginning.

Saturday's starting lineup will be:

Forty Years on the Midway

This is the group for whom Stagg waited table in his student days at Yale. Top row, left to right: George Gill, son of the mayor of Orange, N. J.; William H. Seward, III., grandson of the secretary of state under Lincoln; Harlan W. Cooley of Chicago, A. A. Stagg. Second row, Harold Griffith, Sidney Roby, Charles Neave, Morrison R. Waite, III., grandson of the chief justice of the U. S. Supreme court; Fred Solley. Bottom row, John Kutz, Henry L. Stimson, now secretary of state, and Thomas Ripley.

Stagg and Hugo Bezdek, one of his football pupils, on a vacation at Hot Springs, Ark., in 1905. Bezdek recently resigned as head coach at Penn State.

Stagg, sitting on the famous Yale fence, shows what the well dressed football player wore in 1889.

BY ARCH WARD.

If Amos Alonzo Stagg had been influenced by his boyhood friends, he probably would have given up his schooling after finishing eighth grade. Many of the lads he played with stopped after the third or fourth. A high school education in those days was a distinction, graduating the possessor into the white collar class.

But Mr. Stagg appreciated the handicap suffered by his father on account of lack of education and he was determined it was not going to be that way with him. There was no high school in West Orange, N. J., and the one in Orange exacted a tuition fee from nonresidents.

By tending furnaces, mowing lawns, and other odd jobs before and after class hours he financed his way through Orange High school, completing his course in three years. It was during his high school days that Mr. Stagg decided he wanted to study for the ministry. The assistant principal of the school, Alton Sherman, encouraged Stagg to consider enrollment at Yale. The suggestion fell on fertile soil, but Stagg saw no way to stand the expense of education at a school which obtained a tuition fee of $50 a term.

Asks Advice of Yale President.

Stagg decided nothing ventured, nothing gained, so he wrote to President Noah Porter of Yale to inquire what could be done to help a needy boy receive an education. President Porter answered the letter in his own hand as follows:

"To good scholars the college has given from the Ellsworth fund $175 a year. Beyond this the college, as such, can do little or nothing; but opportunities for self-help present themselves and are soon discovered by those who keep their eyes open to discern them."

Investigation revealed that Stagg could not pass the entrance examination for Yale; so, at the insistence of his chum, George Gill, son of the mayor of Orange, he entered Phillips Exeter to prepare for matriculation at Yale. This was after the Christmas holidays. Equipped with $21 which he had saved from odd jobs and wearing a suit donated by his friend Gill, Stagg arrived at Phillips Exeter.

Set Upon Becoming Minister; Goes to Yale.

Commenting recently on those days at preparatory school, Mr. Stagg remarked:

"The three months following my entrance to Phillips Exeter were the bitterest I have ever spent. I lived for that time on 16 cents a day for food. My room was an unheated garret. I plugged at Latin, Greek, and mathematics on a diet of milk and bread."

Stagg made a reputation as a baseball player at Exeter that put the recruiting agencies to work. Among the invitations he received to go to college was one from the president of the athletic association at Dartmouth, who assured him of a place on the baseball team. But Dartmouth had

It's Players That Make Manager, Says Gabby Street

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13.—(AP)—When Max Bishop's fly settled into the hands of Pepper Martin for the last putout of the world series and the St. Louis Cardinals became 1931 champions of the baseball universe, Charles E. (Gabby) Street, Card manager, said to himself:

"Gabby, you're a lucky man. You've only done who other bush league managers might do if they got the breaks."

Street related this at a business men's luncheon today honoring him and gave all the credit for the victory to his team.

"You know, I don't care how smart the manager, he has to have the men to win for him," continued the 49 year old manager, unspoiled by success. "A baseball team makes the manager; the manager doesn't make the team. What a manager can do is promote harmony, keep the players hustling and handle his pitchers properly.

"In the series last year I knew I was just a bush league manager playing against Connie Mack and I let that fact cause me to play conservative baseball. I didn't take chances. I decided to be different this year. We threw caution to the winds. And it worked, didn't it?"

ARLINGTON GIVES $25,000 TO FUND FOR UNEMPLOYED

Track Makes an Outright Gift to Charity.

The Arlington Park Jockey club of Chicago made a gift of $25,000 yesterday to Gov. Emmerson's unemployment fund.

A check for that amount was presented to the unemployment committee by John Hertz, chairman of the executive committee of the Jockey club.

It was the first donation to the unemployment fund in Chicago by any of the Chicago race tracks. However, a charity day of racing at Lincoln Fields in September netted nearly $25,000, which went into the unemployment fund in Will county, where the track is located.

Charity Day at Hawthorne.

The Hawthorne association has announced a charity day of racing on Oct. 22, and the officials of the track on the west side are hopeful of raising $50,000 for the fund.

The $25,000 from the Arlington Park Jockey club was a direct gift as the race meeting conducted by this association, one of the most notable in the country, was conducted in July before the movement for sports charity affairs was under way.

"The race tracks will turn at least $100,000 into the unemployment fund," one of the track chiefs in Chicago said last night. "If our first round of charity racing days and donations do not provide that amount every track will be willing to make a second donation," he said.

Winn to Make Donation.

If the race tracks succeed in raising a fund of $100,000, sport in Chicago will have contributed nearly a quarter million dollars to the unemployment fund.

The Northwestern-Notre Dame football game provided $100,000. A charity baseball game between the Cubs and the White Sox netted $45,000.

The Washington Park race track, which operated last June before charity sports events were anticipated, will donate to the fund, Col. Matt J. Winn declared. The exact amount was not named "but it will be a substantial sum," the head of the Washington Park association declared.

PLAN MATCH RACE

Burning Blaze, the sensational Chicago 2 year old, will meet Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's great 2 year old filly, Top Flight, for the juvenile championship of the year if a match race can be arranged at the Bowie track next month.

Richard Nash, who with his brother Patrick A. Nash, owns Burning Blaze, said last night they would welcome such a meeting with Top Flight.

The race was proposed in Baltimore yesterday by officials of the Bowie track. It is to be at a mile and a sixteenth, weight for age, for a purse of $10,000. At weight for age Burning Blaze would carry 122 pounds and Top Flight 119.

It's Up to Whitney.

The race has been proposed because Burning Blaze, easily the best of all the 2 year old colts in the country, and Top Flight, the Belmont Futurity winner and the queen of the 2 year old fillies, are not eligible to any of the same stakes this fall.

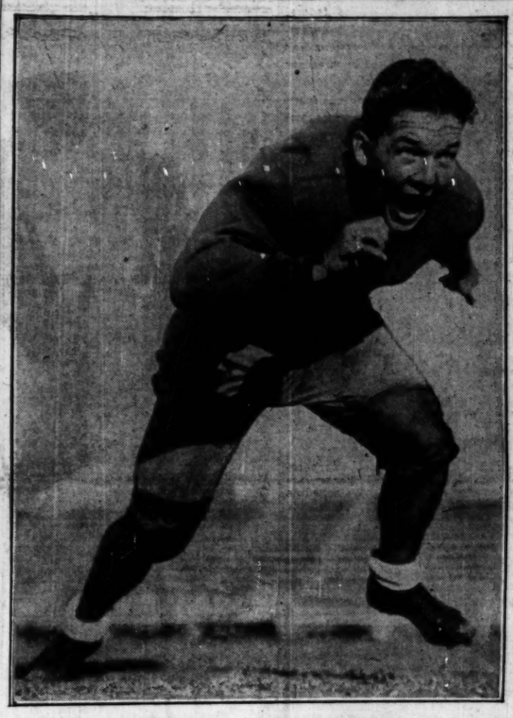
Burning Blaze and Top Flight are both in Maryland.

The meeting between the two crack youngsters seems assured if the Whitney board of strategy is willing to race Top Flight against the Chicago colt.

Shamrocks Recall O'Neill from St. Louis Hockey Club

Charles (Tip) O'Neill, forward, who finished last season with St. Louis in the American Hockey league, will receive another tryout with the Shamrocks this year. Because of a surplus of material O'Neill was loaned out and performed so well with St. Louis that he has been recalled by the Shamrocks.

O, SEE THE BOGY MAN!



Gordon Jones, guard on the University of California at Los Angeles eleven, which plays Northwestern at Dyche stadium Saturday, looks pretty fearsome here. Wonder if he'll scare those Wildcats when he meets up with them?

BRUINS PRACTICE AT TUCSON TODAY FOR PURPLE TILT

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Thirty-three University of California at Los Angeles football players left here tonight for Chicago. They will play Northwestern at Evanston Saturday.

The Bruins haven't played since Oct. 3. They have spent every moment of practice since then on fundamentals, with the theory that if they play their best something may throw the breaks their way.

The coast team's starting lineup probably will be Wellendorf and McGue, ends; McMillan and Dimas, tackles; Austin and Jones, guards; Oliver, center; Bergdahl, quarter; Decker and Keeble, halves; Duncan, full back.

McGue, Dimas, Austin, and Keeble are sophomores. Most of the players are in good shape, but Mulhaupt, end, has a wrenched knee and Haslam, guard, wears a hand brace for an injured wrist.

Workouts are scheduled in Tucson, Ariz., tomorrow, and McPherson, Kas., Thursday.

KOSTBODE JOINS SQUAD

Playing in the rain and mud is becoming the rule rather than the exception for Northwestern's football squad. Yesterday the Purple held their first practice since the Notre Dame game in conditions duplicating those of last Saturday. A drizzling rain fell during the workout and the practice field was a bog.

Unlike the Notre Dame game, however, the reserves bore the brunt of yesterday's unpleasantness. The regulars were excused from the heavy scrimmage. Many of the regulars still bore marks of Saturday's struggle.

Kostbade Returns.

In a long scrimmage against the freshmen several backs who probably will get a chance to play against U. C. L. A. Saturday gained repeatedly. They included Sid Burnstein, Jakie Sullivan, and Luke Fossler.

Howard Kostbade and Louis Struebing, sophomore ends, who have been on the injured list since the opening of practice, rejoined the squad yester-

Sothoron Quits Colonels; Signs as Brown Coach

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Allan Sothoron, for the last three years manager of the Louisville American association team, has been appointed coach for the St. Louis Browns. His acquisition gives the Browns three coaches, the others being Jim Austin and Earl McNeely. Whether both McNealy and Austin will be retained next year is to be decided later.

ALLAN SOTHORON.

Sothoron, a former pitcher, played with the Browns at one time. He also has seen service with the Cardinals.

ST. VIATOR TEAM FORFEITS WIN OVER WESLEYAN

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The football game Illinois Wesleyan lost to St. Viator's college, 6 to 0, on Oct. 3, was turned into a victory for Wesleyan today with the announcement that St. Viator had forfeited the game.

Dr. J. Norman Elliott, Wesleyan football coach, received a letter from the Rev. Father E. M. Kelly, St. Viator director of athletics, explaining that James Stringfellow, star full back for the Saints, has been declared ineligible because he enrolled at St. Louis university in September. Stringfellow did not mention it to the St. Viator authorities and it was not learned until after the game with Wesleyan.

As a result of the forfeiture, Wesleyan will resume its Little Nineteen conference race with a clean slate.

Ray Miller Knocks Out Day in Third Round

MAROONS BUILD PLAYS FOR USE IN SCORING ZONE

Standing pat on the line which outcharged Michigan's forwards last Saturday, Coach Stagg yesterday turned his attention to the back field and offense that will be used against Yale Saturday.

With six ball carriers of nearly equal merit competing for the post left vacant by Pat Page Jr., Stagg tested all the possible combinations in a lively hour of scrimmage in which diversity of attack was emphasized.

Almost certain to start against Yale are Paul Stagg, Pete Zimmer, and Sparkplug Sahlin. The fourth assignment back of the line will go to Bob Wallace, Joe Temple, Don Birney, Al Summers, Gene Buzzell or George Mahoney, with Wallace and Temple having the edge. Wallace demonstrated Saturday that he has learned to use his speed, and Temple, back in uniform after his eligibility lapse, yesterday ripped through the freshman defense in the style he showed as a sophomore. Temple was handicapped last year by a fractured rib.

Sahlin Given Rest.

Sahlin, his strained back still sore, was used against Michigan only because the Maroon coach felt that there was no adequate substitute. He carried the ball only five times, but shone defensively. This week he is being given complete respite from scrimmage.

Paul Stagg was used yesterday in the flanker position, alternating with Wallace at calling signals, mixing passes with running plays. Stagg expressed dissatisfaction at the limited use of the repertory made by the Maroons last Saturday.

At least three plays derived from Stagg's new shift formation will be used against Yale. Since the back field has not yet shown aptitude enough to develop all the possibilities of the formation, the three plays will be valuable chiefly to vary the attack, particularly in the scoring zone. The Stagg flanker, which has been shown only once in the east, is counted upon to confuse Yale.

Line Shows Ability.

The Maroon line, cited as an uncertain element in early notices, now appears to be the strongest feature of the team. The five men in the middle are no featherweights, since they average 190 pounds and show ability to work together.

Parsons at center and Horwitz and Hamberg at guards are experienced and ambitious. These three are buttressed at tackle by Cassels and Spearing, both big men. Spearing had no football experience before this season, but has developed remarkably under constant tutelage.

Bernie Wien has clinched one end job and Pompeo Toigo appears to have entrenched himself in the other. Roughest and readiest of the Maroons, Toigo regards college football as pleasant exercise. He worked for years in the coal mines near his home, Benld, Ill.

Old Clothes for Frosh.

By way of working themselves up to fighting pitch for Yale, university sophomores yesterday climaxed a day of effervescence by hurling three Psi Upsilon freshmen into Botany pond, and the wearing of old clothes is now the indicated order of the day for the frosh.

Seven thousand tickets had been sold to Yale adherents up to yesterday, it was announced by Lester Blair, in charge of ticket sales. Approximately 10,000 more have been sold in the city, and since the capacity of the stadium will be 46,000 Saturday, indications were that the game will not be a sell-out.

Tickets for seats between the goal posts are still available, and those behind the goal posts, in the east and west stands, have been reduced in price from $4 to $3.

Celebration of Coach Stagg's fortieth year as Maroon coach will begin tomorrow night with a dinner for the team, followed by a pep session on Stagg field. The Yale team, headed by President James R. Angell, will arrive in Chicago Friday noon, and President Angell will be one of the speakers at a testimonial banquet that night for Coach Stagg. Other speakers at the banquet, for which accommodations are provided for 2,500, will be President Robert M. Hutchins of Chicago, Prof. William Lyons Phelps of Yale, and George Vincent, former president of the Rockefeller Foundation.

MASTRO WHIPS SHAW EASILY IN 10 ROUND BOUT

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A driving two-fisted attack which hardly changed in pace throughout the ten rounds carried Earl Mastro, Chicago, to an easy victory over Billie Shaw, Detroit, tonight.

Mastro's left drew blood from Shaw's nose in the second round and his right brought an additional flow from the Detroiter's mouth in the third. Methodically Mastro kept up the beating, with Shaw contributing only a few light rights to the face besides a courageous defense.

Paul Wangley, Minneapolis, 127, knocked out Eddy Smith, Chicago, 128, in one round.

BY FRENCH LANE.

When the famous old sire Wrack sends a daughter to the races you may feel fairly confident that she can gallop very swiftly over a muddy racing strip.

This was demonstrated in the Billy Rose purse at Hawthorne yesterday when Brookside, a daughter of Wrack-Mollie Kean, took the track at the beginning of the mile and a sixteenth contest and threw mud into the eyes of her rivals for the entire trip.

She wound up the easiest kind of a winner by eight lengths over Beton with Jack Crain third. Brookside, ridden by M. Lewis, was the favorite and paid $8.48. The time of 1:52 was exceptionally good.

It was the second muddy victory Brookside has scored at Hawthorne within four days. She races for Ed McCuan, an Illinois turfman.

The rainy weather and the muddy track made a lot of the regulars stop and think where the summer winnings had gone.

A lot of the boys who were wondering about the carfare to the winter tracks—or the winter's coal—found a horse by the name of Meal Money in the first race and immediately slapped their aces and deuces on him.

"Meal Money cost 'em their supper money for he was never prominent and was far out of the money when Crescent City, at $21.32, went sailing past the winning post.

"Come on, Tuff," Bill Armstrong of Chicago shouted on the club house lawn. The Phil Baker purse had reached the stretch run, and Armstrong was represented by a horse called Tufnut.

Old Tuff must have heard the plea. He came on to a handy triumph and was one of the few favorites to win all afternoon. He paid $7.16, but that was good enough for Armstrong. It was the first time any of his Lyda Mae Stock farm horses had triumphed this season and they have been trying since the first day of last May.

Would you bet on a horse called Jaz Age on such a dismal, rainy, muddy day?

The folks at Hawthorne didn't either in the six and one-half furlong third race. But that made no difference to youthful Mr. Jaz Age. He smothered his field and won by five lengths from Transgression with Copperfield third. The few who wagered on him will have to worry but little. For they collected at $58.34 to win, $26.08 to place and $13.80 to show.

Mr. August Riley, the noted handicapper from the south side, made a lot of the boys happy when he slipped 'em Durva as the best bet of the day.

They followed his advice with all the gold they could get together. Durva led from the clubhouse bend to the payoff station and paid $6.46. The boys are calling him "Santa Claus" Riley now.

Kenilworth Boy Retains Dartmouth Golf Title

Hanover, N. H. Oct. 13.—(AP)—Alfred H. Hicks of Kenilworth, Ill., today won the Dartmouth golf championship for the second consecutive year by defeating K. B. Ullman, 1 up, in the 36 hole fall tournament final.

Los Angeles A.C. Swimmers Set Women's Relay Record

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Three-fifths of a second was shaved from the women's American 200 yard relay swimming record today when the Los Angeles Athletic club quartet —Josephine McKim, Olive Hatch, Jennie Cramer, and Marjorie Lowe—swam the distance in 1 minute 57 seconds. The former mark was held by the New York Women's Swimming association team of Gertrude Ederle, Helen Wainwright, Aileen Riggin, and Adelaide Lambert.

Hertz Entry One-Three at Laurel Track

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. John D. Hertz's great pair of fillies—Risque and Valenciennes—today finished one-three in the Pocahontas handicap at Laurel, Md.

Reversing the order of the finish in their last appearance as an entry, Risque led the way past the judges' stand with Valenciennes losing second by a head to Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Polly Play. The race was Risque's first outing since finishing second to her 4 year old stablemate at Belmont Park Sept. 16.

Valenciennes probably was the best of the field today, but she was left at the post and, although staging a remarkable recovery, finished a length back of her 3 year old companion.

Risque Goes to Front.

With Valenciennes out of the early running, Earl Steffen sent Risque to the front at the start of the mile and 70 yards journey and she set all of the pace through the stretch. Despite her burden of 123 pounds, Risque ran the distance in 1:43¾, one and two-fifths seconds off the track record. As the favorite, the Hertz entry paid $3.60 for a $2 straight ticket at the mutuel windows.

Morstone found the weight of 125 pounds and the speedy Sonnelli too much to overcome in the $2,500 Montague handicap at Jamaica. Lightly weighed with only 106 pounds, Sonnelli carried the silks of George Arvin to a four length victory, with C. V. Whitney's Halcyon, with 111 pounds in the saddle, a half length in front of Morstone. Sonnelli stepped the six furlongs in 1:11¾, and paid 12 to 1.

Tinker Rides Three Winners.

In the absence of a headliner at Latonia, the riding of the young apprentice, Harold Tinker, who is under contract to W. F. Knebelkamp, featured the program at the Kentucky course.

Tinker was astride three winners as the form players encountered their first real setback of the meeting. He piloted C. W. Green's Sunny Susan, a field horse, to victory in the opening number, following with another victorious ride on J. W. Parrish's Depression in the third, and closing the day aboard J. O. Whitlow's Ben Blair, winner of the seventh.

'REFUGE HARBORS' PLEA ACE IN HOLE OF N. Y. SAILORS

Commercial Side of Yacht Havens Wins U. S. Aid.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The dreams of Lake Michigan yachtsmen relative to inviting harbors with mooring space to spare are not matters of the future to their eastern brethren, as a survey of yacht havens in the New York-Long Island region reveals. They are concrete facts of the present, involving the expenditure of thousands of dollars for the widening and dredging of harbors and channels.

It is the source of these expenditures which should interest central states leaders in the movement to improve pleasure boat harbors in this territory. Whereas they have been forced to rely on park commissions and municipalities for aid, wealthy eastern yacht owners are deriving the benefit of federal improvements, despite the fact that the war department is allowed to deal only with harbors involving "commercial navigation," a classification which does not include pleasure boat harbors.

U. S. Funds in Projects.

Nevertheless, Long Islanders appear to have more success than middle western yachtsmen in the matter of help from the government. The following list of improvements, all of them completed or in process of completion with government funds, supplies an idea of the nature of that source:

HEMPSTEAD HARBOR, L. I.—The home of several yacht clubs and a popular rendezvous for pleasure boats because of the harbor and fishing facilities and proximity to New York City. Has had its channel widened. Total cost of government work, according to U. S. army figures, was $69,433. Figures to the value of $40,171, mostly sand and gravel, passed through the harbor in 1929. No figures have been published since.

GLEN COVE CREEK—A tidal inlet from the east side of Hempstead harbor with a couple of piers for pleasure craft, but no railway outlet anywhere, asked for $53,500 to fix its "harbor," and got a promise of federal aid if local interests would share expenses. It is planned to start the project in 1932.

HUNTINGTON HARBOR—Another popular spot surrounded by wealthy owners' estates. Has just had eight foot channel dredged for about 9,100 feet. There was no local cooperation other than providing dumping grounds for material dredged, which resulted in the reclamation of marshland for private property owners. The government report describes the harbor as a "coal and petroleum port." Total value of Huntington harbor's annual cargoes averages less than $200,000, but $87,616 has been spent on improvements.

BROWN'S CREEK — A narrow, crooked tidal stream flowing south and emptying into Great South Bay, L. I. Sayville, L. I., residents spent $2,000 several years ago and obtained a fairly deep channel with numerous yacht anchorages. Now Brown's creek is growing into a 100 foot channel, six feet deep at mean low water. The project, upon which the government already has spent $80,722, is about 36 per cent completed. Army engineers estimate $54,600 will be required to finish the job. There is no local financial cooperation. Private fishing smacks and pleasure boats use the harbor mainly. The most recently tonnage figures show cargoes valued at $117,000 for twelve months.

Mostly Yacht Basins.

Many of these so-called "commercial harbors," which are more yacht basins than points for industrial navigation, are mentioned quite plainly in the reports of the chief engineers of the United States army. Among those designated as "harbors of refuge" are Port Jefferson and Mattituck, 56 and 55 miles east, respectively, of the Battery in New York. In the case of the former $181,506 has been spent already and $157,700 is required for completion. The army report on it states:

"The project is 30 per cent completed and the channel in June, 1930, was 12 feet deep and about 200 feet wide. It is used as a harbor of refuge by a few vessels, but the actual number is not a matter of record. A large number of pleasure boats are stored in the harbor during the winter months."

At Mattituck, a great summering place, the total amount of federal appropriations at the end of 1930 was $150,250. It was officially estimated that $81,700 would be necessary to finish it. It is a widely known and popular stopping place for pleasure craft.

Set Course for U. S. Aid.

Other harbors which have been benefited by government aid because of their commercial designation are Port Chester, deservedly marked as an industrial port [its annual tonnage is approximately $10,000,000]; Echo Bay and New Rochelle harbors.

The process of obtaining federal aid follows a rather set course. Local capital, seldom more than a couple of thousand dollars, is obtained, and a preliminary start on a certain stretch of water is made. Sometimes a yacht club starts the work. At others, a sand dredging concern or fishermen undertake it. The local chamber of commerce is enlisted and a petition for federal aid is composed.

Enter then army engineers to examine the project. They are invited to a dinner by chamber of commerce officials, and if the plan be feasible, a survey is arranged. Then begins the real work. The district congressman puts his voice into the drive, wires are pulled in every direction, and the one time cove or creek suddenly becomes a potential deep water harbor and its site the home of a future metropolis. This method frequently is successful, more so in the east than in any other section of the country.

Scorn Federal Aid.

On the other hand, the danger of a government improved harbor actually becoming an important commercial port has caused yachtsmen to argue against federal aid. When a proposal was made to link Greenport, L. I., with Shelter island with a long bridge, a number of wealthy yacht owners headed by Harold Vanderbilt, turned thumbs down on the commercial project. The bridge has not been built.

And while all of these harbor successes are being scored by easterners, with government funds on the pretext of being "harbors of refuge," the yachtsmen of Lake Michigan still are wondering when and how they can retain the present congested condition of their harbors.

Fight Decisions

At Minneapolis, Minn.—Earl Mastro beat Billy Shaw [10].
At Yonkers, N. Y.—Ray Miller, Chicago, knocked out Georgie Day, New Haven, Conn. [3].
At Indianapolis, Ind.—Tony Canzola, Detroit, Mich., beat Maggs Kerr, Indianapolis [10].

Forty Years on the Midway

no divinity school and Stagg had set his mind on becoming a minister.

So as a would-be divinity student, 22 years old and $22 in his pockets, Stagg appeared at Yale in September, 1884. Nobody suspected that day he was to become one of the greatest athletes in the school's history and one of the outstanding sport leaders of all time.

Having no assurance that he would find immediate work, Stagg adopted a five and ten cent budget for food. He allowed five cents for breakfast, ten cents for dinner, and five cents for supper. His room cost a dollar a week. He was unable to withstand this starvation diet for long and one day chills and fever overtook him on the way to class. When he had recovered a few days later he succeeded in obtaining employment as a waiter in one of the student dining halls.

Becomes Star Pitcher for Yale Nine.

As a pitcher on the baseball team, Stagg was a success from the start. His reputation as a football player developed more slowly. He earned a place on the squad as a substitute end in his sophomore year. In his junior and senior years he did not try for the football team at the insistence of the baseball captains, who feared he might ruin his pitching arm by an injury on the gridiron. But he turned to football in a big way in 1888, winning a position as regular right end. He held down the opposite flank in 1889. He was awarded a place on Walter Camp's All-American after his final season.

With Stagg doing all of the pitching, Yale won the baseball championship of the Eastern College league five successive years. During that span Old Eli won 15 games from Harvard while losing four and took 14 of the 17 games played with Princeton.

Stagg had a great record as a strikeout pitcher. Speaking of his playing days he recently told me:

"In a game at Buffalo I once struck out 22, but the largest number I recall in an intercollegiate game was against Princeton on May 26, 1888. I remember that Mrs. Cleveland, wife of President Grover Cleveland, was in the stands and wore Princeton colors. I thought the wife of the President of the United States ought to be neutral at a game of that sort, so I made a special effort to show up Princeton. I fanned 20."

Newspaper Account of His 20 Strikeouts

The New York Times the next day reported the achievement as follows:

"Princeton, N. J., May 26.—Yale's famous pitcher, Stagg, eclipsed all his former brilliant feats on the diamond field today in an exhibition baseball contest between Yale and Princeton. He not only pitched so effectively as to enable his opponents to bat the ball safely but twice, but he made the remarkable record of 20 strikeouts against his opponents. The Yale men played brilliantly and Dann, their catcher, supported Stagg in a clever manner. The Princeton men played nervously, and evidently felt themselves at the mercy of the expert twirler from New Haven. Stagg's performance of today has never been equaled between teams of similar quality, and it will go on record as one of the memorable games of intercollegiate baseball contests."

Stagg had several offers to enter professional baseball while he was pitching for Yale. On April 26, 1887, he attracted the attention of big league leaders by his performance against the old Boston Nationals in an exhibition game. The game was played under college rules, limiting a batter to three strikes, and six balls giving a base. Yale won, 2 to 1. Stagg's part in the victory was climaxed with the strikeout of "Ten Thousand Dollar" Kelly, who was the Babe Ruth of the '80's. When Kelly returned to the bench after swinging at three strikes he remarked to his mates: "Think of a son of a gun who can pitch like that going to be a minister."

Urged to Become Professional Player.

Mr. Stagg still has in his possession a letter he received from Jim O'Rourke of the New York Nationals. It reads like this:

"While your college friends are urging you in the interest of patriotism, college patriotism, to remain an unbleached amateur purely to satisfy their gluttonish love of the game, your real friends are urging their every effort to have you better your financial condition by accepting the advantages which the present opportunity presents."

Although Stagg in those days needed money badly, he refused. He first thought of his duty to Yale and, secondly, he abhorred conditions which in those days surrounded professional baseball. There was a bar in nearly every park, around which were grouped hangers-on, men and women. The Yale pitcher considered this was not a proper environment for a young man pointing for the ministry.

"I never have regretted my decision," Stagg said the other day. "I managed to get along financially. I have never borrowed a penny from an individual in my life, nor have I bought an article of furniture on the installment plan."

(In tomorrow's article Mr. Ward tells of Stagg's football days at Yale and his first coaching assignment at Springfield Y. M. C. A.)

New Ball Aid to Cards' Win, Says Heydler

JOHN A. HEYDLER.

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—When the National league decided last winter to curtail the exuberance of the official ball, it did not surmise it was writing a very important chapter in baseball history.

It just advised the manufacturer to use a little more leather, sew it up with one more strand than had been customary, and deliver a few thousand gross in the spring. Then it promptly forgot all about it. It might have continued to forget about it but for the St. Louis Cardinals, who literally rode to a world championship on that memorandum.

Cards Profit Early.

John A. Heydler, president of the National league, says about it:

"I didn't have any idea what we were doing to the game. All we did was have them add about a paper thickness of leather and bind the ball with four strands of thread instead of three. Of course, we thought it might make a slight difference in favor of the pitchers, but didn't foresee it would change the whole game and give us our first championship since 1926.

"That's what it did, though. The Cardinals realized what had been done. They adapted themselves to that new ball more quickly than the other clubs, based their attack and defense on it and fought their way to the title.

Not Much Difference.

"But that's not the last of it. It has definitely put the game back where it was 10 or 12 years ago, where a fast, quick thinking club like the Cardinals has the advantage. The era of slugging is over so far as the National league is concerned. Only two of our teams, the Cardinals and the Giants, really adapted themselves to the new ball this year, but every manager in the league will be playing it for all its worth next season.

"Will the American league follow our lead and further deaden its ball? There's no telling. Maybe they think their ball is all right. After all, there is not a great deal of difference. They took some of the life out of their's, too.

"The three world series games at Philadelphia proved there wasn't much difference in the balls. They used the American league ball there, and those were the best pitched games of the series.

They Knew What to Do.

"That dashing, spectacular game the Cardinals played to demoralize the Athletics wasn't thought up on the spur of the moment. They had been playing that way since the middle of the season, running the bases smartly and going for one run all the time. Gabby Street realized he didn't have a team of sluggers, but that he did have speed to burn, so he built his attack around it. The Athletics hadn't been playing against that kind of baseball.

"Maybe some of the fans thought those steals of third base by Martin and Hafey were accidents. They weren't. They were carefully worked out plays the Cardinals used regularly. So was that play in the last game, where Watkins scored from third base after Orsatti had struck out and made Cochrane throw to first. I saw them win a game with the same play during the regular season. They were dangerous even when they were striking out. They made speed a factor in every play, and that's why they won."

In the WAKE of the NEWS

CHARITY FOOTBALL GAMES.

FROM now until about Nov. 1, when athletic directors of Big Ten colleges meet to prepare the schedules, various suggestions will be advanced for charity games at the end of the season. Proceeds from these games would be given to state funds for the unemployed.

When the conference lifted its rule against post-season contests because of a public emergency, it was stated frankly the schedule would be drawn, so far as possible, to attract the greatest gate receipts. Thus, if two elevens remained undefeated, those two probably would play for the unofficial title.

Since Northwestern and Notre Dame played to a scoreless tie, there is bound to be an urgent demand for a replay. In its original action, however, the conference voted its post-season games should be between members. Of course, that action could be rescinded. Since the conference already gave permission for transfer to Soldiers' field of the Northwestern-Notre Dame game of last Saturday, we doubt whether the same rules would be waived again the same year for these teams—else we do not know our conference.

The Wake is able to present the schedule suggested at the time the original action was taken. It was:

Michigan and Northwestern.
Chicago and Iowa.
Ohio State and Purdue.
Wisconsin and Indiana.
Illinois and Minnesota.

This chart brings together elevens not otherwise scheduled this year. In the case of Northwestern and Michigan it presupposed Wildcats and Wolverines would be unbeaten when the athletic directors meet. In the meantime Ohio State and Illinois, both of which meet Northwestern and Michigan this month, have shown unexpected strength. They may topple the Wildcats or Wolverines in one of those frays. Purdue, on the other hand, meets only Wisconsin in the conference before that time. If the Boilermakers topple the Badgers they must be considered. If all three are unbeaten, however, the tentative schedule might stand.

Settling an Argument.

The Wake has received numerous inquiries concerning a play in the Chicago-Cornell college game which opened the Midway season. A Maroon punt was blocked and a Cornell player recovered, running for what appeared a touchdown. The ball was brought back. Here is the official explanation of Col. H. B. Hackett, referee:

"There was holding on the play mentioned in the Chicago-Cornell game, and the 15 yard penalty brought the ball to almost the same spot where the punt was blocked. The distance of the penalty was quickly located by the lines and I imagine the fact that the spectators saw no pacing off of the penalty was the reason they did not understand it. The holding was on the part of Cornell after it had recovered the ball."

Rain Fails to Halt Practice at Harrison

Harrison Tech's football team yesterday practiced in the rain for its first appearance in Chicago Public High School league competition on Saturday afternoon at Mills stadium. Austin, which already has hung up its first victory by defeating Marshall, will be the opponent.

Harrison, rated as one of the strongest teams in the league, having practically the same squad which lost to Lindblom in the championship game last season, has scored four pre-season triumphs. Led by Capt. Andy Pilney, Andy Puplis and Frank Leonetti, Harrison defeated all its practice foes, Morton, Wendell Phillips, Lindblom, and Mooseheart.

One of the outstanding games on the Suburban league schedule Saturday is the annual Oak Park-Evanston contest at Oak Park. Evanston won last year's game and the league championship on an intercepted pass. Both teams won their opening games last Saturday.

Medill, which is not a member of the City Football league, is busy on other things these days. Sam Center is preparing to start his tenth season as basketball coach. The first day's practice will be held tomorrow.

Another powerful team is reported at Wheaton High school, which dropped out of the Little Seven conference two years ago. It played a scoreless tie with Glenbard, present West Suburban conference leader, and defeated Downers Grove, Rochelle, and St. Charles. It will meet Mooseheart Friday night in its fifth game of the season.

Coach Sachs is planning a new offensive attack for Loyola's game with St. Philip. The back field, McCarthy, Daley, Larry Corrigan, and Bill Corrigan, is in good condition and participating in practice every day.

Another charity game will be played by two Catholic league teams. De La Salle and Mount Carmel will meet on Soldiers' field Oct. 25. The proceeds of the De Paul-St. Mel contest at Loyola field Friday night will be given to the Convent of the Cenacle.

Kankakee and Thornton Fractional will battle in a South Suburban league game at Calumet City Saturday. Bloom will face Waukegan in a non-league contest at Chicago Heights.

Lane, north section titleholder, its lineup revised because of injuries, will meet Senn at Soldiers' field Saturday in its second north section game of the season. The champions dropped their opening game against Lake View last Saturday, 6 to 0.

BRONAWICZ AND STEELE WRESTLE HERE TONIGHT

Open Indoor Season at Coliseum.

The indoor wrestling season will open at the Coliseum tonight with five matches promoted by Doc Krone.

Ray Steele of California and Frank Bronowicz, New York, will meet in the main bout.

George Zaharias of Colorado clashes with Rudy Dusek of Omaha in the semi-final.

Jim Londos, claimant of the world's championship, has signed to meet the winner of an elimination tournament among these four heavyweights.

Three newcomers are on the card. One is Earl McCready, former Oklahoma A. & M. athlete who twice won the national intercollegiate title. He meets Jean La Deaux, France, who also will be making his debut here. The other is Hans Kampfer, world's Greco-Romano champion, who tangles with Charley Fox, Cleveland.

George Calza is matched with Joe [Toots] Mondt of Colorado.

SEEK TWO TITLE BOUTS

Two world's championship wrestling bouts may be staged at the Chicago Stadium the night of Nov. 2. This was revealed by the athletic division of Gov. Emmerson's unemployment commission last night.

The division, headed by J. Russell Forgan, already has signed Ed [Strangler] Lewis and Wladek Zbyszko for a finish match for recognition by the Illinois athletic commission as the world's heavyweight champion. Col. John Y. Clinning, chairman of the athletic commission, and president of the National Boxing association, has announced that the winner of the Lewis-Zbyszko bout will be recognized as the legitimate world's champion.

The commission has received a wire from Charlie Fisher, generally regarded as world's middleweight and light heavyweight champion, that he would defend either title against any opponent that the Forgan group and the Illinois athletic commission might agree upon, if the athletic commission would recognize the winner as the world's champion of that division.

The committee immediately communicated with Col. Clinnen, who announced that he would place Fisher's offer before the commissioners at once. Fisher wired that he would donate his share of the proceeds to from Charlie Fisher, generally rewown traveling and training expenses.

Fisher is one of the most popular wrestlers in the mat sport. While a legitimate middleweight, and able to make the 160 pound limit without difficulty, for the last two years he has found it necessary to go into the 175 pound class to get opponents.

DE PAUL LOSES JABLONSKI FOR ST. MARY'S GAME

Another injury was added to the already heavy toll of De Paul university yesterday as the Blue Demons continued their preparations for the game with St. Mary's of Winona, Minn., Friday night at Mills stadium.

Ted Jablonski was injured in scrimmage and will be out for a week or more. Art McGivern, who played well in the last few minutes of the Illinois Wesleyan game, has taken over the full back job and will start Friday night.

Consolation was found in the fact that Eddie O'Brien, one of the best forward passers on the squad, returned to uniform. Eddie was slated to start in Mat Steffen's place at left half back last week, but was injured the night before the contest.

Johnny O'Brien, tackle, who has been on the hospital list since the Detroit opening battle, is still a noncombatant.

South Parks Plans Annual Grid Field Day Saturday

The annual south parks football field day will be held Saturday morning at Washington park. Only park members between 10 and 18 years old are eligible. No park will be allowed to enter more than 20 boys. There will be four events, punting, drop kicking, place kicking, and forward passing. Each will be decided on distance.

CARLSON BEATS JIMMY SMITH IN ROONEY BOWLING

Jimmy Smith, considered almost unbeatable in the new game of Rooney bowling, suffered a one sided defeat in a match with Ad Carlson yesterday at Mussey's Randolph alleys. Carlson piled up a 1,571 total for seven games while Smith had only 27.

Smith's reversal of form yesterday was the more startling, for on Monday he took the alleys after Ernie Schanz had missed in the tenth frame and completed seven games without a break. Carlson opened yesterday's match with two marks and then had an error. Smith stepped up and encountered a railroad.

Carlson then bowled until the tenth frame of the fifth game without a miss. That gave Smith another chance, but the veteran failed on a spare and Carlson shot eight frames before a railroad stopped him. Then Smith missed another spare and Carlson ran out his 1,571 string, completing seven games.

The objective of the game of Rooney is 1,400 pins, each man rolling until a railroad or miss stops him. Only one alley is used.

BEARS SEEK 4TH VICTORY IN ROW OVER CARDINALS

The Chicago Bears will seek their fourth straight victory over the Cardinal football team when they clash in the first of their two game series at Wrigley field Sunday afternoon. The Bears are not overconfident of accomplishing the trick. Neither team has ever won four in a row in their 21 meetings.

Both teams have been beaten by the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National league, the Bears, 7 to 0, and the Cards, 26 to 7, but the latter score is not a fair indication of the strength of the Cardinals.

The Cardinals made more first downs than Green Bay, registering 15 to 12. The Bears made only three first downs against the Packers. In addition, the Cardinals punctured the Packer forward wall for 238 yards, far more territory than the Bears were able to cover.

Fifteen first downs is an unusually large number in professional football and indicates that since Ernie Nevers took over the coaching reins the Cardinals have improved.

Pheasants and Ducks Are Few in South Dakota

BY BOB BECKER.

Hunting conditions in South Dakota, a state which in former years has been visited by thousands of nonresident hunters in search of sport with ringnecked pheasants and ducks, are not the best this fall, according to Dr. W. A. Rothschild of Madison, S. D., prominent sportsman. Although the ringnecks are abundant in some counties, adverse nesting conditions in other counities cut down the crop of birds this season. Dr. Rothschild's letter outlining the situation is as follows.

"As you probably know, our season on the pheasants starts Oct. 15 and continues for twelve half days. You can shoot just three cock pheasants per day. Nonresident hunters are taxed the usual $25 for a license and they have the privilege of shipping twenty-five birds. Thus the only difference as far as the number of birds sent out is concerned is that it takes longer to get the legal number.

"This county (Lake, in the southeastern part of the state) and the nearby counties are the real center of the chink population this year. It's useless to even try to describe the large number of birds around here. But, due to excessive rainfall and storms to the north, and decided lack of vegetation in other spots, the birds are quite scarce in the old pheasant section."

Dr. Rothschild's comment on the duck situation will be of interest to middle western waterfowl hunters.

"The duck situation is terrible. Outside of a very restricted area the hatch is not 10 per cent normal. I know that this applies to North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, and most of Minnesota and Nebraska." (A report from a hunter who was in South Dakota on opening day confirms this lack of birds. By hard work he managed to get just fifteen in three days).

Pheasant hunters who wonder why the state established the afternoon shooting rule will be interested in Dr. Rothschild's interpretation. He writes:

"Why the half day shooting program? So many went out in the morning for the limit, returned for lunch and then went out again for the second limit. So this year it's a case of trying to make it a little tough for the game hogs and the canners."

FIELDS TO FIGHT YOUNG TERRY AT DETROIT OCT. 30

Floyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit promoter, was in town yesterday to sign Jackie Fields, Chicago welterweight, to meet Young Terry, Trenton, N. J., middleweight, in the ten round windup of his show Oct. 30. Fields recently defeated King Tut at Detroit. Terry whipped Jackie at New York some time ago.

The next boxing show at the Coliseum will be on Oct. 23, according to Bill Miller, Coliseum A. C. matchmaker. Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, Minn., heavyweight, turned down an offer to fight on the card because of bruised hands. Retzlaff injured his hands while knocking out Emmet Rocco a week ago and will be on the shelf for 21 days.

Earl Mastro, featherweight, will resume training next week for his scheduled contest with Midget Mike O'Dowd at Hartford, Conn., Oct. 26.

Tony Herrera, 135 pound boxer, will leave Chicago this afternoon for New York to fight Harry Carleton on Friday. Herrera lives at El Paso, Tex.

WALTER JOHNSON WILL MANAGE 1932 SENATORS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Walter Johnson will lead the Washington Senators again in their drive next year for the American league flag.

President Clark Griffith of the Senators announced today that Johnson, his former pitcher and for the last three years manager, would remain as pilot next year.

An agreement covering one year was reached at a conference between the two this morning. No information was given out regarding the salary involved.

Johnson and the Senators wound up in third place this year after holding second most of the season and fighting with Philadelphia for first during the early half.

BENNETT SIGNS TO MEET NERON ON MALLOY CARD

Promotor Mique Malloy yesterday signed Biff Bennett, Fort Sheridan heavyweight, to fight George Neron in one of the six round bouts on Malloy's fight card at White City next Monday night.

Dick Sisk, Brighton Park welterweight, meets Kelly Kulak at six rounds. Joey Freeman, featherweight, meets Paul Dempsey in another fight. The main bout will be matched today. Malloy is seeking Harry Ebbetts of Brooklyn for one of the feature bouts.

BANK CLOSINGS UP TO LAST WEEK GIVEN AS 1,379

$1,179,664,287 Amount Reported Tied Up.

One hundred and sixty-six banks which closed throughout the United States last week bring the total number of bank closings in this country since Jan. 1, 1931, to 1,379, the American Banker, daily banking newspaper, reports. This figure surpasses the total number of banking institutions which closed their doors all last year when, according to the figures of the federal reserve bank, 1,345 banks failed. To date, $1,179,664,287 has been tied up in these defunct institutions.

Banks reported yesterday as having been closed include the following institutions:

Five in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Five West Virginia banks closed today, and with the suspension of business by the Second National Bank of Morgantown, that city was left without a banking institution. The Grafton Bank and Trust company at Grafton and the Citizens bank of Weston were closed to conserve assets. They were state institutions.

Two national banks in McDowell county were closed by their boards of directors. They were the Gary National at Gary and the First National at Anawalt.

Two in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Manayunk Trust company and the Roxborough Trust company, comparatively small institutions in outlying sections of Philadelphia, closed their doors today.

One in Monessen.

Monessen, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The First National Bank and Trust company here closed its doors today. A notice said the move was necessary to protect depositors following recent heavy withdrawals of deposits. The bank had total resources of $5,325,582 and deposits totaling $3,176,622.

Closed in Coatesville.

Coatesville, Pa., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Coatesville Trust company failed to open for business today. The bank's official statement last week listed deposits of $1,011,000 and resources of $1,526,000.

New Jersey Bank Shut.

Westmont, N. J., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Westmont National bank closed its doors today. Its deposits, according to the last public statement, approximated $463,000.

In Revere, Mass.

Revere, Mass., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Revere Trust company did not open today for business. As of July 30, 1931, the total deposits of the commercial department were approximately $600,000, and deposits of the savings department approximated $900,000.

And Still Another.

Somerville, Mass., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The Highland Trust company of Somerville closed today. The bank is one of the largest in this city and had recently completed a large new building. It had commercial department deposits of approximately $1,300,000, and savings deposits of $4,100,000.

SELLING HEAVY AS PRICES DROP IN BOND MART

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The bond market declined generally and widely today and selling was heavy throughout the list.

Sales on the stock exchange aggregated $19,652,000. Weakness was more pronounced among the railroad issues than in the industrials and public utilities. New low levels were numerous in all groups.

The pressure of liquidation was apparent from the fact that bonds of high standing, such as Atchison general 4s, American Telephone 5½s of 1943, Americal Smelting and Refining 5s, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy 5s of 1971, Duquesne Light 4½s, New York Central new 4½s of 2013, and Union Pacific first 4s lost from 1 to 4 points on active trading.

Net losses of several of the Liberty and United States treasury bonds exceeded 1 point, an unusually large slump for this group. The treasury 4¼s of 1947-'52 closed almost 3 points off at 105. The treasury 3s of 1951-'55 were the most active, with sales approximating $1,800,000 and sales of the 3½s of 1946-'49, $1,000,000.

Rising money rates were reported to have had a good deal to do with the downward trend in bonds, especially in the high grade issues.

HIGH POINT FOR '31 REACHED BY RAIL TRAFFIC

Car Loadings Show Gain of 39,808.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on Oct. 3 totaled 777,-227 cars, the highest for any week so far this year, the car service division of the American Railway association announced today. The previous high week this year was that of May 2, when 775,291 cars were loaded with revenue freight.

The total for the week of Oct. 3 was an increase of 39,808 cars above the preceding week, due to an increase in the loading of all commodities. It was, however, a reduction of 193,413 cars below the corresponding week last year and a reduction of 402,110 cars under the same week two years ago.

Miscellaneous freight loadings for the week of Oct. 3 amounted to 292,-334 cars, an increase of 18,031 cars above the preceding week this year, but 161,774 cars under the corresponding week in 1930 and 187,645 cars under the same week in 1929.

WOULD CUT WAGES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Richmond, Va., Oct. 13.—The time has arrived when the wages of railroad employés must be reduced, Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern railway, declared today at the annual meeting of stockholders here. His forthright statement was made during a period when most railroad executives are withholding public announcement of their views about wages pending the decision of the interstate commerce commission on the application for a general increase of 15 per cent in freight rates.

"In fairness to the public and the stockholders," said Mr. Harrison, "railroad labor should make the same contribution as officers of the Southern railway have done. If organized labor would accept a reduction in wages equivalent to that taken by the officers the road would still be in an uncomfortable position but very much better off than it is today."

Refers to Wage Theory.

The theory of high wages maintaining prosperity might be all right, said Mr. Harrison, but he could not, as how it could be done unless a man's revenue producing power was maintained.

Due to existing contracts the road could not reduce wages and no modification of these contracts could be made by an individual carrier, he said.

When asked by a shareholder whether something might be done through the taking up of the wage question by the railroads as a whole, Mr. Harrison answered, "Perhaps that is being done."

Concerning the prospects of dividends on the preferred stock of the Southern, he said, "I wish I could make a prediction about that, but I cannot at this time." The company would not earn its fixed charges, he added.

Not busses, but private automobiles, had caused the principal loss in the road's passenger traffic, said Mr. Harrison. If regulated by congress, trucks would continue to take a portion of the road's freight business, but not as much as at present, he said.

Western Electric Co. Buys Eastern Properties

Edgar S. Bloom, president of the Western Electric company, announced yesterday the acquisition as of Nov. 1 of the Nassau Smelting and Refining company and the plant and inventory of the Tottenville Copper company. These properties were purchased from Benjamin Lowenstein, who founded the business 49 years ago.

The plant is located on a 45 acre tract at Tottenville, Staten Island, New York; has a floor area of 150,000 square feet, and refines about 25,000 tons of nonferrous metals annually. It employs at present 150 men. Western Electric has reclaimed a portion of the scrap metals from its manufacturing operations and from material removed from service in the Bell system for many years. The present acquisition enables the company to carry on more fully the work of reclamation and makes possible economies through the consolidation of the work with the present refining business of the Nassau Smelting and Refining company.

J. L. Kraft to Address Dairy Day Celebration

J. L. Kraft, president and founder of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation, is to be guest of honor at the annual dairy day celebration in Decatur, Ind., today. Harry G. Leslie, governor of Indiana, and Mr. Kraft will deliver principal addresses at the annual event, which is a traditional day of celebration in the dairying country of Indiana. Decatur has celebrated its principal industry with a circle demonstration for more than ten years. Hundreds of leading dairymen and farmers from all parts of Indiana will attend the day's celebration.

Tax Problem, Bank Plan to Be Discussed by Realtors

Some three hundred realtors from cities in all parts of the state are expected in Aurora this morning to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards. About fifty members from Chicago and suburbs are to participate in the discussions, which will close Friday night. George F. Nixon, of Chicago, president, will preside at the meetings.

Among the important subjects to be considered by the realtors will be the taxation problem and the proposal for a central mortgage bank to assist in thawing frozen real estate assets.

Emergency Measure.

An attempt will be made to line up downstate realtors with those in Chicago to take part in a movement directed at shifting some of the heavy taxation burden now carried by real estate. The Chicago board has been advocating a plan to fund the 1932 taxes through a bond issue to be spread over twenty years as an emergency relief measure.

Harry S. Kissell, of Springfield, Ohio, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who has been conferring with President Hoover, will explain the central mortgage bank to be used in facilitating home financing to the members at the annual banquet tomorrow night.

William T. Seefeldt has purchased the six flat building at 3030 Cheltenham place from James S. Gillespie for an undisclosed cash consideration. Thomas R. Rooney of the Charles Ringer company represented both parties as broker.

Title to the six flats at 4414-16 Calumet avenue, lot 50 x 125 feet, has been transferred by Albert P. Senior to Harold Shlensky.

Bellwood Community House.

Bids will be closed Thursday for an $80,000 community house and swimming pool to be erected by the Memorial park district of Bellwood on Washington boulevard, between Eastern avenue and Indiana Harbor belt line. The swimming pool will be oval in shape, 80 x 120, and will be elevated above the ground. The community house will be two stories high and will be of face brick, with stone trim. Wesley Bints of Lansing, Mich., is engineer. Chris Lange is president of the park board and A. G. Hohnke is secretary.

Charles R. Donaldson, 540 North Michigan avenue, has leased to the National Tea company for five years one unit of a block of stores which he is building at 154-60 North York street, Elmhurst. The consideration was not disclosed.

HEAR TIDEWATER DROPPED FROM SINCLAIR MERGER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—As the result of growing opposition on the part of certain stockholders to inclusion of the Tidewater Associated Oil company in the proposed Sinclair Consolidated oil merger all hope of including that company in the combination has been definitely abandoned, it was learned today.

That leaves the two Prairie companies—the Prairie Oil and Gas and the Prairie Pipe Line—together with the Sinclair Consolidated still in the picture. It is understood that no serious obstacle has arisen to merging those three companies, with the result that the prospects of uniting them into one greater company are regarded as excellent.

Had the Tidewater company been included the combined companies would have created a billion dollar unit even without the assets of the Rio Grande Oil company. With the Tidewater out, the three remaining companies will have combined assets of approximately $787,756,000.

DAILY AVERAGE OIL OUTPUT IS UP 15,250 BRLS.

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States increased 15,250 barrels in the week ended Oct. 10, totaling 2,162,700 barrels, the American Petroleum institute's weekly summary indicates. Daily average production east of California increased 7,450 barrels to 1,657,200 barrels. Imports of crude and refined oils at principal United States ports totaled 1,790,000 barrels against 1,215,000 barrels.

Two Bank of France Officials Arrive in U. S.

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Vice Gov. Charles Farnier of the Bank of France and Robert Lacour-Gayet, director of the bank's economic section, arrived today on the liner Europa to confer with federal reserve officials here on the world financial situation. They said they came to discuss problems "of mutual interest."

Andre Citroen, motor magnate, who is called the "Henry Ford of France," also arrived on the ship. He said he believed there would be no recession from France's comparative "prosperity," probably because the country's agricultural products are protected.

Lily-Tulip Corp. Retires 7 Pct. Preferred Stock

Lily-Tulip Cup corporation has retired through purchase its outstanding 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock issue, amounting to $300,000. The capitalization now consists of 189,545 shares of common stock, and the corporation has no senior securities of any kind outstanding and no bank loans.

Valparaiso Firm Gets $500,000 Chrysler Order

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The McGill Manufacturing company today announced it has received a $500,000 order from the Chrysler Motor company for transmission bearings. One hundred men will be given employment.

Tidewater Power Gets Two Municipal Plants

Tidewater Power company, operating unit of National Electric Power company system, has acquired the electric system and waterworks properties of Morehead City, N. C. Both properties had been municipally owned and operated.

GENERAL GAS AND ELECTRIC ALTERS ITS PORTFOLIO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—Stockholders of the General Gas and Electric corporation have been advised by the directors that certain common stocks and debentures included in the company's investment holdings have been exchanged for securities of the Associated Gas and Electric company, principally the latter's $6 cumulative preference stock.

The exchange was effected as a result of some loss of dividend income on common stocks, which made it difficult for the company to maintain a steady cash income.

According to the letter to stockholders, the exchange was arranged on an income basis, so that the income on the securities acquired is the same as that which was being currently received on the securities disposed of.

Western Union Cuts Wages of Employes 10 Per Cent

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A reduction of 10 per cent, effective Nov. 1, in the wages of all land line employés of the Western Union Telegraph company, exclusive of messengers, was announced tonight. Simultaneously, the board of directors announced a reduction in the dividend for the last quarter of 1931 to 1½ per cent. The previous dividend was 2 per cent per quarter. Approximately 50,000 employés are affected.

WASHINGTON AWAITS DECISION ON REQUEST FOR RAIL RATE BOOST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—Washington is momentarily awaiting the decision of the interstate commerce commission on the railroads' plea for a 15 per cent freight rate increase. There are any number of guesses as to what the decision will be. One report given some credence, since it was said to emanate from sources close to the commission, asserts that up to last night the members of the commission themselves had not reached a final decision on all points.

In considering and conducting hearings on the case, the commission has piled up an unusually voluminous record. The commissioners, it is said, are aware of how much hangs on their verdict at such a time as this and are proceeding with extreme caution.

The most common prediction—which is accepted only for the prediction it is—is that the railroads will get a portion of the fifteen per cent demanded, and that some commodities, such as those of agriculture, may be exempted. By some, the activities of the administration in planning steps for the rehabilitation of railroad bonds is taken as indicative of a belief that the relief to come from the commission will not be all that the railroads ask.

On the other hand, it is pointed out, no definite administration program has yet been formulated, so that those behind it are probably as much in the dark as the general public.

Chicago Stocks Quiet Down; Price Losses Mostly Narrow

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Dullness crept over the security markets yesterday with prices easing moderately and sales dropping off sharply. It was the quietest day La Salle street has seen on the Chicago exchange in several weeks. Total trades amounted to only 65,000 shares.

The change was not unwelcome to the trading community, which has been on edge for days over the rapidly moving developments here and abroad. It has been felt in brokerage circles that the unsettled conditions of the market recently has held up a good deal of investment buying which under ordinary circumstances would come into the market at the present price levels. It is believed that many persons who intend to buy stocks will commit themselves only after the market gives indication of stabilizing near present prices.

Utility Shares Active.

Changes in quotations here yesterday were inconsequential in most instances. Net losses ranged from a fraction to a point or so. Activity centered around the utility shares, but there was no unusual pressure against these shares. Declines of 1½ in Insull Utility common, 3 points in the second preferred, and 4 for the firm's debentures were about the sharpest losses recorded.

The change in sentiment in the last few days was reflected in the better price commanded by exchange memberships. A seat was sold yesterday at $8,000 which is $1,000 above the year's lowest price and $600 above the previous sale price.

Middle West Utilities company reported yesterday electrical output of the system for the week ended Oct. 10 showed the biggest increase over the comparable period of 1930 for any week this year. Exclusive of the operations of properties acquired during the last year the system's production showed an increase of 9.6 per cent. Output was 87,740,764 kilowatt hours as compared with 80,037,043 in the corresponding week last year.

Makes Analysis.

In a recent analysis of the position of Middle West Utilities, Standard Statistics points out earnings in 1930, exclusive of profit on the sale of securities, were equivalent to $1.03 a share on the 13,979,241 shares of common stock outstanding, against $1.32 a share on 8,300,344 in 1929. In its statements the company credits profit on sale of securities to earnings rather than surplus.

In recent years capitalization has increased more rapidly than the balance available for common stock, with the result that there has been a dilution of the equity. The common stock now pays 8 per cent annually.

Directors of Construction Materials corporation failed to declare the dividend of 87½ cents on the preferred stock which is due Nov. 1. The stock has been on a $3.50 annual dividend basis since May, 1929.

GOLD OUTFLOW REACHES TOTAL OF $539,000,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—The movement of gold out of this country continued today. The total decline of the holdings in this country since Great Britain suspended gold payments on Sept. 20, now exceeds $500,000,000.

The net loss to the United States, yesterday was $40,497,000, the figures including a decrease of $602,000 in earmarkings on Saturday too late for reporting on that day, bringing the net loss since Sept. 20 to $539,739,300.

Six Months' Net of 500 Industries Down 53 Pct.

More than 500 industrial companies have reported earnings for the first half of the current year, indicating a decline in aggregate net of 53 per cent, as compared with the corresponding period of 1930, a compilation by Standard Statistics shows. Railroad earnings declined 61 per cent, while utilities gained 2 per cent.

Treasury Bill Offering Is Heavily Oversubscribed

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A $50,000,000 issue of 90 day treasury bills dated Oct. 15 today was heavily oversubscribed. Secretary Mellon announced that the total amount applied for at the federal reserve banks aggregated $127,834,000.

New York, Oct. 13.—"Sober second thoughts" on certain aspects of Wall street's newly inaugurated prosperity boomlet proved the stock market's undoing today. Liquidation took precedence over the late buying movement in every quarter of the list and prices melted away anywhere from 1 to 5 points, with isolated losses running even larger.

Failure of an old established brokerage house early in the day—the sixth of the year, by the way—was one of the chief factors of the changed situation. The street has long since learned that every time a firm of any conse-

Gas

A STABLE, SEASONED INDUSTRY

LOOKS CONFIDENTLY TO THE FUTURE

• GAS, an industry more than a century old in the United States, has time and again proved its adaptability to new situations and changing conditions . . . also its inherent stability during periods of business stress and uncertainty.

• In 1930, sales of natural gas to industrial users increased over the previous year, according to preliminary estimates, while industrial sales of manufactured gas declined less than 5 per cent. Domestic sales of natural gas increased by an estimated 5 per cent, while manufactured gas sales for domestic purposes gained about 2 per cent, chiefly due to a 28 per cent increase in the use of gas for house heating. Few industries can point to depression records such as these. Efficiency, resourcefulness, foresight and steady progress characterize the manufactured and natural gas industries.

• Today, it is generally agreed, the gas industry stands on the threshold of a still greater future. Improved methods of long-distance natural gas pipeline construction . . . the mixture of natural with manufactured gas in important consuming centers, and many other developments of benefit to both users and investors, lead critical observers to view the future of the gas industry with confidence. The senior, fixed-income bearing securities of well-managed and soundly financed gas companies are favored by conservative investors.

TWO ADVANCES ARE MADE IN DISCOUNT RATES IN NEW YORK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—Activity in the money market was centered today in the bankers' acceptance division and this evidently was in a state of rapid change, for two advances in discounts were announced before 2 o'clock this afternoon. The market appeared to be trying to adjust itself to a more or less widespread relief that monetary rates should be higher.

Discount rates were first advanced ¼ of 1 per cent all around and then moved up another one-eighth for the longer maturities, making a rise of three-eighths for discounts running from four to six months. The new rates were:

	Bid.	Asked.
For 30, 60 and 90 days	2%	2¼
For four months	2%	2¼
Five and six months	2¼	2½
Seven to nine months	2½	2¾

The uptrend appeared to receive its initiative from an advance of ¼ of 1 per cent on forward discounts for the next two weeks, making them 2⅜ bid, 2½ asked for bills running up to ninety days.

This served as a hint to banks that discounts were likely to advance again and to sell their bills. Their sales served to induce the dealers to raise discounts immediately. There was nothing to indicate an end to the advances.

Neither banks nor dealers can sell bills to the reserve banks without severe losses at that bank's present buying rate of 1% per cent. This fact tends to force the rates upward until the moment arrives when investors will come into the market and take up the offerings or the reserve bank advances its buying rate to the level of the open market asking rate.

KOUNTZE BROS. N. Y. INVESTMENT HOUSE, CLOSES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 13.—The firm of Kountze Brothers, 141 Broadway, an investment and bond house founded in 1870, was suspended today by the New York stock exchange for insolvency. Recent depreciation of bond prices impaired the firm's position and the partners consented to a receivership action to conserve assets for its depositors and creditors.

The Irving Trust company was appointed receiver in an equity action in federal court, with power to continue the business aside from buying securities and accepting deposits. Liabilities, as set forth in the receivership complaint, total $6,934,000, including $3,846,000 in demand deposits, against assets of $7,884,000. Assets include a large sum invested in municipal, corporate, and other securities.

The firm formerly was active in bond underwriting, but in recent years its business had been confined mainly to distribution of high grade municipal and corporate issues. It had a large clientele among banks.

BOARD OF TRADE ACTS TO SUSPEND RIORDAN BROS.

James K. Riordan and his brother, Charles B. Riordan, members of the Chicago Board of Trade, were placed under an indefinite suspension yesterday by the organization's board of directors. The reason for the suspension was not made known by the directors.

James K. Riordan last year sued William McCabe, a Bureau county farmer, to force the latter to pay his losses in grain futures transactions. McCabe's defense was that he had not intended to buy or sell actual grain and that his trades were gambling. This contention was upheld and Riordan was unable to collect on McCabe's notes. The case set a precedent for the grain trade.

General Gas & Electric Shifts Stock Holdings

Directors of General Gas and Electric corporation have sent a letter to stockholders advising them that the company, to maintain a steady cash income, has exchanged certain of its investment holdings for dividend paying securities of Associated Gas and Electric company.

Facts vs. Hysteria

There is no denying the fact that a large number of this country's prime securities, both bonds and stocks, are today selling at prices that do not approach their real values. This situation has been brought about to some degree by yesterday's selling, on the part of people who "have lost their heads".

For those who still retain their mental balance there are available opportunities for long term investment, such as have not existed in many years. We shall be glad to discuss them with any interested investors.

Stock Exchange Seat; Prices Are Easier

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Dull conditions prevailed on the London Stock Exchange today and early profit taking and recessions in gilt edge securities, industrials and home rails, although bonds were quoted lower, Argentine rails were firm. Transvaal stocks were dull, awaiting action on Wall street. Hydro-Electric was quoted at 10¾, International Nickel at 11¾, Brazilian Traction at 12¾, Canadian Radio at 18. Foreign exchanges were idle. The pound was quoted at $3.87½ and the franc at 3.92.

Estimate Puts Florida Citrus Crop Under 1930

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Florida's citrus fruit crop this season was estimated at 28,500,000 boxes in a government report made today. Last season's crop was 35,500,000 boxes, of which 19,000,000 were oranges and 16,000,000 grapefruit. This year's estimate includes 18,500,000 boxes of orange and tangerine production and 10,000,000 boxes of grapefruit.

WHEAT PRICES RISE AND FALL; CLOSE HIGHER

Russian Grain News Is Market Factor.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

There was a noticeable lack of the concentrated buying of wheat futures yesterday which was such a feature in Saturday's trading, but sufficient buying by commission houses in small lots developed to advance prices around 1c above the previous finish to a new high on the present movement.

At the top wheat was 6½@6¾c above the low last week, and sold at the best figures since Sept. 18.

Profit taking and pressure from the pit element caused a recation from the best figures with the finish at net gains of ¼@½c. December closed at 50½@50¾c; May, 54½@54¾c, and July, 55¼c.

The general run of the news from abroad continues of a character to induce the speculative public to take the buying side on the recessions in futures. Russian exports and offerings have decreased sharply, and cables indicated that procurements of grain in that country are falling well below the so-called "plan," delay in harvest as well as the smaller crop being a factor.

Liverpool was independently strong and closed 1¼@2¼d higher with December finishing at 56⅝c with sterling taken at $3.89. Winnipeg felt the effect of good eastern buying, partly to remove hedges against export sales, and closed ⅛@¾c higher with December at 55⅝c in Canadian funds.

Foreigners Buy Futures.

There was a fair run of foreign buying orders at Chicago in the early trading, and spreaders bought wheat and sold corn. The sharp upturn of late combined with scattered rains in the dry sections in the southwest as well as the easiness in the stock market were factors that induced the local element to take the selling side, but there was no evidence of any weakening in the position of interests that have been active on the bull side of late, and commission house sentiment remains distinctly favorable to a higher level of prices.

There is a growing impression that European importers have badly overstayed their market, and sales of 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 bu, mainly Manitobas, were reported as having been sold for export yesterday with the United Kingdom and the continent taking the wheat freely. There was also some hard winter sold at the seaboard, but the quantity was not given. Supplies of wheat afloat are decreasing, and are 36,000,000 bu, equal to about two to three weeks requirements of European importers.

While wheat prices have advanced sharply from the low of last week close observers made the point that they are still within a few cents of the heretofore record low figures made in 1895, and materially below production costs. The prospect of a decrease of 15 to 16 per cent in the United States winter wheat acreage for the 1932 crop is commencing to attract some attention abroad, and the character of the news from there has changed to a remarkable extent in the last week or so.

A decrease of 3,434,000 bu was shown in the domestic visible supply during the last week and the total is now 229,675,000 bu compared with 203,972,000 bu last year.

Corn Closes Lower.

Corn made a firm start and a tame finish with prices ⅝@⅞c lower, December being 34⅝@34½c; May, 39@39⅛c, and July, 40¾c at the last. Spreading operations with corn sold and wheat bought combined with a slow shipping demand and an increase of 980,000 bu in the visible supply were the main depressing influences. Total visible is now 6,342,000 bu against 4,569,000 bu last year.

Wet weather prevailed over the main corn belt which may delay field work to some extent, but the government report of late Saturday had little effect, and for the time being the pit element is inclined to take the bear side. Minneapolis received its first car of new grain of the season yesterday.

Commission houses and the pit element sold oats while houses with cash connections were the best buyers. There was a fractional upturn early, but it was lost later with corn and the finish was unchanged to ¼c higher. December closed at 22¾c, May, 24¾@25c, and July, 24¼c.

Trade in rye was light and the market made a poor response to the strength in wheat, closing ¼@¾c lower with December 38¾c, and May, 41¾c.

LARD TRADE SMALL

Trade in lard futures was light yesterday, but offerings were not large and prices of futures closed 2½c@5c higher. Liverpool lard was 3d@1s lower than Saturday. Export clearances of lard for the week were 7,846,000 lbs, compared with 7,098,000 lbs. Of bacon they were 2,373,000 lbs, against 2,514,000 lbs last year. There was no trade in bellies for future delivery, October being nominally $7.00. Cash trade in lard and meats was fair. Hog supplies at western points were smaller than last week and last year and prices higher. Prices follow:

Commonwealth Customers Pay LESS for LOANS

$2.93 is the Average Monthly Cost of a $225 loan under COMMONWEALTH'S Reduced Rate. This allows 25 months for repayment. There is no lower cost than this in Chicago.

COMMONWEALTH'S rate on amounts above $100 is substantially lower than lawful rate usually charged.

THE personal property which nearly every family owns and the signature of husband and wife enable one to secure any amount up to $300 quickly and easily.

THERE ARE NO fees or deductions. You may take 25 months or pay all or part sooner. Interest, at the Reduced Rate, is charged only while you keep the money.

Also Salary and Auto Loans.

Special Plan for Teachers.

Why pay more than Household's low rate?

The Nationally known Household Loan Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $300 to husbands and wives at reasonable rates.

Household's rate on all loans above $100 is almost one-third lower than the maximum permitted by the small-loan law. We voluntarily established this low rate in 1928, and our customers have benefited ever since. This rate remains the same until the loan is paid off. It does not increase as the unpaid balance decreases.

For example:

The average monthly cost of a $200 loan, repaid in 20 equal monthly payments, is $2.63. This is the lowest cost in Chicago.

Why pay more than Household's low rate?

The Nationally known Household Loan Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $300 to husbands and wives at reasonable rates.

Household's rate on all loans above $100 is almost one-third lower than the maximum permitted by the small-loan law. We voluntarily established this low rate in 1928, and our customers have benefited ever since. This rate remains the same until the loan is paid off. It does not increase as the unpaid balance decreases.

For example:

The average monthly cost of a $200 loan, repaid in 20 equal monthly payments, is $2.63. This is the lowest cost in Chicago.

Chief Obstacle Overcome.

The great obstacle which has plexed the engineers in the prod of color combinations, and in pri one color over another, has bee speed with which daily newsp must be printed. In the course few hours, every night, hundre thousands of TRIBUNES must Contracts Are Signed.

When the success of the ye

equipment for its present presses. Contracts for the new were signed yesterday.

While the process will pro

trade and stimulating similar im
ments generally elsewhere in t
